Senator Ends Hope For Postal Increase Approval This Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — A special Senate postal subcommittee opens hearings today on a proposed postal rate increase amid indications the Senate will not act on the House-passed bill this year.

Chairman Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) virtually ended any hopes for action before adjournment, which may come this month, when he told the Senate yesterday, which thought the measure needed thorough subcommittee study in public hearings.

Hand Waving Brings Rescue From Convict

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Attracted by a hand waving from a partially open auto trunk, police today stopped the car here and rescued a young Kansas couple from the compartment.

The driver of the auto, identified as James Richard Essen, an escaped Ohio convict, was arrested. He was armed with a pistol, but did not resist Patrolman John Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wagner of Salina, Kan., owners of the car, told Davis that they picked up Essen in St. Louis early this morning, and that he forced them into the trunk at gunpoint.

Both Wagner and his wife were taken to General Hospital. Wagner, 21, suffered a severe head wound. He said Essen hit him with the gun. Mrs. Wagner, 18, was treated for cuts.

A stop at a safety checkpoint sponsored by the National Safety Council led to the arrest of Essen.

Davis said Wagner told him he heard a siren and realized that they probably were in a city. He said he pried open the trunk lid enough to get his hand outside.

An official at the checkpoint on the Sixth Street Trafficway saw Wagner's waving hand after the car passed through and notified Patrolman Davis who gave chase and stopped the auto at 5th and Washington streets.

Names Atlanta Youth Champion of Teenage Contest for Drivers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Charles Earl Hopkins, 19-year old Atlanta youth, was named the nation's champion teenage driver Thursday night.

He was awarded the first prize—a $2,000 college scholarship and a victory trophy—in the sixth annual National Teenage Road-e-o.

Hopkins scored 866 points out of a possible 1,000 in a 4-day series of driving tests, interviews and written examination.

Bob Shaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Shaw, Route 4, represented the state of Missouri at the contest. Bob was the winner of the Sedalia Teenage Road-e-o and went on to the state contest under the sponsorship of the Sedalia Jaycees and was then given a trip to Washington as state winner.

The contest was sponsored by the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Storms Sweep The North Half of State

As Much As Three Inches of Rain Fell In Localized Areas

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Thunderstorms and showers swept across north and central Missouri last night, dropping as much as three inches of rain on localized areas and causing some damage.

High winds which accompanied a 2.07 inch downpour at Cole Camp near Sedalia uprooted trees and severed power lines. An automobile was demolished when a tree fell on it.

Lightning struck the Bruce Claycomb farm north of Sedalia and set fire to 2,000 bales of hay.

There were no other reports of damage and no one was injured. The U. S. Weather Bureau here said most of the activity centered in north and central Missouri, and forecast more thundershowers for the same areas today.

Missouri's largest recorded rainfall was 2.40 inches at Pattonburg, St. Joseph had 2.03 inches, Gallatin 1.63, Clifton City 1.03, Oregon 1.43 and Pleasant Hill 1.22. Numerous other towns reported less than an inch, ranging from .08 at Waverly to .76 at Sumner.

The Weather Bureau said the rainfall was "exceedingly irregular and doubtless localized areas may have had three inches or more." For example, the official fall in Kansas City was .11 of an inch, measured at the Municipal Airport, but the southern sections of the city reported more than an inch.

A southward push of cooler air clashed with warm, moist air to develop the showers.

The cool front brought welcome relief from yesterday's torrid temperatures, which soared to a high of 103 degrees at St. Joseph. At Kansas City, the mercury dropped from 99 degrees at 6 p.m. yesterday to 76 degrees at 7 p.m.

Today's forecast calls for high readings today in the low 90s, with a drop into the 60s tonight. Tomorrow's high is expected to be in the upper 80s in the north and low 90s in the south.

On Trial

Someone said our remarks about the weather yesterday may have frightened away the rain. Maybe today's rain will soften the judgment.

Considerable cloudiness with scattered thundershowers tonight and Saturday; cooler tonight with low in upper 60s; high Saturday in upper 80s.

The temperature at 7 a.m. was 73, 92 at noon, and 90 at 1 p.m. Low Thursday night 69. Rainfall in intermittent showers .07 inch.

The temperature one year ago today, high 98, low 75, with .03 inch of rain; two years ago, high 90, low 54; and three years ago, high 98, and low 74.

Possibility Of Hope Seen By Supporters

Measure Still Faces Scrutiny by Tough Senate Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower called in Senate GOP leader Knowland today to see whether the Senate will restore at least some of the foreign aid money chopped out by a strong-minded House.

The House passed last night a $2,524,760,000 appropriations bill slashed $809,650,000 below Eisenhower's "minimum" request.

In the teeth of a third Eisenhower warning that the cuts would tamper with America's national interests, the House overrode all moves to boost funds in the committee-approved bill. The vote for final passage was 252-130.

Eisenhower supporters got a glimmer of hope from Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.), who announced he believes the House cut far too deeply. Humphrey said the new appropriations should not fall below three billion dollars.

But the measure still faced scrutiny by a Senate Appropriations Committee with a reputation for toughness on foreign aid. Chairman Hayden (D-Ariz.) said that committee would hold a final hearing on the bill Monday and start voting soon thereafter.

Even if the Senate voted for the full $3,367,000,000 allowed by the authorization law setting aid ceilings for the coming year, Eisenhower will get far less than the $3,800,000,000 he originally said was needed to bolster free world strength.

Republicans made half a dozen attempts on the House floor yesterday to preserve portions of the 809 millions slashed by the House Appropriations Committee. But they didn't even come close.

On the 252-130 final roll call, 144 Democrats and 108 Republicans voted for passage while 70 Democrats and 60 Republicans voted against.

A semifinal move by Rep. Judd (R-Minn.) to put 715 million dollars back into the bill was beaten 254-129. There were 171 Democrats against this recommitment motion and only 43 for it. The Republicans were split almost evenly, 86 for and 83 against.

A more nearly partisan lineup showed up in earlier unrecorded teller votes as the congressmen walked up the center aisle to be counted on amendments. Only a handful from each side strayed across party lines.

Teamster Testifies

Says He Was Ousted As Boss By Deception

WASHINGTON (AP) — With tears streaming down his cheeks, grizzled Teamster Martin T. Lacey testified today he was ousted as the union's New York City boss through fraud and deception.

The 74-year-old Lacey, a veteran of 50 years in the union, said this was done with cooperation of the office of Teamster President Dave Beck.

Lacey applied the words "fraud and deception" to the chartering without his knowledge of seven hoodlum-led Teamsters locals.

Sets Dates For Waterfowl In Missouri

Hunting Period To Run From Oct. 25 To Jan. 2, 1958

JEFFERSON CITY — The State Conservation Commission set the dates for Missouri's 70-day waterfowl season yesterday but delayed a decision on whether to have a special wild turkey season next spring.

The waterfowl season will run from Oct. 25 through Jan. 2, opening one day earlier than last year.

Bag and possession limits will be the same as last year—four ducks daily and eight in possession, five and five for geese with only two Canadas allowed, 10 and 10 for coots, five and 10 for American and red breasted mergansers.

The recommendation for a special three-day turkey season in 10 counties came from the commission's fish and game division. It said a limited season would not hurt the birds and might stimulate interest in the comeback program for wild turkeys.

The 10 counties, which contain an estimated 75 per cent of the wild turkey population, would be Iron, Madison, Washington, Dent, Phelps, Crawford, Howell, Douglas, Ozark and Taney.

In other actions the commission: Approved purchase of 166 acres in Linn County to extend the Fountain Grove Refuge and provide more water.

Appointed Al F. Kyser, 25, of Maplewood as field agent for Livingston County, effective Sept. 1. Kyser, who started agent training last March, will succeed Sam Cleaton Jr., resigned.

Decided to print the fish and game code only periodically instead of annually, issuing leaflet supplements between editions as changes are made in the regulations.

These locals helped vote Lacey out of the presidency of New York Teamsters Council No. 16 in 1956 and put in John O'Rourke, backed by Midwest Teamsters boss James R. Hoffa.

Lacey said his protests to Beck and Einar O. Mohn, the union's administrative vice president, against seating the phony locals fell on deaf ears.

Vigorously, Lacey denied that convicted bribe-taker Sam Goldstein, an alleged lieutenant of racketeer Johnny Dio, or anyone else had offered him $10,000 to get out of the race and leave the field to O'Rourke.

"Who the Hell is Sam Goldstein to buy me?" Lacey demanded.

Some of the senators had drawn an inference of a bribe intent from the playing yesterday of a recording of a wiretapped telephone conversation between Goldstein and Tony (Ducks) Corallo, described as the secret boss of several hoodlum-run New York locals of various unions.

Lacey told the committee its investigation has caused many things to be corrected in his union already.

"I hope every true union man appreciates it," Lacey said.

Lacey blocked O'Rourke's election temporarily in court proceedings but ultimately bowed out. O'Rourke, now titular New York City Teamsters head, took the full amendment in refusing to answer committee questions yesterday.

Parade Begins At 10 Saturday, 7th and Ohio

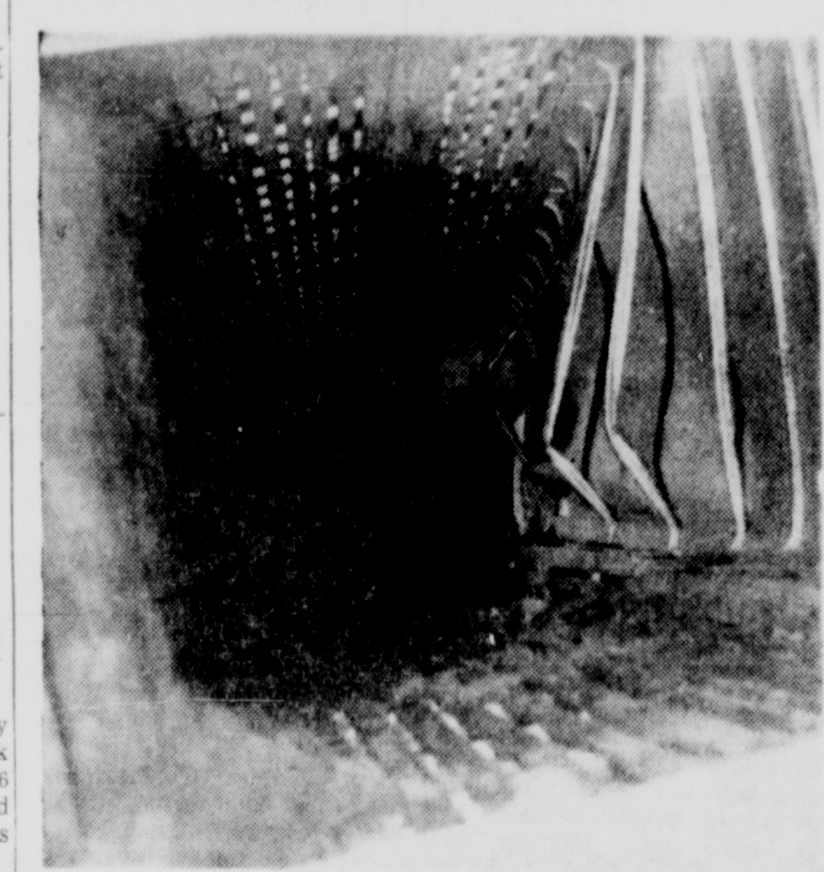

"Missouri On Parade", the largest and most attractive parade of the year, will begin Saturday morning sharply at 10 o'clock. Its starting place will be Seventh and Ohio, with a long lineup of fine floats, novelty numbers, bands, saddle clubs, old cars, and the feature Pinky Lee, following.

From Seventh, the parade will commence north on Ohio to Main, west on Main to Osage south on Osage to Third, and west on Third to State Fair Blvd. From there it will go directly into the fairgrounds, entering the exit gate. Prizes, plaques and other awards will be presented the best three floats, the best novelty number, the finest parade horse, and the best saddle club, at the grounds.

The bands, twirlers and other marching groups will not march to the grounds. They will follow in regular procession to Third and Grand. From there buses will be waiting to take them the rest of the way out to the fairgrounds.

Kennie Miller, superintendent, requests that all entries in the parade be at their assigned station between 8:30 and 9 o'clock in order that the lineup will be ready to go by 10.

Cattle Truck Wreck Causes $22,000 Loss

Trailer Topples North of Sedalia, Claims 26 Cattle

A cattle tractor-trailer, which left the highway on U. S. Highway 65 about 14 miles north of Sedalia, rolled on its side and took the lives of 26 head of white face cattle and damaged the tractor and trailer to an estimated loss and damage of $20,000. The accident occurred shortly after 6 o'clock Thursday night.

The unit, owned by Lem Kemme, Willard, Mo., was loaded with 34 head of white face cattle being taken to the sales barn at Falls City, Ia. The cattle belonged to a cattle raiser at Cassville, Mo.

Jay Henson, 31, Springfield, Mo., was the driver. He was accompanied by A. L. Ray, 34, also of Springfield. Henson suffered a minor bruise on the left arm. Ray escaped injury.

While Trooper Stockdell was directing traffic at the scene of the accident about 1:35 a.m. The State Patrol car he was driving was sideswiped by a large circus trailer of the Gil Gray Shrine Circus. The tractor was driven by Stephen Chapman, who was reported as barely moving and being directed through the traffic.

The rear of the trailer rubbed against the left rear fender scratching the paint but doing minor damage. Sgt. E. W. Van Winkle, of the patrol, investigated the incident.

Henson reported to Trooper Robert Stockdell, State Highway Patrol, that he was headed north on the highway and at the crest of a rise in the road a large gasoline transport crowded him. He pulled to the right and lost control when the wheels hit the soft shoulders.

The tractor traveled a short distance along the shoulder and then plunged down a 15 foot embankment. The tractor crashed against a tree, and the trailer broke loose.

Medical Authorities Say Deaths Caused By A Flu Infection

SYDNEY (AP)—The deaths of six Sydney youngsters have been attributed to a deadly infection which medical authorities say appears to accompany some cases of Asiatic flu.

Dr. H. G. Wallace, New South Wales director general of health, disclosed the six deaths had occurred in recent weeks and said other cases are suspected in Sydney and nearby towns.

2,000 Bales Of Hay Lost By Lightning

Lightning struck a large pile of baled hay on the farm of Bruce C. Claycomb, about eight miles north of Sedalia on Highway 65, causing fire which destroyed the 2,000 bales.

A sudden storm which came up about 5:30 was followed by lightning during its height. No sooner did the Claycombs hear the crash than they looked out and saw smoke rising from the huge pile.

By the time the Pettis County fire department arrived on the scene it was a mass of flames all over. The firemen and volunteer help began battling the flames to save nearby buildings. At one time the wind was whipping from the east and threatened a large barn, but water from the fire hose beat back the intense heat and kept the barn from catching fire.

Water was pumped from a deep well into a large tank from which the fire truck took its water and through its pumps forced the water through the hoses. The fire department stood by until far past midnight to see that the fire did not spread. By shortly after midnight the large pile of hay had been turned into a heap of ashes.

Claycomb reported the hay was valued in the neighborhood of 50 cents per bale or a total loss of about $1,000. The hay had been cut and finished being baled about ten days ago.

He Hints Move May Happen Next Week

Could Clear Way For Adjournment Sometime in August

WASHINGTON (AP) — Speaker of the House Rayburn (D-Tex.) predicted today a civil rights bill will be enacted before Congress adjourns, and hinted that House action on the bill would come next week.

That probably would clear the way for Congress to adjourn this month.

Rayburn told newsmen he did not know exactly what kind of compromise has been worked out. There were signs, however, that Republicans and Democrats had reached an agreement on a bill containing a modified jury trial amendment.

Rayburn said he expects the Rules Committee to clear the bill soon for House action and added that the bill will get top priority.

Key GOP figures in the House fight put off a strategy session amid talk the Republicans were making a strategic retreat from an all-or-nothing stand for the kind of measure President Eisenhower has asked.

Shortly afterward Rep. Leo Allen of Illinois, senior Republican on the Rules Committee and one of the strategists, said differences blocking House action appeared pretty well ironed out. The measure has been stymied in the rules committee.

Allen also predicted a bill will pass, telling newsmen:

"I think the Rules Committee will meet next Monday or Tuesday (to act on the bill). I think things have been pretty well ironed out, and I think we will adjourn with a bill."

Allen's statement strengthened reports that leaders were nearing an agreement to bring the state-maid bill to the floor of the House for a vote late next week.

Cole Camp Area Suffers Damage From Wind

High winds, rain, and some hail struck the Cole Camp area about 4 p.m. Thursday causing some damage and disrupting power and telephone service in the area for a time.

According to H. L. Meyer, mayor of Cole Camp, damage was confined to uprooted trees and a few small outbuildings blown down west of the town. An unoccupied automobile was demolished when a tree fell on it in Cole Camp. Meyer said that about 2 and 7-10ths inches of rain fell within a 20 to 30 minute period. He said that the hail caused little or no damage.

Power was restored within 30 minutes but it was about 10:45 p.m. before telephone contact could be made with Cole Camp. Telephone lines to Lincoln and Ionia were still out at 11 p.m.

Meyer said that he understood that there had been some wind at Lincoln but not much rain.

There were no injuries reported in the area.

Defense Expects to Produce Shock Testimony in Libel Case

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The defense expects to start tossing its promised shock-filled grenades today in the libel trial of Confidential and Whisper magazines.

Defense Attorney Arthur J. Crowley says he is going to bring movie stars into court to testify whether stories about them in the magazines are true.

The magazines and their alleged Hollywood agents, Fred and Marjorie Meade, are being tried on charge of conspiracy to commit libel and publish lewd and obscene matter.

The defense has scattered 117 subpoenas among Hollywood celebrities and is trying to slip 40 more into the hands of unwilling stars.

Crowley was left in a position to summon the celebrities when Superior Judge Herbert V. Walker yesterday declined to rule on the admissibility of their testimony until they take the stand. Judge Walker also refused to dismiss criminal libel charges against the Meades and their Hollywood Research, Inc.

Sees Advance For Army On Missiles

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Herald Tribune said today the Army has scored a major technological breakthrough in long-range ballistic missile development with the first conquest of the "re-entry" problem.

A Washington dispatch to the newspaper also said:

"That problem has centered on fabrication of a material which would survive the friction heat generated by a long-range missile in its roaring ascent to heights of over 600 miles and its gravity-tugged descent to earth at speeds estimated at 15,000 miles an hour."

The heat caused by friction on materials traveling at that velocity has been thought to be destructive, the story noted.

The Herald Tribune said it learned yesterday that the major breakthrough was achieved last week when the Army fired a Jupiter intermediate range ballistic missile and succeeded in bringing back to earth intact the missile's nose cone.

"That means," the story continued, "the Army has fabricated a material which will withstand the fantastic heat caused by friction with air as the missile vaults beyond the atmosphere and then plunges back to earth."

Thus, the dispatch added, an atomic or hydrogen warhead can be encased in that material and fired through the atmosphere with the certainty that it will return to the earth's surface without disintegrating because of friction heat.

"There was no indication of what material the Army used in its friction-defying nose cone," the story said.

New Purge Sweeps Hungary; Three Men Executed By Reds

BUDAPEST (AP)—Another wave of arrests and trials — and some executions — of persons charged with opposing the Communist regime is sweeping Hungary.

Two men were executed yesterday on a charge of killing a Hungarian Communist police major during the uprising last fall. A village priest was sentenced to death on a charge of hiding arms and serving on a revolutionary committee. Executions are carried out by hanging.

From all over the country official reports are coming in of mass arrests and trials of "counter-revolutionaries," mostly arising from the autumn revolt. Many more trials than are officially reported are known here to be taking place.

Charges range from killing Soviet soldiers to taking over radio stations to broadcast anti-Communist appeals.

Warns Against Tight Labor Legislation

CHICAGO (AP)—The president of the AFL-CIO yesterday said the Teamsters Union has failed to polish its tarnished record, but cautioned against any restrictive labor legislation that might result from Senate racket investigations.

In the closing session of the four-day AFL-CIO Executive Council meeting, President George Meany told newsmen he does not think the Teamsters' lines are any cleaner now than it has been.

Meany was critical of proposals for restrictive labor legislation in the wake of the Senate Rackets Committee hearings.

"I feel a great many of the things that have come before the committee are covered by laws now on the books," he said.

If laws against thievery had been enforced, he said, "a lot of these men wouldn't be on the witness stand, but in the jailhouse."

The Teamsters' executive board is expected to meet Aug. 26 to consider possible action on AFL-CIO charges of corrupt influences against the union.

The accusation was leveled in May after Teamster President Dave Beck was accused of misusing some $400,000 in Teamster funds.

The AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee will submit a report on the case to be presented at an Executive Council meeting Sept. 24 and 25 in New York City.

Council recommendations will be laid before the Teamsters convention Sept. 30 in Miami Beach. The recommendations will outline steps the union must take to stay in the AFL-CIO.

Meany said he has "no opinion" on the possibility James R. Hoffa, Midwest Teamster boss, will succeed Beck as president.

Hoffa recently was acquitted of charges he planted a spy on the staff of the Rackets Committee to supply information about investigations to him.

The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, biggest of the operating rail unions, has applied for AFL-CIO membership. Meany said it has 160,000 members.

He said jurisdictional and constitutional adjustments are necessary on behalf of the large independent before it can be admitted. One of these is a ban on Negro membership in the brotherhood's constitution.

Before concluding business, the council also authorized the construction of an eight-story addition to the AFL-CIO headquarters in Washington.

Circulation Too Big; Goes Out of Business

MINERAL, Va. (AP)—A newspaper has gone out of business here — because the circulation got too large.

Eight boys started the handwritten Mineral City Gazette this summer but gave it up earlier this month.

"We had 32 subscribers and it was too much work and too little money," said staff writer Michael Cook, 10. "We're all going to be salesmen instead of newspapermen."

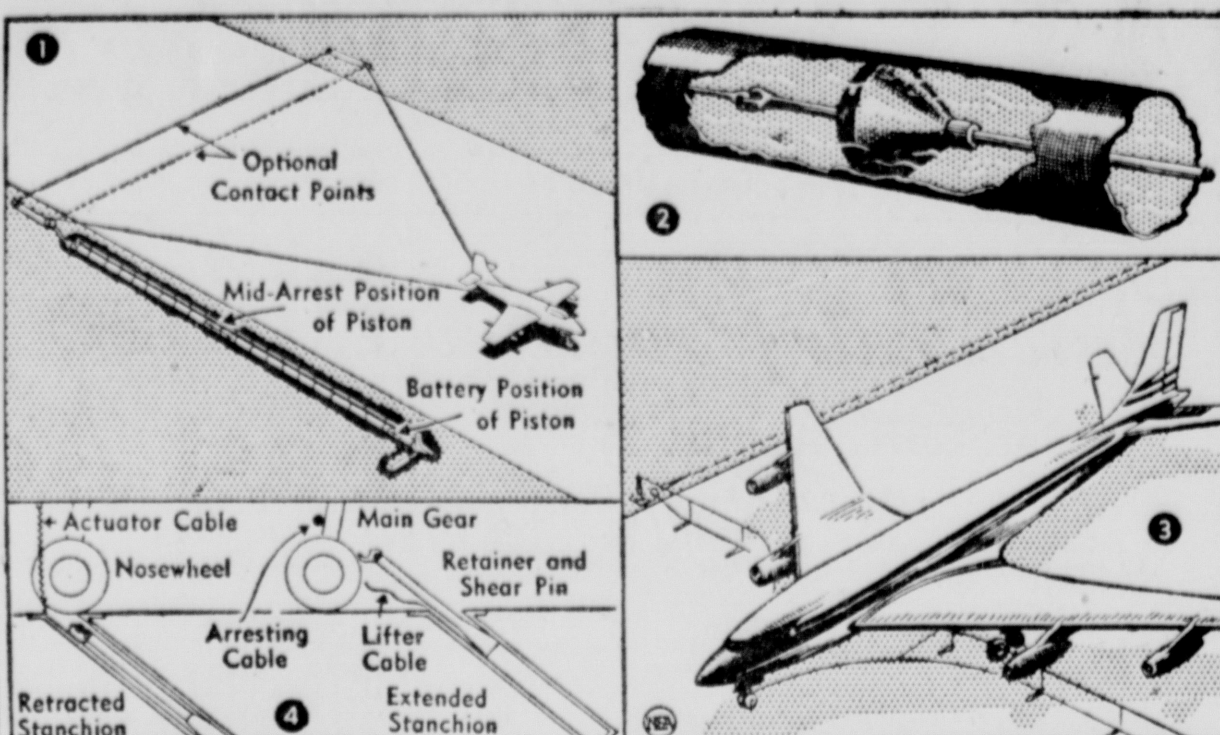

Humorous Tip-Off

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP)—Officers in this southern Idaho city got a tip from an observant resident who had seen a stranger in the Western Equipment Co. building late at night.

Bonneville County Deputy Sheriff Clifford Nielsen was off duty, but he roused himself and sped several blocks to the scene.

Nielsen discovered a cardboard cutout of a prospective tractor buyer standing where it could be noticed from the street.

CURBING THE JETS—As planes get faster, airport runways shrink. So there's plenty of concern about handling the first big commercial airliners when they start service two years from now. The "water squeeze" system illustrates safety methods being considered. It incorporates gadgets like those used on military aircraft. Wires hook onto the plane's landing gear (No. 1) if it is in danger of dashing off the end of the runway and brake it to a safe stop. Simple plungers (No. 2) are pulled through pipes alongside the runway to absorb the energy. The water isn't "squeezed," but resists the plunger. The nose wheel starts the action (No. 3). In striking the actuator cable it raises the stanchions (No. 4) which hold the arresting cable so that the cable will engage the main landing gear for a natural stop.

Rep. Moulder Has Important Duty in House

WASHINGTON (AP)—A former judge of a circuit court in Missouri is at work on the biggest assignment of his congressional career as chairman of a nine-man legislative oversight subcommittee of the House Interstate Commerce Committee.

Rep. Moulder (D-Mo) former prosecuting attorney in Camden County, Mo., and former judge of the 18th Judicial Circuit of Missouri, is handling the important assignment in addition to his duties as a member of the House committee on un-American activities.

On the latter committee, he is outranked on the Democratic side only by the Chairman, Rep. Walter (D-Pa). For many months, Moulder has presided over hearings by subcommittees on un-American activities.

Last spring Chairman Harris (D-Ark) of the House Interstate Commerce Committee named Moulder, fifth-ranking Democratic member of that committee, to head the newly appointed subcommittee. Its duties were to review, study and examine the execution of the laws by the administrative and independent agencies of the government within the jurisdiction of the Interstate Commerce committee.

The House voted a $250,000 appropriation for the subcommittee work of determining whether the federal agencies are operating properly under the law.

A staff has been selected with Bernard Schwartz, 33, as chief counsel. Hearings may get under way early next year after advance work is completed.

One of the cases which the staff has planned to look into at the request of Rep. Karsten (D-Mo) and to determine whether hearings should be held involves the Interstate Commerce Commission's handling of the case involving an application of the St. Louis San Francisco Railway Co. to acquire control of Central Georgia Railway.

The commission approved the application.

The Moulder subcommittee was set up, according to a committee announcement recently, to:

Examine the execution of laws by the administrative agencies administering laws within the legislative jurisdiction of the committee to see whether the law as Congress intended it, has been and is being carried out or whether it is being repealed or revamped by the agencies.

Determine whether the law has been and is being faithfully executed by the agency in the public interest.

Agencies to be examined, said a statement issued last April, could include the Civil Aeronautics Administration, the Civil Aeronautics Board, Federal Communications Commission, Federal Power Commission, Federal Trade Commission, Food and Drug Administration, Interstate Commerce Commission, Securities and Exchange Commission, Bureau of Standards;

National Institute of Health, National Science Foundation, Weather Bureau, Foreign Claims settlement Commission, Office of Alien Property, Public Health Service, Railroad Retirement Board and others.

It has not been announced just what investigations would be made or hearings held.

May, Chairman Harris said Moulder was the next member in seniority on the House Interstate Commerce Committee whom he had not designated as a chairman of an important subcommittee "and with important work to do."

"I therefore want to make it perfectly clear x x x that he as an able member of our committee and in whom I have utmost confidence, was the logical and appropriate selection for the chairmanship of this important work," Harris told the House.

Moulder, 53, has been a member of Congress since January, 1940. A resident of Camden, Mo., he represents the 11th Missouri congressional district.

Australian Zoo Will Furnish New Mate For Rare Animal

SYDNEY (AP)—An Australian zoo official said today Cecil, the lonely platypus in the Bronx Zoo in New York, can have a new mate from Down Under.

Cecil's former mate, Penelope, has disappeared.

Sir Edward Hallstrom, chairman of Sydney's Taronga Park Zoo, said: "When we receive a formal request we will set about getting a female. It would take two to three months to acclimate it in captivity here. Then it could be on its way to New York."

Add a few drops of kerosene to the water used for cleaning windows to help prevent spotting from the rain.

YELLOW PAGE AD brings contracting firm 175 calls

The Bettmann Construction Company decided to try a half-column display ad in the Yellow Pages of the telephone directory, instead of a bold-type listing previously used.

Not long after the company's ad appeared in the new directory, the owner of the firm wrote the telephone company: "The number of inquiries I have received both amazed and pleased me. I have kept a pretty good check... and I figure to 175 calls from my half-column display."

"At the time that I arranged for the display to be inserted, I thought that if I got one job a month it would be well worth the cost. I have been getting, on the average, about two or three jobs each week.

"If my business continues on the present scale, this year I will double the gross business that I did the year preceding, and I attribute practically all this increase to the telephone directory display, as I do no other advertising to speak of."

Yellow Page advertising can work for you, too, Mr. Businessman. Talk it over with the Yellow Page man when he calls on you.

*A true case history; only the name has been changed. The telephone company will be glad to furnish more details on request.

Health Office Work Told To Kiwanians

Services to the public provided by Missouri's Division of Health, one of six whose offices are located in Sedalia, were described by Paul Decker, assistant district public health engineer, speaking before the Sedalia Kiwanis Club in Bothwell Hotel Thursday noon.

Personnel of the Sedalia office established here in 1950 and now located in the new Keuper Building on West Broadway, serve 19 counties. With increasing work load the present staff will subsequently be doubled to 20. The annual payroll now amounts to approximately $55,000.

The speaker said that among the many duties of the local office was checking 644 tourist cards, inspecting food outlets, including fairs, and particularly the Missouri State Fair since the public health service has inspected food services there, no case of food poisoning has arisen.

The engineering service of the Division of Health checks water supplies and sewerage facilities for sanitation. Decker remarked that Sedalia has one of the oldest water supplies in the state. Its high rating, however, does not compare with Sedalia's sewerage system. Of the three treatment plants here, only one, the south plant, is capable of handling the load in satisfactory manner. When queried about the cost of modernization of the present system, he gave a rough estimate of $3 million dollars.

The speaker was introduced by Myron Lindquist, program chairman, and secretary-treasurer of the Sedalia Little League, who also called upon Dan Robinson, chairman of the Boys and Girls Work committee, to report on Little League activities.

Robinson introduced Odell Hilburn, manager of the Kiwanis Little League team, who in turn presented the following members of the team with appropriate individual comment on their season performance: Dale Herrick, Fred Williams, Mike Robinson, Bob Gouge, Bill Taylor, Tom Gibbs, Jessie Fred Paxton, Dan Zarnowicz, Bernard Bahner, Jerry Hilburn, Don Wilhite, Jackie Leet and Bob Nagel. Robert Staus and Bob Visentin were not present.

Ralph Hamlin, president of the Little League, then made an interesting report on the 1957 Little League Season, saying that 545 boys started out and 450 finished the playing season. In all there were 240 ball games of the major and minor teams, not counting the games and hours spent in practice sessions. Equipment expenditures amounted to $2,000 and there was an estimated attendance of 25,000 persons. The League also finished in the black financially, for which Hamlin commended the many parents, business men, organizations and other individuals who contributed to the financial support of such a wholesome home town athletic activity.

The meeting was opened with prayer by the Rev. Edward R. Sims. Singing was led by William Ward with Miss Lillian Fox at the piano.

Brenda Lee's New Manager Scores Legal Victory in Dispute

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Brenda Lee's new management has scored a temporary legal victory in a dispute over the 12-year-old singing star's contract.

Davidson County Chancellor Ned Lentz yesterday refused to issue an injunction preventing Brenda's guardian, Charles E. Mosley, from interfering with her 1956 contract with Crossroads TV Productions of Springfield, Mo.

Brenda's mother, Mrs. Buell Rainwater, Mosley, and Bud Allbritton maintain the contract is void since Mosley was named her legal guardian last month. Final hearing has been set for October. Mosley recently appointed Allbritton manager of Brenda, whose legal name is Brenda Mae Tarpely.

During her brief career, including several coast-to-coast television appearances, Brenda has grossed $35,000.

Funeral services will be at 9 a. m. Saturday at Sacred Heart Church, the Rev. A. J. Brunswick to officiate.

Ratio of Paralytic Polio Cases Declines

WASHINGTON — The Public Health Service said today there were only 70 paralytic cases of polio among the 356 cases reported last week.

This compared with 360 paralytic cases alone in the comparative 1956 week, in which a total of 876 cases of all kinds of polio were listed.

The service said the proportion of paralytic cases is running lower than it was earlier in the year—and this is the time of year the disease is usually steadily increasing.

During the four weeks ended Aug. 10 there were 243 paralytic cases among 1,173 cases of all kinds, or 21 per cent paralytic.

The report for the week ended July 13 had shown 37 per cent paralytic cases.

Between Jan. 1 and Aug. 10 there had been 973 paralytic cases among the 2,897 polio cases reported, compared with 2,993 paralytic among the 6,179 listed in the comparable span a year ago.

Salk polio vaccine has been credited with reducing the number of paralytic polio cases.

Mayer Declared Mayor Of St. Louis Suburb

ST. LOUIS — Walter L. Mayer, who tied with Edward Miller in an election for mayor of suburban Bellefontaine Neighbors, last night was declared mayor by vote of the board of aldermen.

The board's vote was 6-0, with Alderman Harry Paddock refusing to vote on the ground the action was unconstitutional.

Each man received 1,336 votes in the election Aug. 6.

City Attorney Godfrey Padberg had given an opinion based on a state statute that the board should select the winner. Irl B. Baris, attorney for Mayer, said before the meeting that if Mayer were declared winner he would take steps to "effect his immediate ouster from office."

Meyer in a statement after the meeting dared Miller to file an election contest.

Three Persons Perish In Apartment Building Fire in St. Louis

ST. LOUIS — Three persons died and one was seriously injured in a fire which raged through a midtown apartment building last night.

The dead were identified as Mrs. Lillie Smith, 73; Miss Josephine Cooper, 50; and Clifford Hudspeth, 36.

All were Negroes.

Mrs. Rena Skates injured her back in a leap from a fire escape.

Several residents of the three-story building managed to make their way down stairways and fire escapes without injury.

Fire Chief Hugh Lynn said the fire appeared to have begun at the rear of the building but the cause had not yet been established.

Some 30 pieces of equipment answered the four-alarm fire which was brought under control quickly but kept firemen on the scene for hours.

Two firemen were treated for smoke inhalation and heat exhaustion.

Kennie Miller Buys Highway Frontage From Stephenson

C. W. Stephenson announced today that Kennie Miller has purchased the property in the 2300 block on West Broadway where Stephenson had planned an office arcade before deciding to go to Florida.

According to information received, Miller plans to move his real estate office to that location about Oct. 1. The property now has one new brick building on it. The frontage on Broadway is 172 feet and it extends 352 feet back on Herold. The lots are zoned for general business use up to 200 feet.

Drum and Bugle Corps To Be In Parade Again

The Chamber of Commerce received word today that the Naval Reserve Drum and Bugle Corps from St. Louis would be in the State Fair parade again this year. The group attracted much attention last year with their precision marching.

Symington Says Rumor On Ft. Wood Is False

KANSAS CITY — Sen. Symington (D-Mo.) has denied a report that the Army will close Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., the Kansas City Star said last night.

The Star, in a dispatch from its Washington bureau, quoted Symington as saying, "I have investigated the story in question and the Army assures me it is not true."

Symington referred to a report by the St. Louis Post-Dispatch yesterday that Ft. Leonard Wood would be deactivated next Jan. 1.

Similar reports involving Ft. Crowder, Mo., also have been denied by the Army. Both Leonard Wood and Crowder are classified by the Army as permanent installations.

Cattle Truck

As the trailer went down the embankment and rolled on its side the cattle shifted into the front end of the unit, piling on top of each other.

Henson and Ray climbed out of the tractor and succeeded in getting the rear doors of the trailer open in an attempt to save the cattle. Two or three jumped out and ran into a field east of the road.

The remaining 31 went in the front end of the trailer in a pile. It was four hours before any of the other cattle could be freed.

Not until the top of the trailer was knocked out were the cattle able to get out, by pushing through the opening and dropping nearly four feet to the ground. Several of the cattle went out through the opening but one of the live ones refused to move. The rest were declared dead.

Chamberlin's three wreckers were called and first efforts to pull the trailer out so the cattle could be freed were futile because of the dead weight in the front end and the frame of the trailer being so twisted that necessary leverage could not be put on it.

The wrecking crew then went to work to pull out the tractor, so the trailer could be released and let down and the hole knocked in the roof to free the few live animals.

The Sedalia Rendering Co. was notified and went out to the scene and after the tractor was pulled out and the few live cattle moved, began dragging the dead animals into their truck to be hauled away. As soon as the dead animals were removed, the wreckers were then able to drag the trailer back on to the pavement.

The highway was blocked by the wreckers working on trailer and tractor for more than an hour and a half. Highway traffic to the south was backed up for more than a mile and a half. Traffic from the north detoured down a side road and came back through or the Hughesville-Houstonia road from Highway 65.

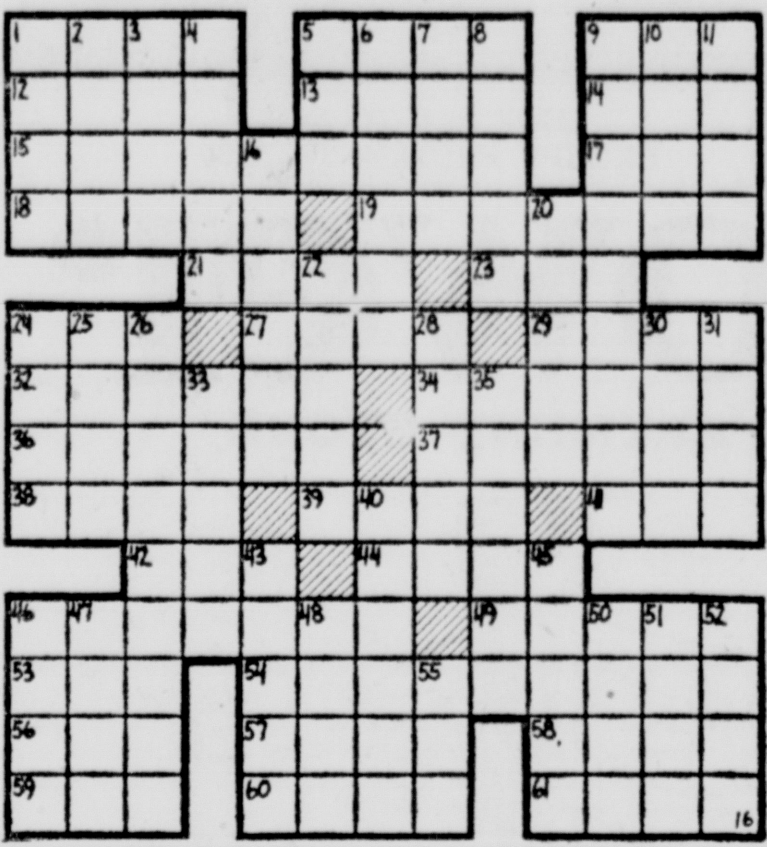

The entire load of cattle was valued at more than $5,000 and the greatest financial loss was to the tractor and trailer units.

Young Student From Finland Arrives Here

Esko Ollila, foreign exchange student from Finland, arrived in Sedalia Thursday evening to start his stay here for the next year. Mr. and Mrs. Dan Robinson will be host to the 17-year-old youth.

Mrs. Robinson stated that the boy is off to a good start on his visit here and that their own son, Jack, 16, has taken Esko "under his wing" and is showing him the ways of Americans. She also said that they are having a little trouble understanding each other because the Finnish youth does not know any of our American slang.

The youth is brought here under the sponsorship of the American Association of University Women through the cooperation of the American Field Service. He will attend high school here and return home after school is out.

Esko was in the group of exchange students that was hit by the Asiatic flu during their crossing of the Atlantic aboard the Arosa Sky. Esko, himself was not seriously effected by it and only had a slight temperature.

The name of the town in Finland where Esko lives is called Tekkala Rovaniemi.

To Play Key Role In Movie of Own Book

HOLLYWOOD — Author Erich Maria Remarque will play one of the key roles in the movie version of his own novel about World War I.

Remarque, who wrote the movie classic of World War I, "All Quiet on the Western Front," is making final revisions on his newest screenplay, "There's a Time to Love." Edward Muhl, in charge of production, says he persuaded the author to play the role of a kindly German professor who helps John Gavin and Lisa Pulver hide from the dreaded SS troops.

Remarque will leave in a few days for West Germany, where the shooting of the picture will take place.

Swell Stops Record Run Of Speed Boat

CANANDAIGUA, N. Y. (AP) — Britain's Donald Campbell broke the water barrier on Canandaigua Lake today. But a swell produced by a pleasure boat prevented him from breaking his own world water mark of 225.63 miles an hour.

The speedboat king hit a top speed of 240 m.p.h. on his first run over the one-kilometer course. When his Bluebird struck the swell, the jet powered hydroplane jumped two feet out of the water for more than 200 feet.

The Bluebird's blades were damaged. Campbell estimated that damage to the boat during his runs here totaled $40,000.

The swell slowed Campbell's average on the first run to 220.83 m.p.h. He made only 198.67 on the second run, which is necessary to be eligible for a world mark.

Thus his 209.75 average for the two runs was far below the 225.63 he set last year at Lake Coniston, England.

Campbell has complained repeatedly of interference by pleasure boats since he came here last June 26 to make the record attempt.

He said the Bluebird was damaged July 18 when the wash from a pleasure boat splashed water down the jet pipe of the red-hot engine.

"This morning's near disaster was the straw that broke the camel's back," Campbell remarked. He said the damage would not be repaired for months. Campbell's venture was also a flop financially.

The local promoters said few persons had turned out to see Campbell and his Bluebird.

A New TV Gadget For The Home

By WILLIAM GLOVER

NEW YORK (AP)—If the living room looks crowded already, mom, brace yourself. Another gadget is on the way.

Right now it is a sleekly gray, foot-square box that looks like a cross between an undersized air conditioner and a stunted slot machine.

Within five years, fond backers envision, the device will key a revolution in television viewing, movie going and cultural pattern of the populace at large.

The machine, accompanied by a corps of articulate technicians and stalwart showmen, has just been unveiled here, to give New Yorkers for the next three weeks their first peep at pay-as-you-see television.

The sample showcase comprises Don Larsen's epic World Series no-hitter, some snapshots of a brand-new Hollywood Western, and for living contrast, as they call it, an engineer scratching his ear forlornly in pose before a robot-controlled studio camera.

"Think of it!" exclaims Barney Balaban, surveying Larsen's windup. "Box-office in millions of homes."

Balan is president of Paramount Pictures which holds a 90 per cent interest in the pay-see television process that is the brainchild of International Telemeter Corp.

In addition to Telemeter, other systems for toll video under development include Phonovision and Subscribervision. Both of these propose some sort of billing system. Telemeter, which will rely on cash-in-advance for each show, believes it is well in the van as an accomplished reality.

Contracts have already been drawn for a regular telemeter circuit in Los Angeles, and company officials say a dozen other installations are in negotiation for cities big and small.

Operations may be conducted on wire circuits or over the air, if the FCC decides the latter is feasible. A discussion has been set by the government agency for Sept. 17 on subscription telecasting.

The heart of the telemeter process is the living room gadget, which hooks onto a regular TV set and doesn't interfere with pickup of regular video programs.

A complex contraption, the gadget will announce a choice of three programs, the price of each (anything from a nickel to two bucks), automatically ring up coins, and electronically clear the signal of the selected show.

702 Tornadoes Counted By Weather Bureau In First Half of '57

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Weather Bureau says it counted 702 tornadoes across the country in the first half of 1957 and that sets a record.

The twisters killed 130.

The worst one hit the Kansas City area May 20, killing 33 in the suburbs on the south edge of the city and seven others in nearby Kansas.

The other major storms killed 21 May 11 at Silverton, Tex., 10 April 2 at Dallas, 10 Jan. 22 at Gans, Okla., and 10 June 20 at Fargo, N. D.

Texas was hardest hit with 162 twisters. Oklahoma had 97, Kansas 50 and Nebraska 47.

The previous record for the first half of the year was in 1955, with 654. The Weather Bureau said intensified efforts to spot and report tornadoes may account partly for the higher 1957 figure.

Youth Is Shot While Hunting With Friends; Not to Hold Inquiry

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Clyde Grayson, 17, was shot to death yesterday while rabbit hunting with two friends, but Sheriff Harlan Wright said no effort will be made to determine which boy fired the fatal shot.

"The boys are torn up enough about it now and if we found out now it would just make the one that did it feel worse," Wright said.

Grayson, an Amon Carter Riverside High School senior, was hunting with Bill Lawrence, 15, and Phillips Johnson, 15, in a pasture about five miles east of Wauka.

Lawrence and Johnson were returning to Grayson's car along a fence line when a rabbit broke cover and ran.

Wright said the two boys thought Grayson was behind them, but he had circled and was in the line of fire concealed by scrub oak when both Lawrence and Johnson fired at the rabbit.

Grayson then fell into view, shouting he had been shot. One bullet penetrated his right side.

The two boys rushed him to a hospital. He was dead on arrival.

Dozen State Police Guard Negro Home

LEVITTOWN, Pa. (AP)—A dozen state police, ordered out by Gov. George M. Leader, are guarding the home of the first Negro to move into this planned city of 60,000 today.

Leader detailed the police here after Bucks County Sheriff C. Leroy Murray telegraphed the governor for help. Murray said the citizens of Levittown were out of control.

Mobs ranging up to 500 have been assembling for the past three nights in front of the home owned by William Myers Jr. Five were arrested Tuesday night after stones broke two picture windows.

Last night, despite the presence of the state police, some stones were thrown by a crowd of several hundred, and a picket line was formed. The marchers stamped their feet and clapped their hands. No damage nor any arrests were reported.

Humid Weather Hangs Over Most of Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cooler air was to move through the middle Atlantic Coast states and the Ohio Valley today while it remained hot and humid from the Carolinas west to Texas and Oklahoma.

The chilly air triggered showers and thundershowers over the mid-Atlantic coast, Kentucky and Tennessee and widely scattered afternoon thundershowers were called for through the Midwest.

It was to be fair and seasonably cool in the Great Lakes and the upper Mississippi Valley and partly cloudy across the northern Plains.

Isolated afternoon thundershowers were expected to prevail in portions of the Rocky Mountains and in the desert Southwest.

Brief and occasionally substantial rainfall developed over the parched southern New England and mid-Atlantic Seaboard yesterday.

Block Island, R.I., was drenched with 2.18 inches—much of it in a 15-minute period—and most of the island's power supply was knocked out. The Navy planned to dispatch a diesel generator today by barge, weather permitting.

MGM Studios Lack Needed Direction

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—What's the matter with MGM?

There's more to the illness than meets the eye. Of course, the major symptom now has been the life-or-death struggle among Eastern money men for control of the onetime giant of the film industry.

The proxy battle has had a withering effect on the studio. Good movies require a strong, forceful studio control, directed by a single, hard-driving man.

The bosses at the Culver City lot have no such direction. They look to New York for direction and find only bitter financial wrangles.

What made MGM (or rather its parent, Loew's) so susceptible to raiding and stockholder discontent? The answer is in the annual nets:

But the real story is not in figures, but in the human operation of the massive studio. It is the story of three men: Irving Thalberg, Louis B. Mayer, Dore Schary.

MGM climbed to greatness under Thalberg, perhaps the most creative producer the films have known. His death in 1936 left a void that has never been filled.

Mayer took over complete control of production. His great talent was as a discoverer of stars. Under him, MGM collected the greatest galaxy in film history. Profits rose with the output of glamorous, over-stuffed movies during World War II.

But glamor wasn't enough after the war. Nor were stars. A confirmed sentimentalist Louis Mayer seemed unable to gear to the need for realism in postwar films.

Schary had quit as production boss at RKO after a dispute with Howard Hughes. He was chosen to bolster MGM's sagging fortunes.

His regime put forth some big grossers. But Schary was faced with some tough situations:

1. The government had forced the studios to get rid of their theaters. Thus MGM lacked that financial cushion.

2. Schary was faced with a monstrous overhead. Included was the Mayer galaxy of stars, many of them past their prime.

3. Schary was prevented by New York from making enough pictures a year to absorb the great overhead.

4. MGM adopted a head-in-the-sand attitude toward TV.

Schary was ousted to please the irate stockholders. Some new blood has been injected and MGM has sallied into TV. But the problem of making the quality pictures that Thalberg used to produce remains the same.

Say Cleanup Man Is Supporting Hoffa

WASHINGTON (AP)—Well posted labor sources say that John F. English—the man picked by the AFL-CIO to clean up the Teamsters Union's dirty linen—is supporting James R. Hoffa for Teamsters president.

Hoffa, Midwest Teamsters boss, is under fire from the Senate Rackets Committee for allegedly joining with New York hoodlums to elect Hoffa's man to head the city's Teamsters affairs.

The 68-year-old English, veteran Teamsters Union national secretary-treasurer, was reached at Chicago, where he's attending an AFL-CIO Executive Council meeting. He declined to discuss his reported support for Hoffa.

But competent sources said

Fair Growth Unretarded

It's a far cry to the days of 1899 when Missouri's General Assembly passed a legislative act calling for an appropriation of $15,000 to be used to erect buildings and establish a Missouri State Fair.

Almost six times that amount was spent in improvements this year; a drop in the bucket compared with expansion expenditures in many other years since the first fair of 1901, which occupied about 136 acres whereas the area there now is 276 acres.

The first $15,000 appropriation resulted in erection of 19 buildings, and the first fair was such a success that after all premiums and expenses had been paid a balance of $500 was left in the treasury.

In 1903 new buildings cost $40,000, including an additional section to the grandstand. In September of that year a fire originated in the cattle barns, spread to the fire department building and the temporary grandstand, destroying them.

The first fair was held September 9 to 13, 1901. Because of demand for a later date the 1907 Fair was held in October. A few years later the dates were set for the middle of August and thereafter have been scheduled that month.

Return of the Grand Circuit Harness racing this year is a big asset which will likely give impetus to greater attendance and the possibility of breaking the 1955 record of 542,175, a figure quite in contrast with 25,346, the number attending the first fair.

Horse racing has always been popular at the Fair before and after the advent of the local grounds in 1909 of Dan Patch and Minor Heir, two of the fastest horses in the world.

Altogether the 1957 Missouri State Fair has great promise of success not only in the category of Grand Circuit racing, but the major exhibits of livestock, dairy displays, poultry, horticulture, floriculture, 4-H, home economics, fine arts, music and dozens of other attractions.

There is no indication the Missouri State Fair is on the downgrade. Rather it is improving its facilities and catering to the farm folk of all Missouri.

"Colie" Ervin secretary and manager whose life began on the fairgrounds in 1909 as Milton C. Ervin has made progress in the short time of his executive position. He is an advocate of a policy to restore Missouri's enthusiasm for a fair for all the people.

Full appreciation of the Missouri State Fair will begin to unfold as the 55th exposition opens with a spectacular parade on Sedalia's downtown streets Saturday morning.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Nixon Power Behind Civil Rights Impasse

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Most vigorous and effective current pusher for the present civil rights bill is Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota. Talking to Senate leaders Lyndon Johnson of Texas and Bill Knowland of California the other day he said:

"You are two big strong men. Why don't you go over to the House of Representatives and exercise some influence?"

"Here is Joe Martin who never wanted a civil rights bill before in his life but who is now the great champion of the Negro. He even says the NAACP doesn't represent the Negro. He wants to go further than the NAACP."

"These great fighting liberals from Connecticut and Massachusetts like Meade Alcorn and Joe Martin are having a wonderful time with their newfound religion," said Humphrey, "but they are not helping the rest of the country."

Knowland has been working conscientiously on the House Republicans to get acceptance of a modified civil rights bill. However, his problem is much more basic. It's a man who doesn't love him too much or vice versa—Vice President Nixon.

The real backstage manipulator on civil rights is Nixon, who wants the civil rights issue held over until next year's elections. Nixon has been calling congressmen, demanding that they stand pat, make not a single change in the original House civil rights bill.

Speaker Rayburn's Sponse

Shortly before much-loved Speaker Sam Rayburn threw in the sponge for the natural gas bill at this session of Congress, Rep. Torbey MacDonald of Boston came to see him.

"Is the gas bill likely to come up for a vote before Thursday, Mr. Speaker?" asked MacDonald. "I want to leave town until Thursday, and I want to be on deck to vote against it."

This was bearding the lion in his den, because Mr. Sam has been one of the chief backers of the gas bill. However, Mr. Sam also believes

Guest Editorial—

DES MOINES REGISTER: Olfactory News Note. The day may not be far off when your living room wallpaper will depict pleasant scenes in the country and actually smell like a field of new mown sweet clover. Or it may be that the tangy smell of the seaside will be wafted through the rooms of a plush resort at Lake Okoboji.

The business of making all sorts of things smell like something they are not or something we might prefer is becoming big business these days.

We were informed the other day by the Wall Street Journal that some commercial fertilizers are being scented with mint. Male minks are being sprayed with Old Spice after-shave lotion to make them more attractive to female minks.

Secondhand auto dealers are using a spray that gives their wares a new-car odor. And bank clerks are being supplied with finger tabs that leave a trace of the aroma of roses, apple blossoms or honeysuckle on the long green stuff they push over the counter to the customers.

There's even a company that's trying to sell the motion picture industry on the idea of spraying the audience with suitable smells intended to make the scene on the screen more realistic.

It certainly has the earmarks of a vast new field of opportunity for the coming generation. Imagine, if you will, the day when the first candidate for governor or for Congress goes prospecting for votes in the countryside smelling like newly turned earth in a cornfield.

Think of the day when the hog lot two miles down the road wafts breezes laden with the delicate scent of a tuberose in your direction.

Hope for the day when those diesel-powered trucks on the highways leave a trail of smoke tinted with the tangy aroma of fresh apple peelings, or the family's pet Scotty climbs up on the davenport smelling like sweet peas.

Yes, it's a wonderful world ahead. But if anyone starts tinkering with the smell of broiled steak and fried onions we stand prepared here and now to lead a delegation to Congress demanding that the whole business be outlawed no matter what happens to the ostracized male mink.

Gum Chewing Healthy

The American people spend more money annually for chewing gum than for medical research, according to a handbook compiled by the National Health Education Committee.

The handbook states investments in research do pay off in the saving of lives and relief of suffering but also in dollars. Figures cited in the book show a disparaging comparison between the amounts of money spent on chewing gum, hair shampoos and cosmetics, on greeting cards and amusements.

A good case could be made for the other expenditures. Gum chewing is not always to be indulged in in polite society — yet chewing gum does exercise the jaws that otherwise might be engaged in malicious conversation! It is supposed to cleanse the mouth and prevent tooth decay (although at the same time it may extract a few fillings). Bubble gum may be a disgusting sight for adults to behold but look at the fun children have with it! Who knows how many mental quirks are avoided by this jaw breaking exercise?

DEEPLY RELIGIOUS—This vast cathedral near Bogota, Colombia, was carved out of a salt mine deep in the earth. The mine is the largest active one in the world, producing 172,000 tons annually. Five thousand persons can be accommodated at a service 800 feet beneath the earth. The cathedral, the result of six years' drilling, lies at the end of a mile of road twisting down from the mine entrance. Two hundred cars can park at the entrance to the cathedral gates. Masses are celebrated twice on Sundays, on Saturdays and feast days. The above scene is a general view of a Mass in the cathedral, consecrated in 1950 by the Papal Nuncio of Colombia.

Baptists Will Have Booth At State Fair

The Missouri State Fair is the big event of the week at hand. The Missouri Baptist Booth is to be opened again this year placing emphasis upon the fact that Missouri Baptists are dedicated to the spiritual welfare of Missouri. Many of our Baptist people will be assisting in the work at the booth and will be happy to offer any help to those needing it. The public is cordially invited to stop at the booth which is located just under the grandstand as you go in the gate. Every department and phase of our Baptist work will be represented.

This week has been Sunbeam Focus Week with emphasis upon the work of the Sunbeam Band which is the missionary organization for the boys and girls from 3 to 9 years of age.

The Annual Associational meeting was held Tuesday and Wednesday of this week at the County Line Baptist Church.

There will be a meeting this Saturday at the church for the junior G.A. girls and also for the junior and intermediate R.A. boys.

The Intermediate G.A. girls will meet this coming Monday night at the church for their regular meeting.

The Queen Esther Class will have its regular meeting Tuesday evening at the church. All members are urged to be present.

Next Sunday, Aug. 25, the guest speaker at the services to be held on the Missouri State Fair Grounds will be Doctor Walter Pope Binns, president of William Jewell College at Liberty. Doctor Binns is a noted speaker. The public is cordially invited to be present and to hear his message.

There were some 52 persons who attended the R.A. and G.A. camp held at Rocky Mount, Mo. this past week. The total attendance at the camp was approximately 112. There were three campers who attained the distinction of Star Camper. These were: Jimmie McFall, Janice Steele, and Linda Reed, all from the East Church. The following attained the distinction of Honor Camper: Larry Brannon, Sandra Momburg, Billy Don McFarland, Johnnie Lane, Bill Thompson, Merle Steele, and Wanda Walters.

Those recognized in the Coronation Service held during camp were: Miss Linda Kerr who attained the step of Lady in Waiting, Miss Joyce Ellis, who attained the step of Maiden, and Miss Wanda Walters who attained the step of Queen and was crowned at the close of the service.

HOW DEEP AND LASTING ARE THE FRIENDSHIPS OF TODAY? One could not answer with any accuracy or authority. But I am inclined to think that the trend is toward individualism and self-sufficiency, rather than toward relationships of mutual trust.

Sunday School Lesson Notes:

When Farrar Fenton, the able English layman scholar, who translated the Bible into modern English (Oxford University Press) translated I Corinthians 13: "If I could speak in the language of men and angels, but have not friendship, I should become an echoing trumpet," he had at least some warrant for using "friendship." Other translators had said "charity" and "love."

For Jesus had hallowed that word "friendship" when He called His disciples "friends" (John 15:15).

I suppose there is always a question of exact meaning in translating a word. English words for those of Greek or Hebrew may be an approximation, but much scholarship gives assurance that the reader of the English Bible has a reasonably accurate rendering of what the sacred writers wrote.

In any case, the English Bible has an authority of its own, and its English words define moral and spiritual realities of their full value for those who read only in English. In this respect the word "friendship" may have all the meaning to which Jesus gave it as He spoke to His disciples.

The examples of friendship are many, and two have been outstanding in literature and tradition. In the Bible it is the friendship between Jonathan and David. In the secular world it is the friendship of Damon and Pythias.

I suppose that in the language of today such friendships would be described in terms of "pals" or "buddies." The latter term at least would have strong emphasis and meaning in the light of the war experiences that brought men together in times of stress and danger.

How deep and lasting are the friendships of today? One could not answer with any accuracy or authority. But I am inclined to think that the trend is toward individualism and self-sufficiency, rather than toward relationships of mutual trust.

Over 40 Big Cars Entered

Crack Drivers Will Lift Lid On Fair Car Races Saturday

The roar of racing engines and the shriek of spinning wheels returns to thrill Missouri State Fair crowds Saturday afternoon as a field of more than 40 big cars and drivers prepares to kick off five days of spine-tingling action over the fair's two fine speedways.

Saturday's program of seven events will get underway on the half-mile track in front of the grandstand, with time trials slated at 1 p.m. Featured on the card are a match race, three heat races, a consolation event and the feature, open to fastest cars in the qualifying races. Racing officials said that distances will be governed by track conditions.

The field shapes up as perhaps the largest ever to compete in big car races at the fair and includes not only the International Motor Contest Association defending champion, Bobby Grim of Indianapolis, but Pete Folse of Tampa, Fla., Florida titleholder; Red Amick of Muncie, Ind., All-American Racing Association champion and winner of the "Little 500" at Salem, Ind.; Hershel Wagner of Hickman Mills, Mo., winner of last year's opening feature, and a host of others from 11 states from Florida to California.

While the famed Offenhauser engine dominates the field with more than 20 entries favoring the speedway-proven power plant, at least nine other types of stock block conversions are represented, all of them potential victors on the half-mile smokeway.

Extensive grading and almost continuous watering has put the fairgrounds raceway in excellent condition, and observers foresee the likelihood that several track records—if not world marks—may fall during the afternoon.

Banking on the turns has been increased this year again, and in each of the past two years the track became faster following similar treatment.

The cars reach speeds of above 100 miles per hour in the straightaways, but through the turns the average for the circuit is reduced to approximately 72 miles an hour—still a mighty quick trip over a distance little greater than around a large city block.

The driver's ability to take the turns at greater speed, plus the fact that a fast field always pushes the leaders to greater efforts, makes it quite likely that at least a part of the record book may be rewritten.

The same field will be back on Sunday for a similar program, with the exception that Saturday's time trials will again determine the cars' starting positions in the various preliminary events.

Saturday night the cream of Missouri's modified stock car drivers will clash in races which will determine their starting positions in the state championship classic scheduled Friday night, August 23.

On Saturday, August 24, most of the field of big cars will be seen in the third annual Missouri Futurity on the mile track in which the highly-coveted Governor's Trophy and some $5,000 in prize money is at stake.

Winding up the fair will be the 100-mile Missouri International for late model stock cars and sedans and foreign and American sports cars. A full field is rapidly shaping for this classic, fair officials report.

Saturday afternoon's entries:

Chiefs Defeat Tipton 17-2; Tied for First

The Sedalia Chiefs scored 17 runs Thursday night to gain a very healthy victory over the Tipton Merchants 17-2. Tipton forfeited the game after six and two-thirds innings.

Bill Mateja pitched the entire game, gaining credit for the Chief's victory. Carter was the losing Tipton hurler. The victory places Sedalia in a three-way tie for first place. This tie was caused by Booneville's victory over Jefferson City Thursday also. The Chiefs will play Booneville tonight at Booneville, which should break the tie.

For Sedalia it was 17 runs on 11 hits and no errors. Tipton scored two runs on three hits. A double by Mines and another by Neal were the only extra base hits for the Chiefs. Folkerts doubled for Tipton.

The Chiefs accounted for nine stolen bases. This, coupled with their fine hitting and five bases on balls, accounted for their performance. Mateja gave up three walks.

Settle LEAGUERS

Since the championship semi-finals in the B League were rained out Thursday night, the games will be played tonight instead. Sedalia Ice will play the Optimists at 7 p.m. and Adco will play the Jaycees at 8 p.m. both games at the Little League stadium.

Originally, the finals for the B League were scheduled to be played tonight, but they have been postponed until Monday, Aug. 26, the same night the A League finals will be played. Detailed schedules will be announced later.

Torrid Race Now Cool

Braves Have 8½ Game Lead; They Fear Nothing But Fear

The Associated Press
With 41 games to go and an 8½-game lead, Milwaukee's Braves have nothing to fear but fear itself.

And maybe, the Chicago Cubs. All the Braves have to worry about now that they have won 10 in a row after last night's 8-1 victory at Cincinnati, is the haunting 1956 season, when they won 11 straight, had a 5½-game edge—and then blew it in the last week as Brooklyn won the pennant by one game.

And they also must be remembering the 1951 season, when even Brooklyn's old pros couldn't hold a 13½-game August lead and were beaten in a pennant playoff by the New York Yankees.

The Braves are back home tonight for the first of a four-game series with the St. Louis Cardinals whose slump is every bit as sure as Brooklyn's.

prising and sudden as Milwaukee's surge. The Redbirds lost their ninth in a row—their longest skid since 1947—with a 4-1 setback at Chicago. The seventh place Cubs now are 9-7 over the Cards — and have beaten the Braves in 7 of 13.

Brooklyn stayed in third place, also 8½ back and within one percentage point of St. Louis, as the Dodgers twice blew leads and lost to the Giants 9-4 in the only off-NL game scheduled.

In the American, the New York Yankees went 5½ ahead again, defeating Boston 6-3, although Ted Williams pushed his average to .393, while the second-place Chicago White Sox gave up five unearned runs and lost to Cleveland 5-4. Kansas City whipped Detroit 7-2 in the only other game.

Hank Aaron, the NL's bat leader, hammered across five runs with a pair of homers as the Braves swung for 12 hits. Eddie Mathews, and ex-Redleg Bob Hazle also homered for Milwaukee.

Warren Spahn won his 13th with an eight-hitter, losing a shutout on an unearned run in the second. Spahn got a four-run cushion in the first that chased Hal Jeffcoat.

Bob Turley won his fifth in a row for a 10-3 record, but needed Bob Grim's relief when Frank Malzone's home run junked his shutout in the eighth. Loser Willard Nixon held the Yankees to three hits, one of them Elston Howard's home run, for six frames. Gil McDougald drove in three runs, and hit a two-run homer in the eighth to clinch it.

The Indians shook their six-game losing string in the sixth when southpaw Jack Harshman walked one run home, then gave up a grand-slammer to Chico Carrasquel that wiped out a 3-0 White Sox lead. Don Mossi went all the way to win his ninth.

Dale Long's home run and Bob Speake's two-run single nailed the Cubs ninth victory in 12 games in the second as Sam Jones lost his seventh. Rookie Moe Drabowsky won his ninth with a six-hitter.

Icers Nip Adco's, For Title

Little League Crown Won By Two Homers; Trophies Given In Ceremony

Two consecutive homers by the Sedalia Ice & Cold Storage majors spelled the difference in the score when the Ice team took the Little League City Championship in a game played against the Adco majors Tuesday night. The score was 11-6.

Glen Whitney, Ice pitcher, stepped to the plate with the bases loaded in the second inning against Tommy Rash, Adco relief pitcher, and hit a towering fly over the center field fence to drive in four runs. Clifton Dowdy, Ice first baseman, followed with a line drive home run.

The Sedalia Ice team, which had earlier won the league championship with a 6-4 season record, took both of its games in a Shaughnessy play-off. They beat the fourth place team, Kiwanis, Monday night 14-7. In the "sudden death" play-off with Adco, who had finished second in the league competition, the Ice team came through with Tuesday night's victory.

Adco had earned its way into the finals of the Shaughnessy by compiling a fine 15-5 record. They pushed into Tuesday night's finals by beating the third place Optimist team Monday night, 13-7.

The Ice boys got off to an explosive start in Tuesday night's game by scoring one run in the first and seven in the second before Adco had a chance to tally.

It was the second inning which did much to insure the win. Freddie Lang, starting pitcher for Adco, lost some of his control in the second. Ronnie Miller led off with a walk for the Ice. Billy Hopkins was hit by a pitched ball. The two runners advanced on an error and a stolen base by Hopkins. Rickie Hawkins popped out to the pitcher. Steve Young flied out to Terry Fletcher and Miller scored after the catch. Allan Miller came through with a single with Hopkins scoring. Billy McFarland and Bobby Randall walked, setting the stage for Whitney's homer. Dowdy then followed with his blow.

Adco came back strong in the top of the third. Rash led off with a hit. Johnnie Rymer struck out. Kenny Berseno, fiery little shortstop, walked, as did Jeff Swearngen, catcher. Eddie Johnson, slugging infielder for Adco, then proceeded to knock one out of the park. Larry Howard walked, stole second and then tried to score all the way from second on a passed ball and overthrow at third by the catcher. Randall, on a clothesline peg from leftfield, nailed Howard at the plate. Larry Meredith struck out to end the threat.

Ice went out in the third but came back strong in the fourth. This was featured by Whitney's second homer of the night with McFarland, who had a single, on base. This homer was one of the longest ever hit in the Little League park, bringing the total of Whitney's circuit blasts for the season to 16. The Ice catcher-pitcher broke the home-run record of 9 earlier in the season.

In the third inning, Ice scored a third run on hits by Dowdy and R. Miller, the latter hitting a triple. Adco peeked away for two more runs during the game.

At the conclusion of the game, the "B'nai B'rith Trophy," a traveling cup, was presented to Bill Hopkins, manager of the Ice team, by Simon Kanter for the City Championship. Hopkins and Don McFarland, assistant manager, also accepted the "Ralph Hamlin Trophy" for the Ice team winning the league championship. Hamlin, who is Little League president, presented this cup. Ben Carson, manager of the Elks team, received the good sportsmanship award for his team. This was presented by Bud Gardner, Little League player agent.

All 12-year-old players in both the majors and minor Little League teams, received certificates. Players representing 26 teams received these awards.

A picnic was held preceding the championship game at Liberty park with parents bringing a picnic dinner. Dan Robinson furnished the soft drinks and Jack Cunningham.

SEDALIA ICE WINS LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP—Tuesday night, the Sedalia Ice and Cold Storage team of the Little League received the Ralph Hamlin Trophy for winning the league championship this year with a 16-4 record. Shown receiving the trophy is Bill Hopkins, manager, Sedalia Ice, who accepted the trophy from Ralph Hamlin, president of the league. Others in the picture include: back row, Don McFarland, assistant manager; Glen Whitney, leading hitter for the leaders: Clifton Dowdy, first baseman; and Ronnie Miller, third baseman and pitcher. Front row, Buddy Turner, batboy; Billy McFarland, infielder; Allan Miller, outfielder; Barry Lindquist, outfielder; and pitcher; Steve Young, outfielder and catcher; Bobby Randall, outfielder and pitcher; Rickie Hawkins, infielder; Jimmy Johnson, infielder; Johnny Johnson, outfielder and pitcher; and Billy Hopkins, infielder.

A's Leading American In Home Runs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Kansas City's A's, although out of the race, have led the American League in home runs almost all season. They made homers pay off yesterday.

Woody Held, Billy Martin and Hec Lopez blasted Detroit pitching with out-of-the-park drives for a 7-2 victory over the Tigers at Kansas City.

The A's now have won six of nine games under new Manager Harry Craft and have pulled out of the cellar as if they meant it.

Held's 14th homer in the first completed a four-run inning that gave Tiger ace Jim Bunning his fifth defeat against 14 victories.

Martin hit a solo shot off reliever Lou Slesater in the seventh and Lopez did the same in the eighth.

Billy Hunter's first inning triple, the first of his three hits, got Kansas City off to a fast start. Held's homer was a two-run 400-foot shot over the centerfield fence.

Doubles by Hunter and Power scored the other run in the fourth. Jack Urban started for the A's and evened his record at 2-2 although needing help from Tom Morgan in the ninth.

At Chicago, the St. Louis Cardinals, backtracking still, took their ninth straight defeat, longest since 1947, as the Cubs won 4-1 behind young Moe Drabowsky's six-hitter.

Stan Musial had three of the six hits and drove in the only run. Ex-Cub Sad Sam Jones went all the way to take his seventh defeat and third straight against nine victories.

The Red Birds now have scored only 13 runs in their last nine games going into a four-game series with the first-place Braves at Milwaukee.

Despite this, they remain in second place by a percentage point over the also-slumping Brooklyn Dodgers.

Warm water is better than cold for sprinkling clothes, seeming to have more penetrating qualities.

ham furnished the ice. Approximately 500 adults and youngsters attended the picnic.

Top Grand Circuit Pacers Included on Harness Slate

Some of the finest harness horses on the Grand Circuit are coming to Sedalia for the Missouri State Fair race session next week. Several horses have already arrived with the big contingent expected on the grounds Saturday and Sunday. Missourians interested in harness racing will be dished out a real dessert from Monday afternoon through Friday on the mile track.

Arthur A. Eilerman, race secretary, arrived in Sedalia Wednesday and began compiling the programs for the five-day program. He came here from Springfield, Ill., where the Grand Circuit is now running, and reported on several races he witnessed there.

One of the big events will be on Tuesday, the Matron Pace, better known as the Hambletonian Preview for three-year-old trotters. Eiler witnessed the companion Stake at Springfield in which Double Scotch, of the S.A. Camp Farms Co., Inc., Shafter, Calif., won the first heat, and the fine trotter Silver Way, of the L. E. Lake, Colfax, Ind., pushed close behind for second place.

These two horses are entered in the Matron here on Tuesday, and are favorites. Eilerman reported 14 starters went to the gate at Springfield, and from the entry list for the Missouri Matron Stake, he expects at least 14 starters and possibly more.

The Geers Stake, two-year-old pace, has an array of entries and at present is assured of at least 15 starters and possibly more. If 16 or more start the event will have to be split into elimination heats. Favored at present in the Geers is Adois Paul from the stable of Johnny Simpson, who will be driving the horse in this race.

Another race, the Tompkins Memorial Stake, may have to be split in elimination heats for two-year-old trotters. There is a full field of 15 horses at present with a possible two or more to be added.

Two favored horses stand out for this competition. One is Jane Frost, being trained by Tom Berry, a fine horseman and well known around the race tracks of harness horses. The other is Gang Awa, handled by another well known and respected horseman of the track, Fred Egan, who will be in the sulky for the race.

Eilerman reported Torpid, one of the greatest harness horses in years, was the winner of the three-year-old pace at Springfield the past week, but will be absent from the Missouri races. Torpid was forced out in front in the race at Springfield by Adois Express of the Camp Farms for a time of 2:01 on a heavy and slow track.

Adois Express will be in Sedalia for the Matron Pace for three-year-olds on Thursday. Race officials anticipate a fast time by Adois in that race.

Another horse of distinction scheduled to race here and who has been talked of for a match race with Torpid, is Good Council of the Castleton Farm, and handled by Sedalia's own internationally known trainer Frank Ervin. Good Council is a decided favorite to take the Matron Stake over Adois Express.

Ervin is a brother of M. C. "Colie" Ervin, secretary of the Missouri fair.

The big 14-Class Trot on Wednesday will have 12 starters according to Eilerman. There are several of the entries who are capable of 2:00 times, and with the track in excellent condition will possibly beat that time.

Eilerman anticipates some more threats and even lowering of the track records of the Missouri State Fair mile in both the pace and trot races.

West May Get New Franchise In 72 Hours

NEW YORK — The West Coast very likely finally will have a major league baseball franchise within the next 72 hours, with San Francisco claiming the New York Giants.

The question of whether the Giants should flee New York and shift to California will be put before the club's board of directors Monday by President Horace Stoneham, who will recommend acceptance.

The board appears to be the last hurdle in San Francisco's bid to win the Giants. Stoneham already is sold. So is the National League, which approved such a switch May 28.

One or two members of the board reportedly are against a shift to San Francisco, but there apparently is little doubt that Stoneham can win them over.

San Francisco's offer was received in official form by Stoneham last week, and starting with a 45,000-capacity city-built stadium, meets Stoneham's earlier demand for a "satisfactory proposition."

Stoneham probably will place a contract proposition for closed-circuit televising of Giant games in San Francisco before the board Monday. The contract reportedly carries a minimum guarantee of a million dollars annually and Stoneham already has advised his stockholders. "I can sign the contract the minute we're ready to move."

Such a deal would double the club's present radio-television income, Stoneham said.

It's this prospective wealth from TV, plus an indicated golden gate at the Golden Gate, which has made Stoneham, despite family ties with New York, a believer in San Francisco.

Missouri-Owned Horses to Race Here Aug. 19-20

Missouri-owned harness horses will share honors with stars of the Grand Circuit on Aug. 19 and 20, the first two days of the harness racing program at the Missouri State Fair.

On Monday afternoon, eight Missouri pacers will go postward for a purse of $1,000 in the 19-class Missouri-owned pace. Probable starters will be: Early Ann and I Got It, from the R. C. Parkhurst Stables, Sedalia; Mighty Eddie, entered by Ken Maurer, Creve Coeur; Miss Frisco Maid, owned by Vere Treasure, Kirksville; Gwyn Counsel, G. M. Simmons, Warrensburg; Troy Hedgewood from the Ewing Stable, Rutledge; Nasrina, entry of Day Mangus, Kirksville; and McPhergus from the Faustiana Farm, Maryville.

A similar class for Missouri-owned trotters will be contested on the Tuesday afternoon program. Seven starters appear likely to strip for this event. The lineup: Syndication and Meadow Star entered by John Roos, St. Louis; Ruth Ann Barnes from the W. F. Burns Stable, Savannah; Sister Key, perennial favorite for the event and the entry of the veteran Howard McKinley, Sedalia; Salty Patch, entered by N. B. Ewing, Rutledge; and Charming Gipsy and Cheer Leader from the Faustiana Farm, Maryville.

5 District Tournaments Will Decide Players For High School Golf

COLUMBIA, Mo. — Five district tournaments to select contenders for the annual Missouri High School Golf Tournament will be held for the first time this year.

The Missouri State High School Athletic Assn. golf committee authorized the district tournaments at a meeting here Aug. 3, it was announced today.

District competition will be held Sept. 23 at Kansas City's Swope Park No. 1 course, Sept. 28 at Springfield, Sept. 30 and Oct. 1 at Lakeside in St. Louis, Sept. 30 at Poplar Bluff and Sept. 23 at Mexico.

The district tournaments will be limited to 18 holes. Each district will be allowed to qualify one team for each five schools in the district.

Medalist and the runner-up in each district tournament will be eligible for medalist play in the state meet if they are not members of a qualifying team. All members of qualifying teams will be eligible for the medalist honors in the state tournament.

Western Union Messenger Pedals Over 10,000 Miles

PASSES 10,000-MILE MARK—Harold Lawson, messenger for Western Union, pauses on his rounds to have his picture taken after his speedometer registered 10,000 miles this past Friday. He estimates that he traveled several thousand more miles than that before buying a speedometer. (Democrat-Capitol photo)

Harold Lawson, 24, a faithful messenger boy for the Western Union, has actually pedaled bicycles more than 10,000 miles, and here he is seen just after his speedometer rolled over that figure on Friday. Incidentally, the bicycle shown has rolled over the streets of Sedalia only 8,800 miles, the speedometer being switched from another bicycle. And he had ridden the other wheel a great many miles before deciding to get a speedometer register.

Harold piled up 1,200 miles on the speedometer with the old bike and then bought a new English Hercules and started pedaling it. Last Friday at 1:35 p. m. at 16th and Grand the figures rolled past the 10,000 mark.

About Town

Mr. and Mrs. Shelt Galloway and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Galloway and sons attended the Henry Wolke family reunion in Kansas City Sunday. The nine children of the Wolke family are all living and all attended the reunion. The basket dinner was enjoyed at Loose Park.

Mrs. Melvin Lane and sons, Danny and Glenn, 1015 South Massachusetts, have returned home after spending a week in Shelbyville, Ky. with her brother, Dr. and Mrs. G. A. Daniel and family.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bowman, 905 South Arlington, have as their guests, Mr. Bowman's sister, Mrs. Blanche Ralph and great-nephew, Eddie Beckman of Kansas City. Mrs. Ralph is employed in the office of Missouri Pacific Railroad there. They plan to attend the fair while here.

Guests in the Judge Purchase home over the past two weeks were Kent and Steve Holman, Colorado Springs; Mr. and Mrs. John Crabtree and family, Kansas City; Mr. and Mrs. Keith Bolton and family, Tarkio, Mo.

Urge Facing World Trials Realistically

MINNEAPOLIS — The president of the Lutheran World Federation today urged Lutherans around the world to face up realistically and boldly to world problems, including the possibility of universal annihilation.

Bishop Hanns Lilje, Hannover, Germany, told the federation that "an international of technological civilization has arisen from which no part of the world is exempted."

"We do not seek to escape from the world by retreating into cells of piety... but rather seek to orient ourselves toward Christ, who is the answer to all the anxieties, difficulties and fears of our generation," Bishop Lilje said in a sermon prepared for the assembly's opening plenary session.

"Even the most serious social tensions and racial uprisings pale to insignificance alongside the fact that among thousands of new technological possibilities a single one overshadows all others—the possibility of universal annihilation."

Bishop Lilje said that even in Communist countries fear of weapons of annihilation is "beginning to undermine their ideological security." He told the more than 700 delegates, representing 50 million Lutherans in 29 countries, that whenever the dark clouds of fear arise, racial and religious, political and economic differences disappear.

"Like an electric current, there ought to go out from this international assembly a united stimulus of faith as we renew pledges of our allegiance to Christ," the bishop said.

Senate Group Raises Amount Asked to Fight Asiatic Flu In US

WASHINGTON — The Senate Appropriations Committee has increased by $300,000 an Eisenhower administration request for funds to fight Asiatic flu.

The committee did this late yesterday in approving a $1,700,000 supplemental money bill. Most of the funds in the bill would go to pay for military construction in the United States and abroad.

President Eisenhower had asked for $500,000 to use against the Asiatic flu which government health officials have said may reach epidemic proportions in the United States this winter. The committee upped this figure to $800,000 after hearing Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney say under questioning he believed that amount was needed.

The over-all total in the bill is about 200 million dollars greater than the $1,581,000,000 voted by the House. The Senate committee boosted House allotments for military construction projects. It also added funds for small business loans and several lesser items.

hop said, "because Christ is the only, the most important and the most effective liberator."

Small Business Administration To Have Display

In many instances a bank may be unable to make a loan because it is beyond the legal lending limit imposed on the bank in connection with the making of such loans, or the loan maturity may be for too long a period of time.

According to the Small Business Administration it is not in competition with banks, but it may be able to supplement the bank's limit by participating with the bank up to 90 per cent of the amount of the loan. The amount of the SBA's participation is not included in the amount the bank must consider under the statutory limitations for making such loans.

The Small Business Administration, under the amendment of the Small Business Act of 1953 passed by the 84th Congress, may make loans up to $250,000 outstanding to any one borrower.

This limit may be exceeded in connection with enterprises set as a joint venture to secure or produce raw materials or supplies.

The method by which Regional Offices can approve loans will be explained at the SBA display at the fair this year. Counsellors will also be present.

World's Wettest

Cherrapunji, Assam, "wettest place in the world," has an average annual rainfall of 458 inches but, in 1861, it had 905 inches of rain, of which 366 inches fell during the month of July.

Statistics reveal that women live 10 per cent longer than men, on the average.

Top Runners Entered For Circuit Races

Golden Ella, the great filly owned by Day Mangus, of Kirksville, Missouri, paced in 2:03 at Painesville, Ohio establishing a season record. Golden Ella has won six races this season, beating aged horse in fast classes. She is entered in the three-year-old filly stakes at the Missouri State Fair for a purse of $6,000.00 to be raced on Wednesday, August 21. Good Counsel, another great three-year-old pacing filly, owned by Castleton Farm of Lexington, Kentucky, won her first start of the 1937 season, at Goshen, New York. She is one of the first crop of the great horse Good Time. Good Time, who still holds a record on the mile track at Sedalia and held the title of "Worlds Champion" money winner during his career, is now in stud at Castleton Farm. Good Counsel's victory was in record time: 2:01 two fifths. No doubt, this filly will be the favorite in the three-year-old filly stake, at the fair. On June 27th, seventeen of America's best three-year-old pacers started in the W. Cane Memorial Pace at Yonkers, New York, for the coveted purse of $65,000.00. Of the seventeen, twelve of these colts will race at the Missouri State Fair. The Cane Memorial was raced in two divisions. Adios Express, was the winner of one division. He was driven by the very capable trainer, Joe O'Brien, and owned by the late Mr. Sol Camp of Shafter, California. He will start in the Matron Stake for pacers racing for a purse of $14,000.00 on Thursday at the Missouri State Fair. Another famous entry that the Missouri Fair visitors will be privileged to see start in the Big 5 Pace, is Gold Worthy, driven by the popular, veteran trainer, Wayne Smart. This outstanding colt defeated a good field of young free-for-all pacers at Chicago, where he broke the track record with his mile of 2:00 three-fifths and will also race Thursday for a purse of $5,000.00.

Another Missouri-owned stable that will be represented at the fair, will be the John Roos Stable of St. Louis, Missouri, now racing in Chicago. The star of this stable is Abbeyup, who has won five straight victories. His runnerup is Sussie Win, who has won three races at Chicago. These horses are trained and driven by Ken Maurer of St. Louis, Missouri, who until the past few years has shown world championship road horses and harness horses, for Mr. Roos, and other prominent St. Louisans.

4-H Tractor Contest For Friday, Aug. 23

Once again the 4-H Club will hold its tractor contest. For those who aren't familiar with the term contest, instead of tractor rodeo, it should be noted that the phrasing has been changed because the word rodeo is sometimes misleading. It is a contest testing 4-Hers skill in maneuvering tractors and is not of that type which is usually associated with rodeos.

Semi-finals will be held Friday morning in the Coliseum and the finals will be held that night, Aug. 23, at 7:15 p.m. in the Coliseum.

Bob Grim Heads Field of Autos In IMCA Races

Powerful Offenhauser - powered racing cars with the nation's outstanding drivers at the wheel will usher in the 5-day IMCA sanctioned championship automobile races at the Missouri State Fair here, Saturday afternoon, Aug. 17. Time trials will start at 1 p.m. and the first of six races at 2:30. The second speed event will be held on the half-mile track Sunday afternoon, Aug. 18.

Heading the star-studded field of cars and drivers is Bobby Grimm of Indianapolis, two-time IMCA national dirt track champion, driving the famed black No. 2 Bardahl Offenhauser owned by Hector Honore of Pana, Ill., according to Secretary Colie Ervin.

Grim, who is now leading in the championship standings for 1937 by virtue of his victories at Tampa, Fla., Cedar Rapids, Ia., Belleville, Kan., and the third annual Hawkeye Futurity at Des Moines, is expected to receive stiff competition from Hershel Wagner of Hickman Mills, Mo., winner of last year's Missouri Futurity on the big mile track.

Other contenders expected to confirm their entries are Don Carr of Detroit, Mich.; Pete Folse, the Florida state champion from Tampa; Ken Gottschalk of St. Louis, Mo.; Arbie Hensley of Richmond, Ky.; Red Hoyle of Phoenix, Ariz.; Fritz Tegetmeier of Elgin, Ill.; Eddie Loetcher of St. Louis; Jimmy Jones of Norwalk, Ia., and a host of others.

In addition to the opening Saturday and Sunday afternoon sprints, state modified championship races will be held on the half-mile track under light, Saturday, Aug. 17, and Friday night, Aug. 23. The third annual Missouri Futurity for speedway-type cars will be held Saturday afternoon, Aug. 24, over the 100-mile distance and the Missouri International stock car race at 100-miles will close the fair.

'Grand Ole Opry' For Finale

The Missouri State Fair will draw to a close Sunday night, Aug. 25, with a big bang in the form of the Grand Ole Opry in front of the Grandstand. Secretary of the fair Colie Ervin pointed out that Cousin Minnie Pearl will appear in this special show and he expects an even higher attendance right up to the last day.

The lovable and boisterous comedienne, as well known and popular as the Grand Ole Opry itself, with which she has been associated for more than a decade, will headline a cast of country music performers heard on the nationally popular radio and television show each Saturday night.

Minnie's traditional costume sets her apart and it is practically as well known as Minnie herself. In her 16 years on the NBC network, Minnie has never changed her hat and shoes and still performs in the ones she used on her first show. She has changed her dresses but because of her superstitions, she has even carried the same handbag throughout her career. Once during a network broadcast she forgot her bag and would not even say a line until she had gone back to her dressing room for it while the orchestra played her theme over and over.

COUSIN MINNIE PEARL, of Grand Ole Opry fame, will be the feature star of the Grand Ole Opry at the fair on Sunday, Aug. 25. She has gained nation-wide recognition with show antics, would-be singing, and other comedy routines.

Although the famous gal from Grindler's Switch bemoans her spinster man-crazy fate on the Grand Ole Opry, she has no real reason to hunt for a man since Minnie is happily married to an ex-fighter pilot, Henry R. Cannon. Johnnie and Jack, who parlayed two golden voices and a guitar into a combination which has earned them national recognition as the nation's No. 1 vocal duo, bring their fast moving, fun-and-music-filled routine for local enjoyment.

Folk music fans, who applauded Johnnie and Jack's "Poison Love," "Cryin' Heart Blues," "Ashes of Love," "South of New Orleans," "I Get So Lonely," "Goodnight, Sweetheart, Goodnight," "SOS," "Want to Be Loved," "Tom Cats Kitten," are applauding their last release "Banana Boat Song" which hit the bull's eye recently.

In addition to Johnnie and Jack, the show will feature Kitty Wells, bright star of Decca records and nationally known as the "Queen of America's Folk Singers." Kitty Wells has been voted the No. 1 female singer of folk songs for four consecutive years in all trade journals and magazines. Johnnie and Jack and Kitty Wells and the Tennessee Mountain Boys completed an engagement at the Palace Theatre in New York City, playing to capacity crowds.

Also featured on the show are Shot Jackson and his steel guitar, Ray Crisp, champion old time fiddler, Lester Wilburn and the bass fiddle and master of the "hillbilly maracas," and the Tennessee Mountain Boys quartette singing your favorite sacred songs.

Another star in the form of Judy Lynn will round out the show. Miss Lynn has been on various other shows with such stars as George Morgan, Lonzo and Oscar, Roy Acuff, Slim Whitman, Faron Young, and later she was one of the leading stars featured with Tex Ritter and Lefty Frizzell. She was also second billed on a fifteen day tour with Eddy Arnold.

Judy has appeared on various network television shows, such as the Pee Wee King Show, and she was featured with Les Paul and Mary Ford on the first Purina sponsored network Grand Ole Opry television show.

In April 1954 to her pleasant surprise, she won the title of America's Champion Girl Yodeler. Then June of 1955 she was chosen Miss Idaho and competed in Atlantic City for Miss America.

Judy Lynn is well known by authorities all over the United States and Canada as one of America's best female entertainers.

All in all, the Grand Ole Opry promises to be at its best Sunday night. A high attendance is expected so tickets should be purchased at the ticket office in the Administration Building before show time.

Close to Extinction
The kea, large, green parrot of New Zealand, is noted for its habit of attacking sheep for the purpose of obtaining the fat about the kidneys. Shepherds have killed so many because of this fact that now the kea is almost extinct.

Army Will Flex Missile Muscle In Fine Exhibit

Visitors to the Missouri State Fair in Sedalia, Aug. 17-25, will get a first hand opportunity to learn about the latest missiles in the U.S. Army's arsenal for defense.

The U.S. Army Exhibit Unit, Alexandria, Va., announced today that negotiations with local officials have been completed to have the large exhibit moved in with Army information specialists on hand to provide information concerning the various missiles. Using the Army's broad Research and Development program as its theme, the exhibit points up the Army's success in developing operational missiles for the nation's atomic-age arsenal. The colorful and informative exhibit traces the history of rocketry from 1232 A.D. to the present era. The historical scenes and present-day applications of the rocket theory are presented by means of colorful paintings, huge photo-murals, a color motion picture theater and an unusual 3-D slide theater with sound.

Featured in the exhibit are scale models of the Army's lethal Nike family of anti-aircraft artillery missiles and the medium-range ballistic missile Redstone. Other missiles included are such operational tactical weapons as Corporal, Honest John, Little John, Dart, Hawk, and the uncanny La-Crosse.

The exhibit will be open to the public during the operating hours of the fair. There is no charge for admission.

City's Chamber Has Information At Grandstand

The Sedalia Chamber of Commerce, in cooperation with the State Fair staff, is maintaining an information booth on the grounds in front of the grandstand from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. This booth, probably familiar to many, is established solely to help guide the many fair visitors to the various attractions.

Not only does it act as a fair guide, but information concerning housing, restaurants, movies, hotels and motels, swimming pools, etc., in Sedalia is available. In other words, it is a complete city and fair directory, sort of like an unabridged dictionary.

The Chamber of Commerce is also cooperating with other fair activities. It has sponsorship of the first big activity of the fair, Missouri on Parade on Saturday, Aug. 17. It also has a fine float entered in the parade. Kenzie Miller is chairman for this.

The next Monday morning the old Missouri Ham Breakfast commences, under sponsorship of the Chamber. This noted event is scheduled for 8:30 a.m. and will feature Sparky Stalcup as toastmaster. Sparky is basketball coach at Missouri University.

The Chamber will present a trophy to the winner of the 19 Class Trot at the Grand Circuit races on Sedalia Day. It will also present a memento to the high school bands participating in fair activities.

One of its most time-trying and effective jobs is that of helping to provide housing for the many out-of-town people who are in Sedalia for the week. For those who are still in doubt about housing, information may be secured from this source.

Fair Time

I scarce can wait until the Fair,
Did you know Pinky Lee
In real life is gonna be there?
My favorite on TV;
And that parade I want to see
That starts the Fair off great,
Oh, what a Fair its gonna be,
Of things grown in the state;
There'll be horses, pigs and cows,
And sheep with lots of wool,
I'll see the tractors and the plows—
And eat 'till I am full;
The daredevils with autos—and
The Holiday On Ice,
The Horse Show that will have a band—
Boy it all sounds so nice;
The Grand Ole Opry, what a Fair,
And Little Brenda Lee,
So many things—I do declare
That I just gotta see;
High School bands with horns and drums
And uniforms so gay,
Say, I hope the Governor comes
Up here on Governor's Day;
There's contest of so many kinds
Held lots of different places
And there's no place I'll bet you'll find
So many kinds of races;
I try my money to divide
So I will have enough
To go on every Midway ride
Yet buy a lot of stuff;
I'll buy pink cotton candy,
Hot dogs and sodapop,
I like hamburgers dandy,
I won't know when to stop,
The Fair is such a lot of fun
And comes just once a year,
I just can't miss a day—not one—
I'm glad they have it here.
Hazel N. Lang.

One of Country's Oldest

Collection of Antique Music Boxes Is Another Attraction

The Missouri State Fair will boast another new attraction, this time in the form of the Hacker collection of antique music boxes. It should draw large numbers of people, especially those who are interested in one early form of music reproduction. Mr. and Mrs. A. Hacker, whose home is in Jennings, have the largest and most complete collection of music boxes in this part of the country. From the smallest music box (one inch square) in the world to the seven-foot, 172-note Regina, the boxes play hundreds of tunes. Of special interest to children will be the musical twirling doll, a musical chimp, a bird which pops up out of its silver case and sings and a child's merry-go-round.

Some of the boxes took years to perfect and couldn't be reproduced today. There is a box that plays four part harmony, one that sounds like a complete orchestra and a Chinese music box with little dolls performing a Chinese dance. The large 7-foot Regina plays tunes by means of a large metal disc 27 inches in diameter which has holes punched in it to create the tunes. The 7-foot Regina has the distinction of being featured at the St. Louis World's Fair in 1904; and, very appropriately, it plays "Meet Me in St. Louis", which was famous at that time.

The collection is transported via a 27-foot mobile home-type trailer. Mr. and Mrs. Hacker, who are long-time collectors, transport this 29 piece collection themselves. They also have a bulldog made of paper mache, which was made in Paris and barks when a chain is pulled.

Anyone who is interested in antique music collections will want to take the time to visit this exhibit at the fair this year.

Will Have Bait Casting at Fair On Aug. 23-24

Once again the annual Bait Casting Tournament will be held at the State Fair. Medals, ribbons and a trophy will be awarded winners and lots of keen competition and fun is in the making, as those who have previously participated will know.

The tournament is divided into two classes. One is for juniors, boys and girls up to 16 years of age; the other is open, for men and women over 16. The juniors will compete on Friday, Aug. 23, and the seniors will have their bout the next day, Aug. 24. No entrance fee is required.

Contestants are welcome to use equipment furnished at the pool, without charge, by the Conservation Commission. A challenge trophy will be awarded to the open winner, with permanent possession to a three-time winner. Championship medals will go to winners in each class, and ribbons for first, second and third will be awarded winners in each class.

This is sponsored by radio station KDRO and the Missouri Conservation Commission in cooperation with the Conservation Federation of Missouri.

Send your entries to KDRO, Sedalia, stating age and class you are entering.

'Nutcracker Suite' At 1957 Holiday On Ice

Ice Spectacle Features New Skating Stars

Glamorous Costumes And Effects Makes Good Entertainment

When it comes to originality in production and innovations on ice, the producers of Holiday on Ice of 1957 can take top honors in the field. It might be a case for Scotland Yard to find out how George and Ruth Tyson, the master-minds of the Holiday spectaculars, keep coming up each year with numbers that leave audiences breathless and create the magic feeling that you've just stepped off a flying carpet into a land of make-believe. This year's featured number is a lavish and star-studded interpretation of Tchaikovsky's "Nutcracker Suite" and this charming classic has never had better presentation.

Holiday on Ice of 1957 opens on Sunday, Aug. 18, at the Fair, and will hold forth through Thursday, Aug. 22. No doubt the talk of the town will be the "Nutcracker". In presenting this colorful story set to delightful music, Holiday has again scored a first, and what a perfect vehicle for Holiday's talented skaters! From the lyrical "Waltz of the Flowers" to the sensuous "Danse Arabe," the "Nutcracker" lends itself to every variety of ice skating. But, "the piece de resistance" is the inspired performance of lovely Joan Hyldoft as the Sugar Plum Fairy in a role that fits her to perfection.

The candy land train and the Fairyland setting will capture the imagination of every youngster and the adults will be enticed by the magnificent array of costumes, the colorful sets and the "Waltz of the Flowers" as it is interpreted by the famous Glamour "Icers". Then add little Juanita Percelle as little Clara and her brother, Gigi as the Prince, and dynamic Don Watson's Danse Chinoise. Then there's the Sugar Plum Angels, the mechanical doll, the toy soldier, the mice and the Mouse King to round out an enchanting story.

The King of the Silver Blades, Bill Blocker, portrays Geronimo in a fiery Indian sequence that will keep audiences on the edge of their seats. And Blocker can't be topped by any skater in the business. The best of all is that Miss Hyldoft and Mr. Blocker join talents in a pair number in the finale that earns them the title of one of the finest skating pairs in America today.

Holiday on Ice of 1957 doesn't stop here. There's the brilliant acro-adagio styling of Farrar and Carter that adds untold skill and daring to another featured production, "The Festival of Bacchus." A newcomer to America, Pat Gregory, the Australian champion, adds new vigor and personality to the all-star cast. Then there's Bobby Blake, the dancing fool of the ice who runs the gamut from the Calypso to the Charleston. Florida unfolds a long-stemmed American beauty in the person of June Stevenson and California sends forth a dynamic and energetic young man, Don Watson.

Add glamorous costumes, breathtaking scenic effects and eight grand-scale production numbers and you begin to realize that Holiday on Ice of 1957 is the spectacle of the year.

Old Murals Uncovered

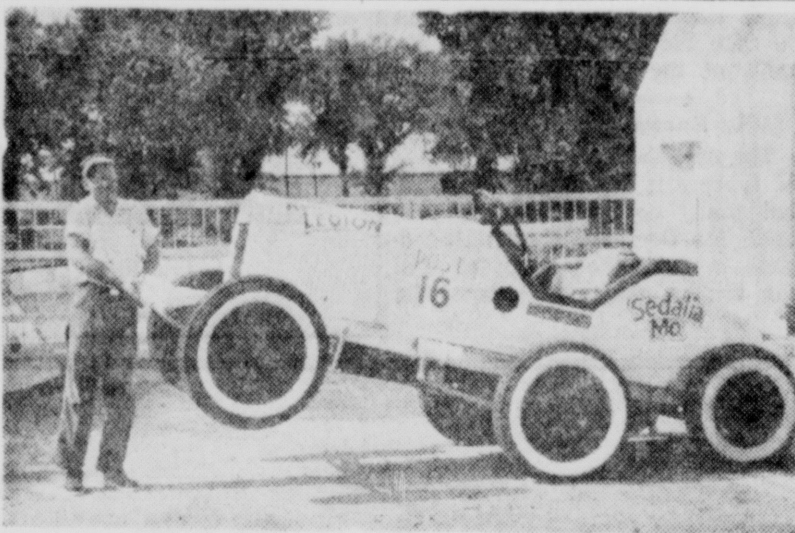

During restoration of historic Vernon House, in Newport, R. I., workmen removing paneling discovered murals said to be 18th century Chinese wall frescoes.

Cold Spot

Coldest official temperature ever recorded in North America was a reading of 81 degrees below zero Fahrenheit, taken in February, 1947 at Snag, small Yukon Territory outpost near the Alaskan border.

ICE STAR—Glamorous Joan Hyldoft, skating star of the Roxy Theatre, New York, for two solid years, will head a company of 100 international ice performers in Holiday on Ice. This lavish ice spectacle will be featured again at the fair from Aug. 18-22.

BUCKING BEEP, a new and strange type of car, is owned by Armin Weaver and Wally McCown, both of Sedalia. This car is a 1922 Buick with a 1948 Jeep motor, with many other parts and ages to mention.

It has appeared in several Sedalia parades, among which are the last two Christmas and State Fair parades. It was most recently seen in the American Legion parade in Kansas City, July 26. Armin (Rusty) and Wally will have their car in this year's fair parade. They want all the kids to see them because there will be several clowns with the car passing out bubble gum and balloons. This is all extended with the compliments of American Legion Post 16 and the M.F.A. Insurance Co.

Racing Fans Will Have Diet Full of Unlimited Varieties

The diet of racing thrills planned for speed gourmets attending the 55th annual Missouri State Fair at Sedalia will run the gamut from modified stock car events to blazing competition between powerful speedway-type cars on the Fairgrounds' fast mile track.

State Fair officials said that two weekends of racing, three afternoons with the speedway cars and another afternoon in which late-model stock cars will compete in a grueling 100-mile race over the mile circuit.

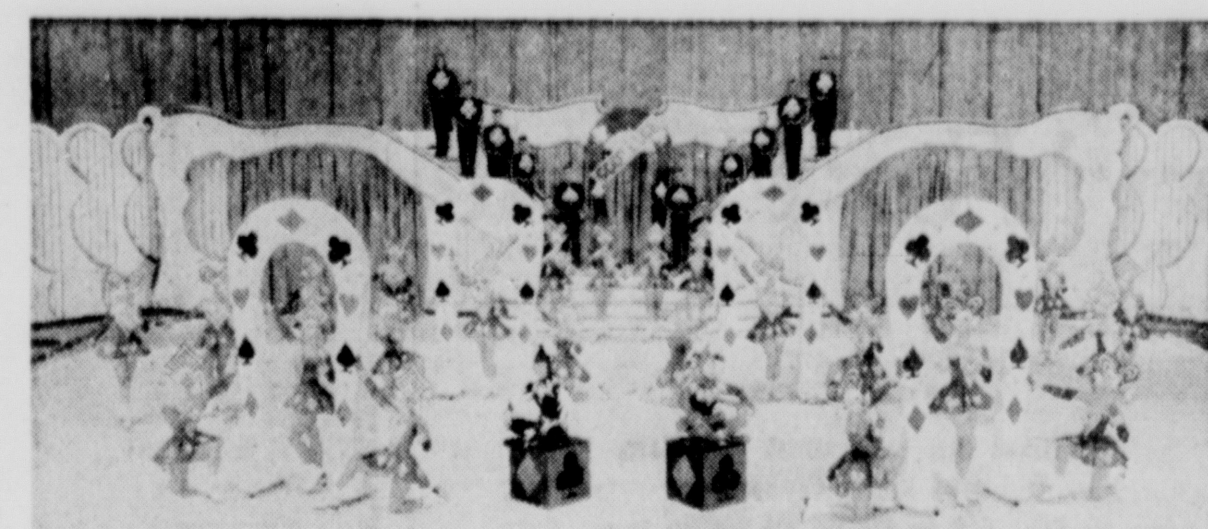

Sprint and late-model events will be sanctioned by the International Motor Contest Association and the entire program is under the supervision of National Speedway Inc.

The sleek specially-built racers will kick off the speedfest Saturday, Aug. 17, with a seven-event program of sprint-type races on the half-mile track and will return for a similar program the following afternoon.

Saturday night will see the running of preliminary heats for the Missouri State Modified Stock Car Championships, while Friday night, Aug. 23, will bring the leading cars in each of the several heats together for the 50-lap title chase. Both jalopy programs will be on the half-mile track.

The nation's top speedway type cars and drivers will be back on Saturday, Aug. 24, for the 3rd annual 100-mile Missouri Futurity classic over the mile circuit and winding up the fair will be standard passenger cars, convertibles and the "Ice" Squires. This is one of the many delightful numbers in the new, all star 1957 edition of Holiday on Ice.

CHEERIO, GOOD LUCK—The sparkling opening of Holiday on Ice of 1957 is a gay, colorful precision routine by the beautiful glamour "Icers"

Woman Superintendent

Fair Boasts Many 'Firsts'; Promises to Be One of Best

This year's Missouri State Fair boasts many "firsts," among which the most prominent is probably the appointment of Mrs. Claud H. Drew, Columbia, as superintendent of the horse show. This is the first time in the fair's history that a woman has been appointed in such a capacity.

Mrs. Drew is one of the best-known horsemen in the state. The horse show will open the second day of the fair in the Coliseum. Another first, Secretary of the Fair Colie Ervin has announced, is that for the first time, it is a Class A show in all of the following divisions: saddle, fine harness, walking horses, parade, roadster, hackney and harness and show ponies. Hunters and jumpers are included in the 1957 show after a lapse of several years. The following classes will be shown from Sunday, Aug. 18, through Aug. 23.

A quarter horse show, with an "A" classification and the approval of the American Quarter Horse Association, will be held on Saturday night, Aug. 24, while a fair first is scheduled for the closing night. It is the Saddle Club Horse Show, which has the approval of the Missouri State Saddle Club Association.

The judges selected for the various divisions of the horse show are nationally known figures in the horse world. Judges will be Dr. Robert H. Elrod, Toledo, O.,

Banker Conducts New 'Germ Infect Population With Tight

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Erie Cocke, President of the American Bankers Association, has been waging a special brand of germ warfare.

As a prominent Atlanta, Ga., banker and as head of ABA he has been trying to infect the population with tightwad fever. He has been trying to get people to save more money.

Now he has a new command post from which to direct his campaign to encourage savings. President Eisenhower has nominated him to be the new director of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, succeeding the late Maple T. Harl. The 13,500 American banks—94 per cent of the total number in the U. S. — which enjoy the insurance protection of the FDIC, have a total of 220 billion dollars on deposit.

Cocke is a stocky, genial southern banker — chairman of the board of the Fulton National Bank of Atlanta — who also raises peanuts, trees and cattle. His son, Erie Cocke, Jr., was a national commander of the American Legion.

Cocke, with his heavy southern accent and southern charm has been peddling two types of banking philosophy. In addition to his encouragement of more savings, within banking circles he has tried to alter the traditional approach of bankers to their customers.

and foreign and American sports cars competing in the 100-mile Missouri International.

Cocke believes that the old concept of the borrower going hat-in-hand to the stony-faced banker is obsolete. "With the heavy competition bankers face today they just can't sit back and wait for business, they have to go after it," he insists.

"The modern bank must be a department store of financial service," he explains. His own Atlanta bank offers 77 different banking services from high school savings programs to giving life insurance to new depositors.

Although his new job is a platform for promoting his banking ideas it also entails plenty of heavy responsibilities. The FDIC fund, for example, now totals 1.75 billion dollars.

Cocke points with pride to the savings record set by individuals last year and thinks it indicates a trend. Savings in 1956 amounted to 14.6 billion dollars, compared with 7.6 billion in 1955 and 12.9 billion in 1952, the previous records since 1945.

Hold Church On Grounds

Sunday, Aug. 18, and the final Sunday of the Fair, will be marked by a new feature. Religious services will be held on the grounds during the hour from 8:30 to 9:30 a.m. Catholic services will be conducted in the Coliseum by the Rev. A. J. Brunswick. The Rev. D. Warren Neal will conduct Protestant services in the grandstand, and Jewish services will be held in the highway gardens, conducted by Abe Rosenthal.

Mr. Ervin pointed out that this is not intended as competition for regular churches. It is something a little different and will give many out of town people the chance to attend church on the grounds, as they might otherwise miss the opportunity.

During these two periods all other activities on the grounds will stop, according to fair secretary Colie Ervin. It is requested that there be no vending, unnecessary activity, warm-ups on the race track, etc. during the time of the services.

Grand Circuit Is Back; Tops In Fine Racing

Five Day Showing Studded With Lou Bresse, Brenda Lee

The Grand Circuit Harness Races at the Missouri State Fair at Sedalia will be star-studded with top trotters and pacers from across the country vieing against each other for more than $125,000 in purse money. Secretary of the fair, Colie Ervin, said today that tickets for the five-day races are being rapidly consumed by mail orders from all over the country, but that mail orders can be assured good seats by sending them in as soon as possible.

Representing the state of Missouri in grand style will be a filly "Golden Ella," owned by Day Mangus of Kirksville, Mo., entered in the Breeder's Filly Stake 3-Year Old Pace, trying for a $6,000 purse on Wednesday, August 21. The entry previously established a seasonal record with 2:03 at Painesville, Ohio, also having won six races this year, beating several experienced veterans.

Also expected to show up well in the harness races are entries owned by George W. Hackley, Jr. of Waverly, Mo. The two horses, "High Melody" bred out of High Bridge and Lady Leon and "Mighty French" bred out of Guy French and Royal Ella, are making a bid for a $1,000 purse in the 19 Class Trot on Tuesday, August 20 at the Missouri State Fair.

Another favorite to appear at the State Fair is "Good Counsel," a three-year old pacing filly, owned by Castleton Farm of Lexington, Ky., who equaled her world's record at the Goshen, N. Y., one-half mile track at 2:01 earlier this season.

On June 27th, seventeen of America's best three-year-old pacers started in the W. H. Cane Memorial Pace at Yonkers, N. Y., for a purse of $65,000. Of the seventeen, twelve of these colts will race at the Missouri State Fair. In this race, "Adios Express" was the winner of one division. He will start in the Matron Stake for pacers with a purse offering of $14,000 on Thursday, August 22, at the Fair.

Another Missouri-owned stable that will be represented at the fair, will be the John Roos Stable of St. Louis, Mo. The leader in the stable is a five-straight winner, "Abbeyup," followed by stable mate "Sussie Win," a three-time winner in Chicago. These horses are trained and driven by Ken Maurer of St. Louis, Mo., who until the past few years has shown world champion road horses and harness horses for Roos and other prominent St. Louisans.

Many of the winners at the race tracks in the east, during the week of July 13, were the nominees at the Sedalia Grand Circuit Meeting, August 19-23. Nick Ewing, a Missouri owner and trainer, won with Troy Hedgewood at Chicago. Troy Hedgewood will start in the Missouri Owned Pace at the fair, on Monday, August 19. Paul Jackson, owned by Art McConville of Ogdensburg, New York, won the Trotting Derby at Buffalo, New York over a field of sixteen crack trotters. He is one of the candidates in the $5,000.00, 14 Class Trot, to be raced Wednesday, August 21. Thorpe Hanover, with Jimmy Arthur handling the reins, scored a smashing triumph in the Reynolds Stake for two-year-old pacers, in 2:04-1-5 over a half-mile track. He is named in the $20,000.00 Geers Stake at the State Fair, Wednesday August 21. Hoot Song, owned by Two Gait Farm, and driven by Ralph Balwin, scored an upset by beating L. E. Lake's favorite; Silver Way, at Yonkers Raceway in the three-year-old trot. Hoot Song, is a candidate for the Hambletonian Preview, which will be raced on Tuesday, August 20.

Harry Pownall, one of the favorite reinsmen at Sedalia, won the Reynolds Memorial Trot with Sharpshooter, at Hamburg, New York in 2:10 and 2:11. Sharpshooter is a candidate in the $15,000.00 Tompkins Memorial two-year-old trot, to be raced on Thursday, Aug. 22 at the fair.

Ned Bower won with his Hambletonian candidate, Storm Cloud, in 2:05-1-5 at Vernon, New York. Storm Cloud will be a starter in the $19,000.00 Hambletonian Preview, on August 20.

LOU BRESSE—A fifty-piece orchestra, headed by Lou Bresse, will appear in front of the grandstand to play during the horse races, and at the Coliseum at night for the Horse Show. Mr. Bresse and his orchestra have played at two Democratic national conventions, the famous Chez Paree, and on the "Show of Shows" this year and promises to be the "finest" attraction on the midway.

Plays at Horse Races and Show

A man who has led his band at two Democratic National Conventions, including the 1956 convention at Chicago, will supply the music at the Missouri State Fair Aug. 17-25, fair secretary Colie Ervin said today.

Musical director of the Democratic National Convention Lou Bresse will bring his fifty-piece orchestra to the fair at Sedalia to play for the Grand Circuit Harness Races during the daytime and at night for the fair Horse Show in the Coliseum.

Bresse, a tall, self-assured musician, unlimited in repertoire, will strike up appropriate music to fit the mood of the harness races and change the tempo to fit the various gaits at the horse show, besides playing accompaniment to singer Gee Palmer, who travels with the band.

For six consecutive years, Lou Bresse and his Orchestra played at the famous Chez Paree, where his musical program was broadcast nightly over a national radio network. He has also played a six month stint on the "Show of Shows," national television network program.

Bresse spent nearly ten years under contract to Paramount as a guest conductor, leading pit orchestras in movie houses all over the country. For five years he was musical director of the Chicago theater, largest in the midwest.

Brenda Lee, 12-Year Bubble Gum Queen, At Fair Two Days

"For goodness sakes, will you climb down out of that tree, so we can get to rehearsal on time!"

Probably no other singer in television receives his or her rehearsal call in quite that way—but it has become routine in the case of Brenda Lee, 12-year-old queen of the bubble gum set from Springfield, Mo.

Persons who attend the Missouri State Fair at Sedalia Aug. 17-25 will have a chance to see and hear the performance of one of the fastest-rising child singers since Judy Garland.

Secretary of the Fair, Colie Ervin, said that the featured attraction at the fair on August 20 and 21 will be little Brenda Lee, 12-year-old queen of rock-n-roll music and country music from the "Ozark Jubilee" national network television program originating at Springfield, Mo.

The brown-eyed, brown-haired cutie will play two performances in front of the grandstand during intermissions of the Grand Circuit Harness Races on those dates and again on those nights for the horse show in the coliseum on the fair grounds.

Brenda was discovered by Red Foley when he made a personal appearance in Augusta, Ga., in February, 1956. A local entertainer, Peanut Faircloth, had arranged for Foley to hear her sing, and the Country Music star was amazed at the sober-sided way she could belt out a song. On March 31, Foley introduced Brenda to the nation on "Ozark Jubilee," his Saturday night ABC-TV program originating in Springfield. Even before the flood of fan mail for the tyke began to arrive the following Monday, the show's producers were formulating a contract, and during the first year of the resulting five-year pact Brenda has become the fastest rising child entertainer since Judy Garland. She is not only a regular on the "Jubilee," but appears as a frequent guest star with both Perry Como and Steve Allen.

BRENDA LEE, queen of the bubble gum set, promises to be the loudest for her size and age at the fair. Noted for her age and voice, she will appear each afternoon at the harness races to add to the entertainment.

Brenda, who has never had a voice lesson, neither plays an instrument nor reads music, but she picks the songs she sings without assistance and even serves as her own arranger, often changing both melody and lyric to suit her own style. Foley, Como, Allen and Paul Cohen, director of her Decca recording sessions, agree that the 67-pound Southern belle is the "quickest study" they have ever encountered in the show business, whether the job at hand is learning a song she's never heard before or memorizing a lengthy script. In all, Brenda stores about 150 songs in her file-cabinet memory.

Her family consists of a sister, Linda, 12, a brother, Randall, 7, a half-sister, Robyn, 19 months, her mother, Grayce, and her stepfather, Jay Rainwater. On Brenda's frequent trips away from home, Grayce supervises regular study periods which keep the youngster abreast of her sixth-grade classmates at Phelps Public School in Springfield.

Roller skating, watching television and "just playin' rough" are Brenda's favorite pastimes, and she finds special delight in visiting the Ozark farm of Ralph Foster, president of the firm which produces Ozark Jubilee, where her pony, Nugget, is kept. For dress-up occasions Brenda loves pretty clothes (one of her proudest possessions is a Ceil Chapman "original" which was a gift from the famed designer), but she readily admits to feeling more relaxed in a loose sweater, jeans and a well-worn pair of rock 'n' roll shoes.

"At home she's the biggest tomboy in the neighborhood," says Brenda's mother, "but when it comes to singing I guess she's just the most serious-minded little girl in the whole world."

Forward Fall

A person who suddenly dies while standing, whether from a bullet or other causes, almost invariably falls forward. The same is true of a person who faints while standing.

The Liberty Bell was cracked in 1835, while tolling the death of Chief Justice John Marshall.

Grand Circuit Explains Terms Used in Racing

In order that the general public might become more familiar with terminology used in Grand Circuit racing and perhaps better enjoy the races at the 1957 Missouri State Fair, we have put together the following material.

The harness track has a terminology of its own and the thousands of new fans attracted each year by "America's Fastest Growing Sport" often are puzzled by some of the terms and expressions they hear.

Harness horses either trot or pace and both gaits are acquired through long and patient training. The trotter moves with a diagonal gait, the left front and right rear feet going forward together, then the right front and left rear. The pacer moves with a lateral gait, swinging the left front and left rear legs forward simultaneously and then the two right legs.

A "break" occurs when a horse leaves his required gait and "breaks" into a gallop or run. His driver must immediately pull him back into the right gait. A horse is not disqualified when he breaks, but in being pulled up to get back into the proper gait, the distance lost is usually a handicap not easily overcome. It pains a trainer to hear a bystander say that a horse is "running" in a race since this is not allowed.

Many fair races are conducted in "heats." A heat is one trial in a race usually determined by winning two heats or standing best in the summary when the scheduled heats are completed. A "dash" is a race decided in a single appearance and these are used mostly at pari-mutuel meetings.

A horse is "parked out" when he's lapped alongside horses at the rail and there's no chance to get in. As a result he goes farther and often tires before the finish. The "pole" is the post position nearest the rail and a "score" is the final warmup before the race. A "sulky" or "bike" carries the driver.

Ozarks' Barefoot Girl

Sally Rand Returns;
Is Attending College

A couple of days ago a young man of about 25, who was seated in the Bothwell Hotel lounge posed the question: "Is she Sally Rand?" An affirmative answer was given and soon news of Sally's arrival was well spread.

Once again Sally, after being absent for four years, is back at the State Fair. The brilliant dancer, poet, lecturer and barefoot girl from the Ozarks will appear each day with the Raynell Show in Cettin-Wilson's "World on Parade."

News of her appearance has spread rapidly, and Sally would have it no other way. For instance, on her second day here she scheduled and made interviews in Springfield, Jefferson City and Kansas City, traveling by airplane.

Air travel is one of her hobbies. She takes delight in this, has had a private license and owns a private plane. Not only do her exotic fans fly; Sally flies also.

Show life started for her when she was 13. Her memories of the many shows, actors, Broadway productions, summer stock, etc., along with the aid of her extensive vocabulary, could fill a large book. "Every time I go to New York," she remarked, "I'm on a theatre binge, will see two a day, and then I get out of there because New York gets me after a while."

Born in Missouri, Sally, whose real name is Helen Beck, feels a deep sense of nostalgia for her home state. "I will always be most fond of Missouri," she states. "When I cross the state line I can feel the difference." She indicates that we are probably the most centrally-located populace on any continent in the world.

When you talk to her, she discusses intellectual and emotional maturity, classical ballet, theatrical history, friendships and one of her major contentions, the essential loneliness of man... a very interesting subject.

Lipstick is essential to Sally. Whenever she goes out she "feels uncomfortable without it," contending that "even if I don't use lipstick, it gives me a feeling of security."

Aside from dancing routines, she finds time for poetry. "I do, on occasion, write poetry," she says, "but one is never completely satisfied with one's work. I may be facetious or very deep in my moods. One has to be moved to write it."

Sally switched from burlesque's bare facts to the facts of science recently. She has been attending a junior college in California since September, studying physics, mathematics, chemistry and psychology.

Perhaps this doesn't sound like the true Sally "but," she explains, "we're going to need people trained in this sort of work if we have an emergency." She isn't going for a degree, adding: "I want to go to school until I can usefully use what I know to help in the atomic power field."

Few realize that Sally Rand in private life is Mrs. Fred Lalla, mother to an eight-year-old adopted son named Sean. Her husband is a plastering contractor and they are presently living, very happily, in their ranch home, near Glendora, Calif.

During the fall and winter months she carries on the usual household duties, taking her son to school and then attending college herself. She is a member of the Parent-Teachers Association. Age is relatively unimportant to this barefoot girl whose dance interpretations have fascinated, charmed, hypnotized and bemused the sophisticates of two continents. To them the question of her age has become meaningless.

FANS FLY AGAIN, after a four year delay, as Sally Rand once again appears at the Raynell Show in Cettin-Wilson's "World On Parade". Yes, this star of the World's Fair is here in Sedalia

Her legendary fan dance was originated in 1933 at the Chicago

World's Fair, immediately becoming a smash hit. Continuing her climb up the ladder of success, her performance set a box office record of $14,000 in a single day at the Texas State Fair in Dallas in 1950.

Once again she'll be here, during the nine-day showing of the Raynell show at the Cettin-Wilson "World on Parade."

Breakfast
At S-C
Aug. 19Sparky Stalcup
Is Toastmaster;
To Auction Ham

The Missouri Ham Breakfast is to be held this year on Monday, Aug. 19, at the Smith-Cotton High School Cafeteria in downtown Sedalia. Much activity and good eating will begin at 8:30 a.m.

Sparky Stalcup, basketball coach at the Missouri University, will be toastmaster for the morning with Frank Broyles, the University's popular new head football coach, giving a short talk.

The Honorable Governor James T. Blair, Jr., will present the winning exhibitor of the grand champion ham the annual Missouri State Fair Trophy. Sen. Thomas C. Hennings, Jr., will present a challenge trophy to the exhibitor of the Grand Champion Ham. Then follows one of the morning's highlights, a public auction of these fine hams. These hams have been sold for a large sum in past years, but the buyers never feel that they were victims of a poor bargain.

The breakfast menu will consist of Missouri country ham, red eye gravy, eggs, fried potatoes, hot biscuits and Missouri honey, all of which will be served cafeteria style in order that everyone attending will be assured of good hot food.

Harness Races to Run
Without Timing Error
By an Electronic Eye

All possibility of human error in timing the Grand Circuit Harness Races at the Missouri State Fair is to be eliminated this year. The timing will be done by an electronic eye, Colie Ervin, Secretary of the Fair, has announced. The Fair will be held from Aug. 17 through Aug. 25.

Marking the device's first use west of the Mississippi River and, of course, at the Missouri State Fair, a Visumatic timer will be set up at the quarter mile, the half mile and the three-quarters mile. As each horse making the circuit of the mile track passes the quarter points, the electronic beam will be broken, registering the exact time on a board at the Judges' stand. The record will be visible to the grandstands. The minute a horse finishes, its time will be available.

The Visumatic is a new method of timing, having been invented only three years ago by Ira Mallot of Louisville, Ky. It is solely a timing device, and does not replace the photo finish, which also will be used at the Fair.

Another innovation at the Grand Circuit will be the placing of three patrol judges at strategic places around the track to be on the lookout for infractions of the regulations. Seated on pedestals, one of the judges will be at the half mile pole and one at each of the two turns, watching the race with field glasses. Each will have a red flag at hand. Should any infraction of the rules be observed, the patrol judge seeing it will signal a patrol car which will take him to the judges' stand to report the infraction.

Stock Car Races Have Top Drivers

The cream of Western and Central Missouri modified stock car drivers will battle it out on the Missouri State Fairgrounds' half-mile track Saturday night, Aug. 17, in a series of hotly-contested qualifying races for the state championship.

Fair Sec. M. C. (Colie) Ervin announced that a full field of 30 cars and five alternates has registered for the arc-lighted classic which kicks off the tussle for the highly-coveted state diadem.

International Motor Contest Assn. officials, who have been designated by Ervin to supervise the running of the fourth annual classic, explained that cars placing first through fifth in each of five 10-lap heats will qualify for participation in the championship "finals", scheduled Friday night, August 23.

Rounding out Saturday night's program will be a trophy dash open to the five heat race winners and a 25-lap junior championship feature bringing together heat race non-money winners.

Purses totaling $2,500 have been posted for each of the two nights, for a grand total of $5,000.

Heading the list of entries, according to fair officials, is Torch Aleshire of Moberly, winner of the past two state championship events and holder of the track record for modified stock cars — 12 minutes, 24 seconds for 25 laps.

Aleshire will be seeking his third consecutive victory. Among the 49 other drivers are several who have vowed that this year Aleshire's speeding Studebaker will eat their dust.

There's Tommy Mikels of Marshall, who trailed Aleshire to the wire last year and who has a 1956 Pontiac and five years of dirt-track savvy that says the orcher can't repeat.

And Art Dishinger of Kansas City, last year's fourth-place winner who is at home in any kind of race car — modified, sprint, midjet or late model U is another entry.

Others in last year's top ten who will be back this year are Ken

Taylor with a 1932 Buick sporting a 1956 engine, Eugene (Tubby) Mast of Moberly, who will pilot the car Aleshire drove to victory last year, and heat winners Walter Sorrels of Columbia, with a 1957 Pontiac; cigar-smoking Joe Dennis of Clinton, last year's CMRA champion; and still other veteran hands such as Henry Powell, Warsaw; Sonny Roberson, Windsor; and Don (Pistol) Gunn, Moberly's flying baker.

Kansas City has two other drivers entered, in addition to Dishinger. They are Lucky Niemeyer, a veteran of modified racing, and Bill Chennault, who drives any kind of race car with equal facility.

PLENTY OF THRILLS—Narrow escapes and smashing metal will highlight the many thrills to fans who attend the grandstand show on Saturday night, Aug. 24, at the Missouri State Fair. The "spectacle on wheels," as the show is sometime called, features the Trans-World Auto Daredevils, a troupe of former movie stuntmen who risk their lives for the fun of it. A special feature included in the show will be a group of stuntmen who perform feats while driving motorcycles in front of the grandstand.

The Missouri State Fair at Sedalia, Aug. 17 thru Aug. 25, will add an international flavor to its grandstand program when the Trans-World Auto Daredevils stage a thrill show on Saturday, Aug. 24. The first and only auto thrill troupe of stuntmen ever to visit Europe, the Trans-World Daredevils offer a spectacle of speed, fun, thrills and daring stunts which has brought acclaim in many foreign countries.

TV's Fame Hits Young Satirist

By WILLIAM GLOVER

NEW YORK (AP)—Carol Burnett, a girl suddenly hit by TV's lightning fame, keeps murmuring to herself, "It can't be me, it can't be me."

Miss Burnett (24 years, 5 feet 6", 120 pounds) has been in a whirl of appointments, phone calls, swarming agents and personal appearance bids since she stepped before the mike a few nights back and sang a song entitled "I Made a Fool of Myself Over John Foster Dulles."

Her vocal outburst and comic accompaniment on the NBC-TV Jack Paar show evoked some squawks from sensitive viewers. The State Department, however, reflected official amusement. The secretary himself asked for a recording, and Miss Burnett found herself clutching wildly to maintain business and personal aplomb.

Actually, Carol did the attention-grabbing song with some hesitancy.

"I guess I'm really a coward," explains the girl who hails from San Antonio via Los Angeles. Although the item had been a show-stopper since going into her act at the Blue Angel night club a month ago, Carol felt it might be misunderstood on television.

"I wouldn't ever want to offend anyone," adds the comedienne, who admits to voting Democratic. "Most of all I don't know anything about politics. When I worked the song up with Ken Welch—he's a writer who does all my material—all I wanted was a sort of generalized satire on all the teen-agers who keep swooning over crooners and movie heroes.

"That's what most of my act is—satirizing types of people, not individuals."

Miss Burnett has more trouping assets than the sudden advantage of overnight accidental attention. Show business veterans, before that night with Paar, had noted her with high favor. She is currently racking up the Blue Angel's longest run.

Incidentally it is the first night club Carol has ever been in. An outdoor girl, whose idea of bliss is a camping trip with her husband Don Saroyan, Miss Burnett neither smokes nor drinks anything stronger than ginger ale.

To Hold Central Missouri Beauty Pageant in '58

Entries are now being accepted for a "Miss Central Missouri" pageant, to be held in Jefferson City in 1958. It was announced today by the Jefferson City Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Entrants will compete for more than $1500 in prizes plus a chance to represent Central Missouri at the Miss Missouri pageant in St. Louis, an official preliminary of the famed Miss America pageant in Atlantic City, N.J.

Any young lady who is single, is or will be a high school graduate by Sept. 1, 1958, and is 18 and not more than 28 by that date is eligible if she is a resident of Cole, Boone, Callaway, Phelps, Monticello, Osage, Maries, Morgan, Benton, Miller, Camden, Cooper or Pettis Counties. Any student attending college in the area is eligible regardless of home residence. Those attending college outside the area are eligible but must have home residence within the area.

An entrant will compete in evening gown, swim suit, personality and talent. Officials explained that talent may be a definite one, such as singing, dancing, dramatics, etc., or an entrant may use any type talent she may possess—including art sketches or paintings, showing of films if she is a swimmer or water skier, a speech on her chosen career, fashion design or modeling, etc. She may use help if needed in performing her talent.

Entry blanks and detailed information may be obtained by writing P.O. Box 192, Jefferson City, Missouri.

Collect Over Five Tons of Clothing For Needy People

Over five tons of used clothing was collected by personnel of the St. Louis Navy Recruiting District during the month of July for needy people throughout the world, it was announced today. The recruiting station in Sedalia is a part of this district. In announcing the amount of clothing which was collected, Howard D. Jones of the Sedalia recruiting station expressed his appreciation to all those people who contributed to the success of the drive.

The drive was conducted as a part of World Clothing Week, which is sponsored by the Christian Children's Fund, Inc., with headquarters at 9728 Breckenridge Road, Overland, Mo. Normally, the collection of clothing is accomplished through school systems throughout the United States.

Destructive Flood Property losses in the Kansas River flood of July, 1950, were nearly one-third as much as all American flood losses from 1902 to 1949.

Feature For Kid's Day Television Star Pinky Lee To Be at the Fair Saturday

FAMILIAR, ISN'T HE?—Pinky Lee is an added feature attraction at the fair this year. He'll be here all day Saturday, beginning with the parade, and will act just as he has before on television. Millions have watched Pinky and his funny antics and he will now be available, in person, for a one-day stand of fun-filled entertainment.

That funny little guy, Pinky Lee, star of television and movies, will be on hand in person to meet all of his friends at the State Fair this year.

Saturday, Aug. 17, is Kid's Day at the fair. It will open with the big "Missouri on Parade." Pinky will be one of the main features in the parade and will act just as thousands have seen him act on television, running around and shaking hands with all his friends. Pinky doesn't have to know a person to be a friend. His congenial personality gives him the ability to walk up to people and make conversation as if he was a close friend. He's also noted for passing out candy and giving autographs whenever asked, which he reportedly will do all day Saturday. Here's a note to children: Don't be afraid to go up to Pinky. He likes all of you.

Pinky will be on hand to have a special act before the Big Car Auto Races that afternoon in front of the grandstand and in the Coliseum at the horse show that evening. "The Pinky Lee Show" television series gained world wide recognition as one of the most popular children's shows ever to be beamed over the networks. A large staff of secretaries was necessary just to open the fan mail flooding the offices of NBC each and every day and under the explicit instructions of Pinky, every letter received was answered.

"To make children laugh is my greatest satisfaction," confesses Pinky Lee. "A thorough understanding of children is necessary to entertain youngsters," relates the proud father of two. This comical little clown with his little checkered hat has worked many long hours on routines and dances to bring shouts of glee and enjoyment to children throughout the country. Now he is anxious to meet his ardent little "pen pals" personally and hopes to see each and every one at the Missouri State Fair.

Its Name The Pueblo Indians called the spot upon which the city of Santa Fe, N.M., now stands, Kiapoga, or "the place of the shell beads near the water."

Missouri Mule Has Prestige

Has Entries; Judging Set For Tuesday

Even though the machine is rapidly taking its place as the number one source of power on the farm, the Missouri mule will still hold a prominent place at the Missouri State Fair at Sedalia, August 17-25. Secretary of the fair, Col. Ervin said today that entries for the rapidly-vanishing farm animal are coming in at the fair and will be judged on Tuesday, August 20. Entries closed July 30, said Ervin.

$1,900 in prize money will be awarded to entries in 21 classes according to superintendent of the mule department Warren Fuqua. Rollo Jones of Calhoun, Mo., will judge the mule department.

Though the number of mules on Missouri farms is diminishing, says superintendent Fuqua, they still assume an important part in agriculture and Missouri still leads in the breeding of top animals. The state became prominent in the use and breeding of mules and has been since 1822 when Jacks and Jennets were brought from an expedition to Santa Fe, N. M., and became the founding stock of today's mule.

History tells us the first mule to set foot on the soil of Missouri came from Mexico. However, the Mexican mule, originally from Spain, proved inadequate for the hard, endless labor of the American frontier, and the now famous Missouri mule was invented. Kentuckians sent blooded jacks and Jennets into the state, and Ohio farmers sent large, strong mares. After the mule colt was foaled, high grass, limestone springs, and the expert handling of Missouri farmers did the rest. The result was a large-boned, shambling animal, weighing between 1,100 and 1,200 pounds, an animal which had no peer.

The proverbial Missouri mule was uppermost in the minds of Missourians about 1825. Certainly he was the talk of the town in Columbia, for on December 8, 1825, there was published what appears to have been the first advertisement of a "jack" being offered at a public sale in Missouri. He was advertised to be sold in Columbia and was the property of Thomas D. Grant of Columbia. The jack's name was Tontalegro, a high-sounding name for a mule. People called him the Spanish Horse, and everyone was dubious about his real origin and what name would fitly describe him.

The quaint working of an advertisement that appeared about this time in the "Intelligencer" of Franklin, Mo., is sufficient proof that neither the men who trafficked in these mules nor the general public were yet educated as to their origin. A reproduction of

"WE'RE PROUD OF THEM"—and they should be. These 4-H'ers are displaying some of their fine bulls for judging. Each year they take much time and patience to prepare their animal entries for judging... and the results are usually rewarding.

the notice reads: "Spanish Horses — The subscriber has for sale Five Jennets and One Jack. He may be found at the house of Mr. John Bloy, upstairs."

The Missouri mule has enriched the American language; no animal has inspired so much profanity, so much concentrated vituperation. Either you laugh at a mule or you swear at him. No poet has sung his fame and few painters have cared for his unhandsome profile. He is purely a utilitarian beast, a creation of man when he diverted one of nature's laws to cross two noble creatures, the horse and the ass, to make a hybrid.

A Missouri mule is said to be prone to eat almost anything rather than starve. He will find enough to eat where any other animal, save a goat, would starve to death. Straw, pine boards, the bark of trees, grain sacks, pieces of old leather and old felt hats go down the hatch when the mule is hungry. Out of the Civil War comes the story of a team of mules that ate a government wagon.

But a Missourian who had worked for fifty years summed it all up when he was asked the secret of handling the animals. "When you first get a mule," he said, "you bat hell out of him until he gets afraid of you. Then you treat him nice and make friends with him and he'll do anything for you."

However, he added, "you must not think hard of a mule if he kicks you. It's his way of showing that he likes you."

Hofstetters In Move to Farm Near Fortuna

FORTUNA—Mr. and Mrs. Silas Hofstetter have moved from California, Mo., to their farm southeast of Fortuna. Mr. and Mrs. Don Bookout and daughter Gloria, who have been living on the farm of her parents, have moved to Tipton, Mo., and Mrs. Weaver Morgan and granddaughter Edith Ann Morgan, near California, Mo. Mr. and Mrs. Jess Rowles of Windsor were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Tankersley and family. Dale Tankersley was severely burned on his leg recently.

Several from here attended the Hofstetter reunion on Sunday at Liberty Park in Sedalia. Miss Donna Embry, Kansas City, is visiting in the home of her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Hofstetter.

Dr. Curtis Hutcherson, Warrensburg, was a guest speaker at the Baptist Church here Sunday morning and evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Akins and Teri, Grandview, were guests over the weekend of his parents Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Akins.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Heincy and Marylyn, Bellflower, Calif., are guests of relatives here. Mrs. Heincy is the former Miss Faye Maupin.

Pueblo Bonito, western New Mexico, reached its "golden age" in 1967, one year after the Normandy invasion of England.

SENSATION SERENADE is the name of the very nice bay mare pictured here and being shown this summer throughout central Missouri for William Woods College by Miss Linda Atkinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Atkinson of Fulton.

She is a student of Miss Uma Heintz, Director of Equitation at the College. Linda is a Junior at Fulton High School and the granddaughter of Dr. and Mrs. D. P. Dyer, Sedalia.

Miss Atkinson will ride the College's fine equitation horse, Mary of Hellhaven on Sunday, Aug. 18, the first night of the horse show. She won the trophy and blue ribbon in the equitation class at the Cole County Horse Show last week, and fourth in a class of twenty-two the week before at the Boone County Horse Show.

Both of the horses are used during the school year by the advanced students. The College owns 14 horses and the department is always well filled.

In addition to riding on Sunday, Miss Atkinson will also be riding in the horse show during Fair Week.

In connection with the appearance of Miss Atkinson it is interesting to note that her father is to be an announcer at the horse shows.

During the fair he, Mrs. Atkinson and two children, Linda and John will be guests of Dr. and Mrs. D. P. Dyer at their home on South Grand. Another son, John Atkinson, in Chicago, will be unable to be here for the state's exposition.

Alfalfa Fields Need Lime Well in Advance Of the Seeding Date

Turning from livestock to crop production, it's well known that alfalfa needs lots of lime to produce well. And John Falloon, University of Missouri extension soils specialist, says lime must be applied well in advance of alfalfa seeding if it's to be most effective. In fact, fields going to alfalfa should be limed at least six months before the seeding date.

Many fields limed a few years ago need additional lime now to grow the best alfalfa. Falloon says that in such cases, lime can be added shortly before alfalfa is seeded.

A soil test along with a history of past crops and fertilization will give the best guide for liming. Falloon says lime applications are often needed a year in advance of alfalfa. So it pays to plan ahead for future seedings of alfalfa.

4-H Fair Exhibits to Equal And Exceed Those Last Year

The exhibiting of the projects raised or produced has long been a part of 4-H work. The 4-H Club department of the Missouri State Fair provides opportunity for club members in the various counties to exhibit their livestock, vegetables, woodwork, dairy animals, clothing, foods and other articles on a state-wide basis. Exhibiting such articles stimulates pride among the members, parents, and their leaders in their accomplishments. It also encourages high standards.

The 4-H Club department also serves as a source of information to the general public on the achievement of boys and girls. Although most 4-H members are rural boys and girls, the number of them living in urban areas is increasing. Their exhibits at the State Fair gives the public an opportunity to see the material results of one of the largest and most comprehensive youth programs operating in the state.

Only the best is exhibited at the State Fair. Therefore each county is given a quota for the maximum number of entries they may make in any given class. Exhibit space and facilities would not be adequate if 4-H boys and girls tried to exhibit all of their products. This means that the spectators visiting the 4-H club exhibits, see work and accomplishments representative of a tremendous number of articles and products raised or produced by club members.

In 1957, 4-H exhibits are expected to equal those in number of 1956 in all classes and to exceed in some. The 1956 exhibits totaled 3,498. Of this number 2,729 were in home economics, including clothing, food preparation, food preservation, home furnishings, home grounds and home service.

In those exhibits classed as agricultural, 101 were made in vegetables, 200 in woodwork and electricity, 11 in booths, 76 in swine, 146 in dairy, 127 in beef, 23 in sheep and 68 in Chicken of Tomorrow.

The State Skilled Tractor Operators Event will again give 4-H members enrolled in tractor maintenance an opportunity to demonstrate their efficiency and safety in tractor maintenance and of tractor driving. This event is for county winner. In 1956, 23 entrants participated in the state event. Plans are underway to conduct this in such a manner that the public will have opportunity to better see this event this year.

Robert S. Clough, State 4-H Club Leader, is Superintendent of the

4-H Club Department. Members of the State 4-H Club Staff serve as Assistant Superintendents in charge of the various exhibits and events.

Sedalia Once Was 'Sedville'; Boonville Fair

Sedalia calls herself the "Queen City of the Prairie," but to most Missourians the city is better known as the home of the Missouri State Fair.

During Aug. 17-25, over a half-million people are expected to be here to attend the many attractions.

There are seven Sedalias in the United States, but the Missouri one is by far the largest, about 25,000 in population.

Sedalia is not an Indian name and was not named after another Sedalia. It had its origin in the nickname of a girl named Sarah.

Gen. George R. Smith, one-time adjutant general of the state, founded the city. While he was looking for a suitable name, his daughter Sarah Elvira, playfully suggested he name it after her.

The general thought it a good idea, but instead of Sarah, used her nickname "Sed" and tacked a "ville" on the end.

However, Josiah Dent, a neighbor and friend of the Smiths, all who lived in Georgetown, offered the suggestion that Sedville would soon become something more magnificent than a mere "ville," and besides Sedalia would sound better. So Sedalia it became and has been since.

When word arrived that the Pacific Railroad would be built through that part of the state, but that it would miss Georgetown, which was the second seat of Pettis County, Smith appealed to his fellow townsmen to move the town. His idea was very coldly received and he predicted that he would see the day when bats and owls would make their home in the Georgetown courthouse.

He bought a tract of land three miles to the south and filed a plat in 1857. As fate would have it, Sedalia later became the county seat and Smith did live to see the birds take over the courthouse in Georgetown.

The Pacific Railroad, which later became the Missouri Pacific, came and Sedalia's start was made as the queen city of the Prairie. She suffered the period's usual growing pains and, to her credit, never quite outlived them.

Once a group of Sedalians tried to secure the moving of the state capital. Another tried to wrest the University of Missouri from Columbia, and as late as 1941 Sedalia tried to get the headquarters of the State Employment Commission.

While she failed to get these facilities, she succeeded in the field of industrial attraction. Both the Missouri Pacific and the MKT railroads established shops here. Thus Sedalia's position as a rail center, and the abundance of coal and natural gas available, attracted industries.

One of our more recent large additions to industrial living is the Pittsburgh-Corning glass factory. Other Sedalia firms turn out shoes, overalls, foods, disinfectants, prefabricated houses, furniture, fans, and insulating materials. Some of the leading chicken hatcheries are also located here.

Residentially, Sedalia has also boomed. Many building permits have been issued since 1950 and many new additions have been added for three primary reasons: its industrial attraction, its mode of pleasant living, and the permanent establishment of Whiteman Air Force Base at Knob Noster.

Boonville in Cooper County, not Sedalia in Pettis County, was the home of Missouri's first fair. This fact is brought out by Floyd Shoemaker, secretary of the Missouri Historical Society.

Early in 1853, the Missouri Legislature appropriated $1,000 for premiums and the first state fair was held at Boonville in October. While Central Missourians brought many fine exhibits to the fair, it was not a financial success and promoters had to secure funds to meet a $3,000 deficit. Soon after an idea of a fair was dropped.

Almost half a century passed before further action for a fair in Missouri was taken. It was in 1899 that the Missouri State Board of Agriculture, which also became the State Fair board ex-officio, established a state fair at Sedalia and obtained sufficient money to finance operation and guarantee prizes. And, officially, the first actual Missouri State Fair was held at Sedalia in the fall of 1901.

After a destructive fire on the grounds in 1904, the fair board decided to eliminate temporary buildings and erect permanent fire proof structures. During the following years additional buildings were added until now there are well over 60 on a 276-acre site.

Thus fair history progressed. This year's visitors are promised much entertainment. Along with the fair, note the contrast between "past Sedville" and "present Sedalia," with its 175 miles of streets, many of which have been recently resurfaced, its $400,000 courthouse, its Carnegie Library, 100 acres of parks and two swimming pools.

Missionaries Are Deported From Country

Ten American missionaries were deported to Puerto Rico from the Dominican Republic Aug. 5. Walter H. Meyer, presiding minister of the Sedalia congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, announced recently. Fare was paid by the Dominican government and the missionaries were escorted under arrest to the plane.

Action came on the heels of "a wave of persecution equaled only in Communist countries" climaxed by a total ban proscribing the work of Bible education conducted by the Witnesses in the Dominican Republic since 1945.

An ultimatum to the Christian missionaries to renounce all association with the organization and cease communication with their Brooklyn, N. Y. office or leave the country was made last month by Major General Arturo Espailat, Minister of Security, whom the U. S. government has sought to question in the disappearance of Dr. Jesus de Galindez. Some of the missionaries have been in the country for 11 years.

According to official news sources of the Dominican Republic, proscription of the Christian activity of Jehovah's Witnesses was legalized by President Hector Trujillo on July 25 and the law carries penalties of from one to three months imprisonment with fines of from $30 to $100. It was announced that over $1 million had been appropriated by the Dominican government to enforce the ban.

Meyer said a full scale campaign to restrict the religious freedom of the Witnesses has been underway since July 1. Kingdom Hall meeting places had been ordered closed and about 250 of Jehovah's Witnesses were brought in for questioning. The Witnesses have been subjected to beatings and violence by police and prison guards in an effort to make them renounce all association with the movement, Meyer stated. About 50 are now in prison, some with sentences of two years.

STARTLING—Visitors to the "Atoms for Peace" exhibit at the Missouri State Fair, August 17-25 may be startled when they come face-to-face with what appears to be a "man from Mars," but what they actually see is a dummy dressed in a "balloon suit" worn by personnel in atomic-energy research installations when they are called upon to carry out operations in a radioactive atmosphere. The exhibit is one of the traveling exhibitions presented by the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission in the interest of providing the public with up-to-date information on developments in nuclear-energy research and technology.

FIVE YEARS AGO this picture of destruction was very much in the present tense. It was at the 1932 State Fair when a middle-of-the-night tornado ripped a devastating path across Sedalia's southwest corner. Much of the grounds was destroyed, the Cetlin Wilson Carnival receiving the most vicious blow. Ground reconstruction was started immediately and within 24 hours operations in many departments had resumed. Don't let this view of the carnival be misleading. Cetlin-Wilson's "World on Parade" has reappeared the past three years and will once again be here, featuring all new shows, four new rides, new people and new fun.

THE CHAMP—This giant steer has traveled some 22,000 miles and will take a nine-day rest at the fair. He's a little oversized according to most calculations—12x19x8 feet. Produced by the Ralston Purina Company, it is a model of explanation of different life processes of the steer. Visitors are invited to travel through him and learn interesting and informative facts about his life.

Display Model Steer Showing Life Process

The Champ, one of the most remarkable exhibits in agriculture, will be on display at the Missouri State Fair, Sedalia, from Aug. 17 through Aug. 25. Produced by the Ralston Purina Co., it is dedicated to promoting better understanding of the cattleman's business of producing beef for our nation's people.

Visitors may walk through the giant steer's body and see realistic demonstrations of how feed and roughage are made into beef. People enter the animal by doors that open out of the neck.

Inside, they see how the vital organs of a steer's body work in the production of beef. They also see demonstrations of how a cow makes milk and how an unborn calf develops from a 30-day to a 9-month embryo. So lifelike is the exhibit that the body gives off the sound of the steer's breathing and heartbeat.

The Champ stands 12 feet tall, 19 feet long, and nearly 8 feet wide. It weighs 4,000 pounds without the tractor and trailer. The exterior was built in 29 different parts, then assembled out of doors. Leading veterinarians and animal nutritionists assisted in making the interior displays.

Since the Champ was introduced in July, 1956, it has traveled some 22,000 miles from the Pacific to the Atlantic Coast and from Canada to the Gulf of Mexico, for showings at major fairs, livestock shows and other events. Some 650,000 people have walked through the Champ's body to learn more about the mysteries of cattle production. Many times that number have seen the exhibit from the outside.

Seeks to End Negro Boycott At Tuskegee

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A temporary injunction was issued yesterday at the request of Atty. Gen. John Patterson which seeks to end the two-month Negro boycott of white merchants at Tuskegee.

It was granted by Circuit Judge Will O. Walton.

The injunction is directed at the Tuskegee Civic Assn., its officers, agents or followers.

The Negro organization and its supporters are restrained from "using any force, threats, intimidation and coercion to prevent any person from trading with or buying goods and services from any merchant in Tuskegee and Macon County."

Negroes outnumber white persons about 7-1 in Macon County, of which Tuskegee is the county seat.

C. G. Gomillion, president of the TCA, said he will inform members of the organization about the injunction and "urge all members to comply with or abide by the restraining order."

"As far as I know," he added, "there has been no intimidation or use of force to keep Negroes from patronizing any merchant—certainly not on instructions from the association or any of its officials."

Patterson said last night that his investigation into the boycott indicated that it is "calculated to

'Atoms For Peace' To Be Displayed In Missouri Building

Persons attending the Missouri State Fair at Sedalia August 17-25, will have an opportunity to see the Atom in action at an "Atoms for Peace" exhibit sponsored by the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission. The special display will take up the south half of the Missouri Building on the Fairgrounds.

The "Atoms for Peace" exhibit has been prepared by the Commission as one of its programs designed to bring the latest developments in all fields of nuclear energy to the attention and understanding of the general public.

The main part of the exhibit, which occupies some 7000 feet of presentation space, consists of more than 80 panel displays, several of which are animated. In addition, the exhibit features several "island" displays showing outstanding developments in nuclear-energy technology: a 16-foot model of a nuclear power plant for the production of electricity, a "balloon suit" worn by personnel working in a radioactive environment, and a pair of mechanical "hands" which enables researchers to manipulate radioactive materials from the outside of heavily shielded cells.

to destroy the economy of an entire city and to destroy the means of livelihood for a large segment of Macon County."

The boycott began June 26 after a mass meeting of the TCA called in protest of a local bill which has since become law revising Tuskegee's city limits to exclude all except 10 of the 420 Negro voters.

to see the "Atoms for Peace" exhibit. "It will be their chance to see a simple, dramatic, and engrossing cross section of the Atomic Age—its past, present and future," said Ervin.

Missouri Mule Has Prestige

Has Entries; Judging Set For Tuesday

Even though the machine is rapidly taking its place as the number one source of power on the farm, the Missouri Mule will still hold a prominent place at the Missouri State Fair at Sedalia, August 17-25, Secretary of the fair, Col. Ervin said today that entries for the rapidly-vanishing farm animal are coming in at the fair and will be judged on Tuesday, August 20. Entries closed July 30, said Ervin.

$1,900 in prize money will be awarded to entries in 21 classes according to superintendent of the mule department Warren Fuqua. Rollo Jones of Calhoun, Mo., will judge the mule department.

Though the number of mules on Missouri farms is diminishing, says superintendent Fuqua, they still assume an important part in agriculture and Missouri still leads in the breeding of top animals. The state became prominent in the use and breeding of mules and has been since 1822 when Jacks and Jennets were brought back from an expedition to Santa Fe, N. M., and became the founding stock of today's mule.

History tells us the first mule to set foot on the soil of Missouri came from Mexico. However, the Mexican mule, originally from Spain, proved inadequate for the hard, endless labor of the American frontier, and the now famous Missouri mule was invented. Kentuckians sent blooded jacks and jennets into the state, and Ohio farmers sent large, strong mares. After the mule colt was foaled, high grass, limestone springs, and the expert handling of Missouri farmers did the rest. The result was a large-boned, shuffling animal, weighing between 1,100 and 1,200 pounds, an animal which had no peer.

The proverbial Missouri mule was uppermost in the minds of Missourians about 1825. Certainly he was the talk of the town in Columbia, for on December 8, 1825, there was published what appears to have been the first advertisement of a "jack" being offered at a public sale in Missouri. He was advertised to be sold in Columbia and was the property of Thomas D. Grant of Columbia. The jack's name was Tontalegro, a high-sounding name for a mule. People called him the Spanish Horse, and everyone was dubious about his real origin and what name would fitly describe him.

The quaint working of an advertisement that appeared about this time in the "Intelligencer" of Franklin, Mo., is sufficient proof that neither the men who trafficked in these mules nor the general public were yet educated as to their origin. A reproduction of much time and patience to prepare their animal entries for judging . . . and the results are usually rewarding.

"WE'RE PROUD OF THEM"—and they should be. These 4-H'ers are displaying some of their fine bulls for judging. Each year they take

the notice reads: "Spanish Horses—The subscriber has for sale Five Jennets and One Jack. He may be found at the house of Mr. John Bloy, upstairs."

The Missouri mule has enriched the American language; no animal has inspired so much profanity, so much concentrated vituperation. Either you laugh at a mule or you swear at him. No poet has sung his fame and few painters have cared for his unhandsome profile. He is purely a utilitarian beast, a creation of man when he diverted one of nature's laws to cross two noble creatures, the horse and the ass, to make a hybrid.

A Missouri mule is said to be prone to eat almost anything rather than starve. He will find enough to eat where any other animal, save a goat, would starve to death. Straw, pine boards, the bark of trees, grain sacks, pieces of old leather and old felt hats go down the hatch when the mule is hungry. Out of the Civil War comes the story of a team of mules that ate a government wagon.

But a Missourian who had worked for fifty years summed it all up when he was asked the secret of handling the animals. "When you first get a mule," he said, "you bat hell out of him until he gets afraid of you. Then you treat him nice and make friends with him and he'll do anything for you."

However, he added, "you must not think hard of a mule if he kicks you. It's his way of showing that he likes you."

And so goes the Missouri mule. But perhaps one may prefer to draw his own conclusions after seeing the hardy animals at the 1937 Missouri State Fair at Sedalia.

Miss Atkinson will ride the College's fine equitation horse, Mary of Hellhaven on Sunday, Aug. 18, the first night of the horse show. She won the trophy and blue ribbon in the equitation class at the Cole County Horse Show last week, and fourth in a class of twenty-two the week before at the Boone County Horse Show.

Both of the horses are used during the school year by the advanced students. The College owns 14 horses and the department is always well filled.

In addition to riding on Sunday, Miss Atkinson will also be riding in the horse show during Fair Week.

In connection with the appearance of Miss Atkinson it is interesting to note that her father is to be an announcer at the horse shows.

During the fair he, Mrs. Atkinson and two children, Linda and John will be guests of Dr. and Mrs. D. P. Dyer at their home on South Grand. Another son, John Atkinson, in Chicago, will be unable to be here for the state's exposition.

Alfalfa Fields Need Lime Well in Advance Of the Seeding Date

Turning from livestock to crop production, it's well known that alfalfa needs lots of lime to produce well. And John Falloon, University of Missouri extension soils specialist, says lime must be applied well in advance of alfalfa seeding if it's to be most effective. In fact, fields going to alfalfa should be limed at least six months before the seeding date.

Many fields limed a few years ago need additional lime now to grow the best alfalfa. Falloon says that in such cases, lime can be added shortly before alfalfa is seeded.

A soil test along with a history of past crops and fertilization will give the best guide for liming. Falloon says lime applications are often needed a year in advance of alfalfa. So it pays to plan ahead for future seedings of alfalfa.

4-H Fair Exhibits to Equal And Exceed Those Last Year

The exhibiting of the projects raised or produced has long been a part of 4-H work. The 4-H Club department of the Missouri State Fair provides opportunity for club members in the various counties to exhibit their livestock, vegetables, woodwork, dairy animals, clothing, foods and other articles on a state-wide basis. Exhibiting such articles stimulates pride among the members, parents, and their leaders in their accomplishments. It also encourages high standards.

The 4-H Club department also serves as a source of information to the general public on the achievement of boys and girls. Although most 4-H members are rural boys and girls, the number of them living in urban areas is increasing. Their exhibits at the State Fair gives the public an opportunity to see the material results of one of the largest and most comprehensive youth programs operating in the state.

Only the best is exhibited at the State Fair. Therefore each county is given a quota for the maximum number of entries they may make in any given class. Exhibit space and facilities would not be adequate if 4-H boys and girls tried to exhibit all of their products. This means that the spectators visiting the 4-H club exhibits, see work and accomplishments representative of a tremendous number of articles and products raised or produced by club members.

In 1937, 4-H exhibits are expected to equal those in number of 1936 in all classes and to exceed in some. The 1936 exhibits totaled 3,498. Of this number 2,729 were in home economics, including clothing, food preparation, food preservation, home furnishings, home grounds and home service.

In those exhibits classed as agricultural, 101 were made in vegetables, 200 in woodwork and electricity, 11 in booths, 76 in swine, 146 in dairy, 127 in beef, 23 in sheep and 68 in Chicken of Tomorrow.

The State Skilled Tractor Operators Event will again give 4-H members enrolled in tractor maintenance an opportunity to demonstrate their efficiency and safety in tractor maintenance and of tractor driving. This event is for county winner. In 1936, 23 entrants participated in the state event. Plans are underway to conduct this in such a manner that the public will have opportunity to better see this event this year.

Robert S. Clough, State 4-H Club Leader, is Superintendent of the

4-H Club Department. Members of the State 4-H Club Staff serve as Assistant Superintendents in charge of the various exhibits and events.

Gen. Smith Paved Early Route for State Fair's Home

Sedalia Once Was 'Sedville'; Boonville Fair

Sedalia calls herself the "Queen City of the Prairie," but to most Missourians the city is better known as the home of the Missouri State Fair.

During Aug. 17-25, over a half-million people are expected to be here to attend the many attractions.

There are seven Sedalias in the United States, but the Missouri one is by far the largest, about 25,000 in population.

Sedalia is not an Indian name and was not named after another Sedalia. It had its origin in the nickname of a girl named Sarah.

Gen. George R. Smith, one-time adjutant general of the state, founded the city. While he was looking for a suitable name, his daughter Sarah Elvira, playfully suggested he name it after her.

The general thought it a good idea, but instead of Sarah, used her nickname "Sed" and tacked a "ville" on the end.

However, Josiah Dent, a neighbor and friend of the Smiths, all who lived in Georgetown, offered the suggestion that Sedville would soon become something more magnificent than a mere "ville" and besides Sedalia would sound better. So Sedalia it became and has been since.

When word arrived that the Pacific Railroad would be built through that part of the state, but that it would miss Georgetown, which was the second seat of Pettis County, Smith appealed to his fellow townsmen to move the town. His idea was very coldly received and he predicted that he would see the day when bats and owls would make their home in the Georgetown courthouse.

He bought a tract of land three miles to the south and filed a plat in 1857. As fate would have it, Sedalia later became the county seat and Smith did live to see the birds take over the courthouse in Georgetown.

The Pacific Railroad, which later became the Missouri Pacific, came and Sedalia's start was made as the queen city of the Prairie. She suffered the period's usual growing pains and, to her credit, never quite outlived them.

Once a group of Sedalians tried to secure the moving of the state capitol. Another tried to wrest the University of Missouri from Columbia, and as late as 1941 Sedalia tried to get the headquarters of the State Employment Commission.

While she failed to get these facilities, she succeeded in the field of industrial attraction. Both the Missouri Pacific and the MKT railroads established shops here. Thus Sedalia's position as a rail center, and the abundance of coal and natural gas available, attracted industries.

One of our more recent large additions to industrial living is the Pittsburgh-Corning glass factory. Other Sedalia firms turn out shoes, overalls, foods, disinfectants, prefabricated houses, furniture, fans, and insulating materials. Some of the leading chicken hatcheries are also located here.

Residentially, Sedalia has also boomed. Many building permits have been issued since 1950 and many new additions have been added for three primary reasons: its industrial attraction, its mode of pleasant living, and the permanent establishment of White-man Air Force Base at Knob Noster.

Boonville in Cooper County, not Sedalia in Pettis County, was the home of Missouri's first fair. This fact is brought out by Floyd Shoemaker, secretary of the Missouri Historical Society.

Early in 1853, the Missouri Legislature appropriated $1,000 for premiums and the first state fair was held at Boonville in October. While Central Missourians brought many fine exhibits to the fair, it was not a financial success and promoters had to secure funds to meet a $3,000 deficit. Soon after any idea of a fair was dropped.

Almost half a century passed before further action for a fair in Missouri was taken. It was in 1899 that the Missouri State Board of Agriculture, which also became the State Fair board ex-officio, established a state fair at Sedalia and obtained sufficient money to finance operation and guarantee prizes. And, officially, the first actual Missouri State Fair was held at Sedalia in the fall of 1901.

After a destructive fire on the grounds in 1904, the fair board decided to eliminate temporary buildings and erect permanent fire proof structures. During the following years additional buildings were added until now there are well over 60 on a 276-acre site.

Thus fair history progressed. This year's visitors are promised much entertainment. Along with the fair, note the contrast between "past Sedville" and "present Sedalia," with its 175 miles of streets, many of which have been recently resurfaced, its $400,000 courthouse, its Carnegie Library, 100 acres of parks and two swimming pools.

Missionaries Are Deported From Country

Ten American missionaries were deported to Puerto Rico from the Dominican Republic Aug. 3. Walter H. Meyer, presiding minister of the Sedalia congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, announced recently. Fare was paid by the Dominican government and the missionaries were escorted under arrest to the plane.

Action came on the heels of "a wave of persecution equaled only in Communist countries" climaxed by a total ban proscribing the work of Bible education conducted by the Witnesses in the Dominican Republic since 1945.

An ultimatum to the Christian missionaries to renounce all association with the organization and cease communication with their Brooklyn, N. Y. office or leave the country was made last month by Major General Arturo Espailat, Minister of Security, whom the U. S. government has sought to question in the disappearance of Dr. Jesus de Galindez. Some of the missionaries have been in the country for 11 years.

According to official news sources of the Dominican Republic, proscription of the Christian activity of Jehovah's Witnesses was legalized by President Hector Trujillo on July 25 and the law carries penalties of from one to three months imprisonment with fines of from $30 to $100. It was announced that over $1 million had been appropriated by the Dominican government to enforce the ban.

Meyer said a full scale campaign to restrict the religious freedom of the Witnesses has been underway since July 1. Kingdom Hall meeting places had been ordered closed and about 250 of Jehovah's Witnesses were brought in for questioning. The Witnesses have been subjected to beatings and violence by police and prison guards in an effort to make them renounce all association with the movement. Meyer stated. About 50 are now in prison, some with sentences of two years.

STARTLING—Visitors to the "Atoms for Peace" exhibit at the Missouri State Fair, August 17-25 may be startled when they come face-to-face with what appears to be a "man from Mars," but what they actually see is a dummy dressed in a "balloon suit" worn by personnel in atomic-energy research installations when they are called upon to carry out operations in a radioactive atmosphere. The exhibit is one of the traveling exhibitions presented by the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission in the interest of providing the public with up-to-date information on developments in Nuclear-energy research and technology.

FIVE YEARS AGO this picture of destruction was very much in the present tense. It was at the 1952 State Fair when a middle-of-the-night tornado ripped a devastating path across Sedalia's southwest corner. Much of the grounds was destroyed, the Cettin Wilson Carnival receiving the most vicious blow. Ground reconstruction was started immediately and within 24 hours operations in many departments had resumed. Don't let this view of the carnival be misleading. Cettin-Wilson's "World on Parade" has reappeared the past three years and will once again be here, featuring all new shows, four new rides, new people and new fun.

THE CHAMP—This giant steer has traveled some 22,000 miles and will take a nine-day rest at the fair. He's a little oversized according to most calculations—12x19x8 feet. Produced by the Ralston Purina Company, it is a model of explanation of different life processes of the steer. Visitors are invited to travel through him and learn interesting and informative facts about his life.

Display Model Steer Showing Life Process

The Champ, one of the most remarkable exhibits in agriculture, will be on display at the Missouri State Fair, Sedalia, from Aug. 17 through Aug. 25. Produced by the Ralston Purina Co., it is dedicated to promoting better understanding of the cattleman's business of producing beef for our nation's people.

Visitors may walk through the giant steer's body and see realistic demonstrations of how feed and roughage are made into beef. People enter the animal by doors that open out of the neck.

Inside, they see how the vital organs of a steer's body work in the production of beef. They also see demonstrations of how a cow makes milk and how an unborn calf develops from a 30-day to a 9-month embryo. So lifelike is the exhibit that the body gives off the sound of the steer's breathing and heartbeat.

The Champ stands 12 feet tall, 19 feet long, and nearly 8 feet wide. It weighs 4,000 pounds without the tractor and trailer. The exterior was built in 29 different parts, then assembled out of doors. Leading veterinarians and animal nutritionists assisted in making the interior displays.

Since the Champ was introduced in July, 1956, it has traveled some 22,000 miles from the Pacific to the Atlantic Coast and from Canada to the Gulf of Mexico, for showings at major fairs, livestock shows and other events. Some 650,000 people have walked through the Champ's body to learn more about the mysteries of cattle production. Many times that number have seen the exhibit from the outside.

Seeks to End Negro Boycott At Tuskegee

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (P) — A temporary injunction was issued yesterday at the request of Atty. Gen. John Patterson which seeks to end the two-month Negro boycott of white merchants at Tuskegee.

It was granted by Circuit Judge Will O. Walton.

The injunction is directed at the Tuskegee Civic Assn., its officers, agents or followers.

The Negro organization and its supporters are restrained from "using any force, threats, intimidation and coercion to prevent any person from trading with or buying goods and services from any merchant in Tuskegee and Macon County."

Negroes outnumber white persons about 7-1 in Macon County, of which Tuskegee is the county seat.

C. G. Gomillion, president of the TCA, said he will inform members of the organization about the injunction and "urge all members to comply with or abide by the restraining order."

"As far as I know," he added, "there has been no intimidation or use of force to keep Negroes from patronizing any merchant—certainly not on instructions from the association or any of its officials."

Patterson said last night that his investigation into the boycott indicated that it is "calculated to

'Atoms For Peace' To Be Displayed In Missouri Building

Persons attending the Missouri State Fair at Sedalia August 17-25, will have an opportunity to see the Atom in action at an "Atoms for Peace" exhibit sponsored by the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission. The special display will take up the south half of the Missouri Building on the Fairgrounds.

The "Atoms for Peace" exhibit has been prepared by the Commission as one of its programs designed to bring the latest developments in all fields of nuclear energy to the attention and understanding of the general public.

The main part of the exhibit, which occupies some 7000 feet of presentation space, consists of more than 80 panel displays, several of which are animated. In addition, the exhibit features several "island" displays showing outstanding developments in nuclear-energy technology; a 16-foot model of a nuclear power plant for the production of electricity; a "balloon suit" worn by personnel working in a radioactive environment, and a pair of mechanical "hands" which enables researchers to manipulate radioactive materials from the outside of heavily shielded cells.

The exhibit is one of several operated for the Atomic Energy Commission by the American Museum of Atomic Energy, Oak Ridge, Tenn.—the only atomic-energy museum in the world.

Fair Secretary Colie Ervin said every Missourian attending the fair should make a special point to see the "Atoms for Peace" exhibit. "It will be their chance to see a simple, dramatic, and engrossing cross section of the Atomic Age—its past, present and future," said Ervin.

Lengthy Migration
The land bird with the longest migration route probably is the nighthawk. It migrates from south-ern Yukon and Newfoundland south through the Greater Antilles and Central America; winters in South America from Brazil south to Argentina.

U. S. Indictment Names Racketeer Dio and Pal

AGREE TO SPLIT—$5,000,000—Donna Atwood, 32, former skating star, and her husband, John H. Harris, producer of Ice Capades, pose after agreeing on terms of the division of Harris' estimated $5,000,000 estate. The agreement reached in Hollywood, Calif., averted a bitter divorce battle and cleared the way for Miss Atwood, a former Newton, Kan., girl, to seek a default judgment in the near future. Details of the property settlement were not disclosed. (AP Wirephoto).

U. S. Seeks to Jail Racketeer On Tax Charge

NEW YORK, Aug. 15—(AP)—The government set out anew today to try to put labor racketeer Johnny Dio behind federal prison bars, this time on income tax evasion charges. Indicted with him was his hulking henchman and bodyguard, Teddy Ray.

The State of New York has convicted Dio three different times. He currently is being held in Tombs City Prison awaiting sentence next month on the third conviction, a labor shakedown deal. He could get two years on this.

However, the federal government never has hung as much as a single day in prison on the suave 43-year-old Dio. Last May its case against him in the acid-blinding of labor writer Victor Riesel blew up.

Income tax charges long have been a favorite federal device against racketeers it could not otherwise imprison. The late Chicago mobster Al Capone was put behind bars in such a manner.

Racketeer Frank Costello currently is appealing a federal income tax evasion sentence.

Dio and the 44-year-old Ray, a 240-pounder about as wide as he is tall, were witnesses earlier this month before a Senate Labor Rackets Committee in Washington. Both took refuge in the Fifth Amendment against self-incrimination and gave the committee not even so much as the time of day.

Dio, whose real name is John Dioguardi, was accused in the new federal indictment of failing to report $63,333 in income and dodging payment of $20,168 in taxes in 1950, 1951, and 1952.

Ray—his real name is Theodore Rii—was charged with evading $407 in income taxes in 1950.

Conviction on all counts could make Dio liable to 20 years in prison and Ray 10 years.

Record Number Twisters During First Half Year

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 15—(AP)—A record high of 702 tornadoes, which killed 130 persons, were recorded in the United States during the first six months of 1957.

The total compared to the previous high of 654 during the first six months of 1955, the U. S. Weather Bureau said in a report issued today. The record tornado total for a year is 870 set in 1955.

"Of the 702 tornadoes reported this year through June 30," the bureau said, "Texas had 162, Oklahoma 97, Kansas 58, Nebraska 47."

The biggest killer was the twister which struck the southern suburbs of Kansas City May 20, killing 33 persons, the bureau said.

Other major tornadoes killed 21 persons at Silverton, Tex., on May 15; 10 at Gans, Okla., on Jan. 22; 10 at Dallas, Tex., on April 2; and 10 at Fargo, N. D. June 20.

FACES PROBLEM—Fred House, 9, has to have three teeth pulled, but doctors in Louisville, Ky., say he'll have to wait until 10 pints of the A-negative blood plasma are available. Fred has hemophilia, a disease that causes excessive bleeding from even slight wounds. He had to have 17 transfusions the last time he had teeth pulled. (AP Wirephoto).

N.Y. Union Boss Takes Fifth

Alleged Hoffa Aide Balks During Quiz

By J. W. Davis

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15—(AP)—John J. O'Rourke, alleged key aide in James R. Hoffa's drive for power, took the Fifth Amendment today.

Looking embarrassed but determined, O'Rourke refused to tell Senate rackets investigators how he got to be president of the 125,000-members Teamsters Council 16 in New York City.

He wouldn't say whether he even knew Hoffa, the Midwest Teamster chief, or racketeer Johnny Dio, a New York extortionist.

Managing a bleak smile every now and then, all he would say was that he was refusing to answer on the Fifth Amendment grounds that an answer might tend to incriminate him.

VOTE RIGGING CHARGED

The Senate Rackets Committee contends that Hoffa, with the help of Dio and other New York hoodlums, rigged a February 1956 election to put O'Rourke in as head of the strategic Council 16.

This, the committee maintains, was part of a plot to bulwark Hoffa's power as a union big shot to the extent he could get a stranglehold on New York and the Eastern seaboard.

Hoffa is on call to testify next week. He has sent word he will answer every question, that he has nothing to hide.

But there was no budging O'Rourke today. In an effort to cajole the white haired, red faced union leader, Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) told him: "You look like a nice pleasant Irishman."

That didn't work any better than the hard boiled prosecuting attorney approach that is more familiar with McClellan.

MUNDT QUERIES FAIL

Sen. Mundt (R-SD) tried his hand telling O'Rourke that testimony already in the record has pretty badly incriminated him in a hoodlum conspiracy.

"Don't you want to say anything to help dis-incriminate yourself?" asked Mundt, coining a word. "Is the whole story really that bad?"

"This didn't work either, O'Rourke with a grin, said he thought an answer to the question—as to what his occupation is—might incriminate him.

O'Rourke was asked about the election votes the committee said were cast for him by phony locals controlled by racketeer Dio. He wouldn't talk about that, either. Martin Lacey, the man O'Rourke replaced as president of the council after the 1956 election, was called to the stand briefly before the committee quit for the night.

Cattle Truck Wreck Causes $22,000 Loss

Trailer Topples North of Sedalia, Claims 23 Cattle

A cattle tractor-trailer, which left the highway on U. S. Highway 65 about 14 miles north of Sedalia, rolled on its side and took the lives of 23 head of white face cattle and damaged the tractor and trailer to an estimated loss and damage of $22,000. The accident occurred shortly after 6 o'clock Thursday night.

The unit, owned by Lem Kemme, Willard, Mo., was loaded with 34 head of white face cattle being taken to the sales barn at Falls City, Ia. The cattle belonged to a cattle raiser at Cassville, Mo.

Jay Henson, 31, Springfield, Mo. was the driver. He was accompanied by A. L. Ray, 34, also of Springfield. Henson suffered a minor bruise on the left arm. Ray escaped injury.

Henson reported to Trooper Robert Stockell, State Highway Patrol, that he was headed north on the highway and at the crest of a rise in the road a large gasoline transport crowded him. He pulled to the right and lost control when the wheels hit the soft shoulders.

The tractor traveled a short distance along the shoulder and then plunged down a 15 foot embankment. The tractor crashed against a tree, and the trailer broke loose from the fifth wheel and rolled on the right side, just missing crashing into the cab and trapping the two men.

As the trailer went down the embankment and rolled on its side the cattle shifted into the front end of the unit, piling on top of each other.

Find Body of Man In Lake of Ozarks

SUNRISE BEACH, Mo. (AP)—Jesse S. DePew, 57, of the nearby community of Rockdale drowned yesterday in a cove of the Lake of the Ozarks.

DePew's body was found this morning in about five feet of water. He had been missing since yesterday morning.

Police said DePew, who was partially crippled by polio, apparently stepped into deep water when he waded into the lake to repair a fence.

House Accepts Aid Bill Pared To $3.1 Billion

Funds Cut $809 Million Against Ike's Requests

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15—(AP)—In an open revolt against President Eisenhower's leadership, the House tonight passed a foreign aid appropriation slashed $809,650,000 below what he called a rock-bottom minimum.

The chamber overrode three urgent pleas from the President in approving and sending to the Senate a $3,191,810,000 fund for the present fiscal year.

Protests by Eisenhower and his supporters that the sum was much too meager to insure strong free world defenses against communism were answered by cries that the United States has been giving away "the wealth of generations yet unborn."

Eisenhower has threatened to call a special session of Congress in the fall if the money finally voted proves inadequate. But the administration has still a chance to recoup all or part of the slashed funds in the Senate.

Republicans led by Rep. Taber of New York tried in vain to put back some of the money denied by the Appropriations Committee, but many of their own members deserted them to join a majority of Democrats who supported the committee's action in making the 809-million-dollar cut.

Just before passage, the House defeated by a roll-call vote of 254-129 a Republican move to send the bill back to committee with instructions to restore 714 million dollars in various parts of the bill.

REJECT RESTORATION

But the Eisenhower supporters lost in this as in every other move during a hectic day. The key vote came in late afternoon on a table move to restore 350 million dollars that the Appropriations Committee had voted to cut from Eisenhower's $1,600,000,000 request for arms aid in the coming years.

Rep. Passman (D-La.), head of the Appropriations Foreign Aid subcommittee and an avowed foe of the program, succeeded in getting this motion defeated on a 172-123 teller vote.

This vote was largely along party lines, although a few from each side crossed over to vote with the other side.

The same pattern followed as the House defeated by a 166-113 teller vote a move by Rep. Flood (D-Pa.) to restore 129 million dollars of the 165 millions the committee cut from Eisenhower's request for 750 million dollars in defense support funds.

Defense support is the term used for economic aid to friendly countries to support their defense programs.

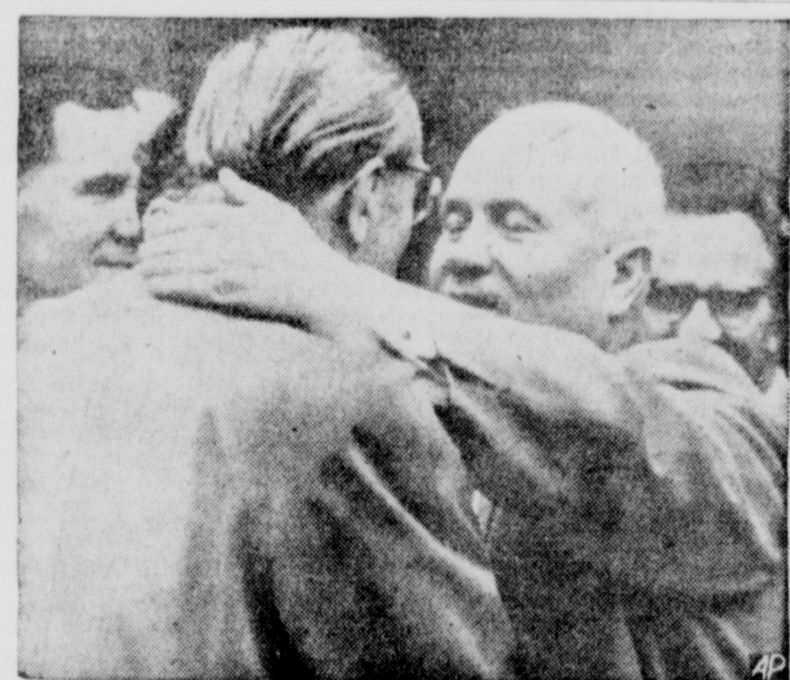

REVERSE BIDS DIE

Defeated 149-101 was a move by Rep. Wigglesworth (R-Mass.) to restore the 200 millions the committee cut from the requested 500 million dollars for a new loan fund for economic development overseas.

Beaten 130-103 was a move by Rep. Yates (D-Ill.) to add $26,900,000 to the fund for technical operation or Point Four aid. That would have put back all but 12 million dollars of the committee cut on that fund.

Also defeated 145-63 was an amendment by Rep. Budge (R-Iowa) which would have cut even $6,050,000 deeper than the committee figure on the sums for

Asks Reich Troops Exodus

Russia Demands West Reduce Foreign Bases

By Watson Sims

LONDON, Aug. 15—(AP)—Russia today demanded that the West eliminate some of its foreign bases and withdraw some of its troops from Germany.

Both conditions demanded in the U. N. Disarmament subcommittee by Soviet delegate Valerian Zorin for a first-step disarmament treaty had been previously rejected by the group's four Western members, the United States, Britain, France and Canada.

Zorin said there had been no Western response to the proposals since they were previously brought up by Russia April 30.

"Evasion of a direct reply can be regarded as unwillingness to settle these questions in a businesslike way," Zorin declared.

RECESS FOR APPRAISAL

It was the second consecutive subcommittee session at which Zorin made bristling demands for concessions which the West previously had refused. After today's session the Western nations asked a four-day recess, to take stock of the situation.

A usually optimistic American source said recent developments have brought the negotiations to an important stage. He declined use of the word "critical."

It was learned, however, that Jules Holmes, first deputy to Harold E. Stassen, leader of the American delegation, flew back to Washington yesterday for consultation with the State Department.

Informal sessions involving Zorin and the Western delegations have been scheduled during the recess.

Bing's Store On West Side Has Opening

The grand opening of the remodeled Bing's Market No. 1 at 11th and Limit will be held this weekend with a special sale at which free merchandise and photographs will be given away at both stores.

The remodeling has centered around enlarging the store to contain several new departments, including a Rexall drug store, a bakery and additional frozen food cases.

Other improvements include electrically operated doors on the southeast corner of the building, more parking space and repainting throughout the store in harmonizing pastel colors.

The building has been enlarged from 7,200 square feet of floor space to 13,300 square feet. This nearly doubles the size of the building.

The increased size allows larger

'Missouri on Parade' Set To Launch Fair Saturday

"Missouri On Parade", the first big attraction of the fair again this year, will start promptly at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. It has many new features, including the all-time favorite, Pinky Lee.

Kennie Miller, superintendent, announced the lineup as follows: A police escort will lead the parade, starting at Seventh and Ohio. Directly behind will be a 15-man VFW Color Guard and rifle squad, the Chamber of Commerce "Missouri on Parade" float, a band and marching unit from Ft. Leonard Wood, and several cars carrying the various Missouri dignitaries.

Whiteman Air Force Base has a float and troops, followed by a surrey with fringe on top, the Missouri State Library float, two antique cars, and Miss Missouri of 1957, Miss Sara Ann Cooper.

The Kay Kedettes, a twirling group, are next in line, with the Carthage High School band, two antique cars, three units from Speedways, Inc., a Missouri Farm Bureau Federation float, and Miss Jefferson City, Miss Barbara Brown, proceeding.

Also in the parade will be a wagon and mule team, a girls drum and bugle corps from Buffalo, Mo., and the Adams Dairy Pony Transport.

Once again two more antique cars follow from the Clinton Chamber of Commerce. Then comes Miss Missouri Maid of Milk, the Air Force Recruiting Service, the Sedalia will have its own clown band following Miss Jefferson City, after which will be two more antique cars, the Southwestern Bell Telephone float, two antique cars (1913 Model T Ford and Rolls-

Will Dispose of His Stock

Senate Unit Endorses M'Elroy Defense Chief

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15—(AP)—Neil H. McElroy, 52-year-old soap company executive, won unanimous Senate committee approval today to succeed Charles E. Wilson as secretary of defense.

Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) of the Armed Services Committee, which voted the endorsement after questioning McElroy at a public hearing, said he expects Senate confirmation next week. Several senators referred to the defense post as the most important office in the government next to that of president.

McElroy told committee members he will dispose of some of his investments in order to "avoid any possible confusion between these holdings and the responsibilities of the secretary of defense."

WILL QUIT COMPANY

He said he plans to resign as president of Procter & Comble Co. if confirmed but intends to retain 472 shares in the soap company and "a reversionary interest in a trust of 1,000 more." P & G stock is now selling for around $48.75 a share.

Prior to the hearing there had been reports that McElroy held 12,000 shares in the company which would be worth nearly $600,000.

These reports were not gone into at the hearing. All nominees are required to file complete lists of their holdings with the Senate committee concerned, but these lists are held confidential unless the nominee requests that they be made public.

Russell said Senate action on McElroy's nomination probably will have to be delayed until next week to allow time for the record of today's hearing to be printed.

The chairman said the record would include a letter from the attorney general's office to the Defense Department saying McElroy could continue to hold his stock in P & G, which sells soap and shortening to the military services in carload lots. Russell said it was the attorney general's opinion that there would be no conflicts of interest if P & G continued to supply defense agencies through competitive bidding.

McElroy testified that as many as 50 firms bid on the soap contracts and that they usually go to the smaller companies.

The nominee said he also would retain his interest in the company's profit sharing trust, stock option and group life insurance plans "but will freeze my interests in them."

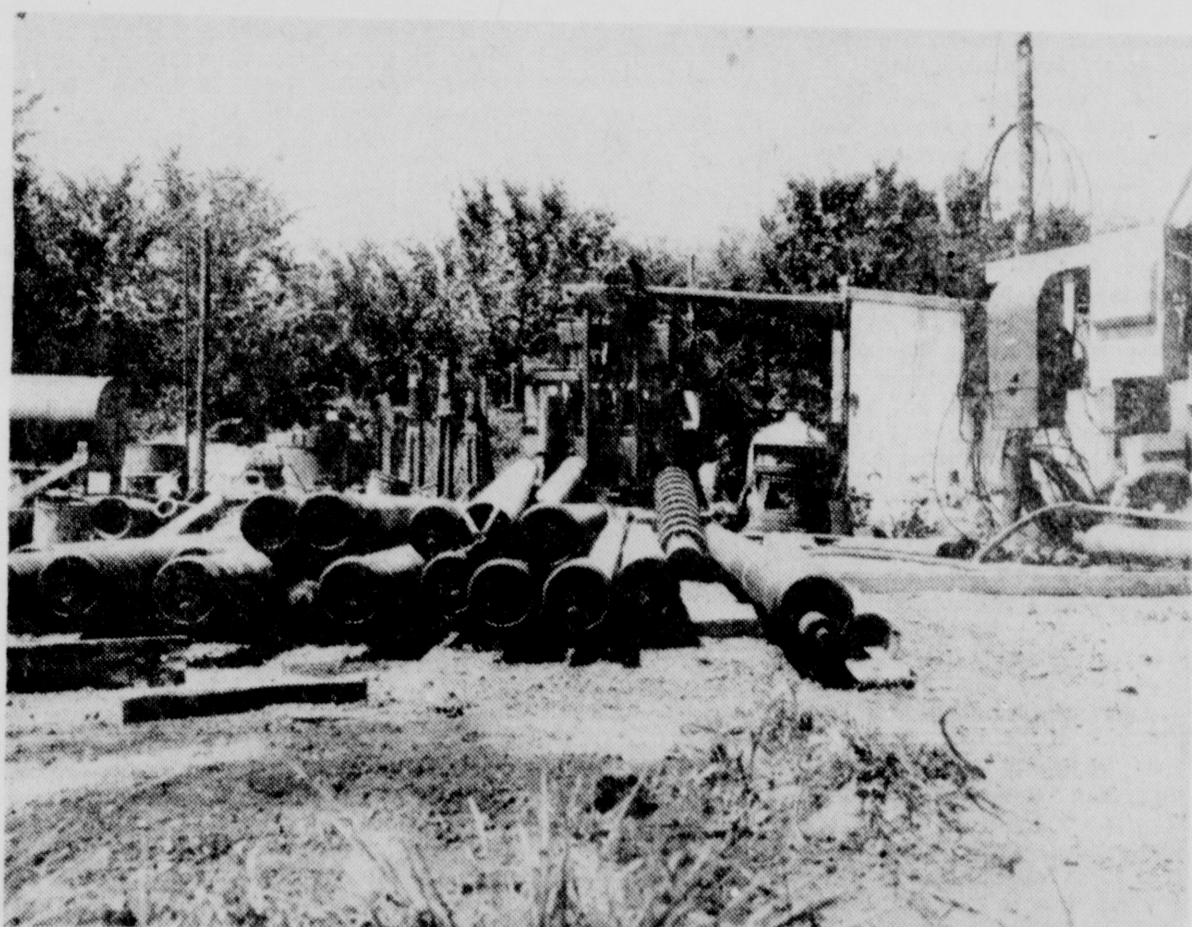

He said he plans to sell his

Carrollton Trucker Killed In Collision

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., Aug. 15 (AP)—A Carrollton, Mo., truck driver was injured fatally today when two trucks collided on U. S. Highway 40 near the intersection of M-7 south of here.

Joel Allen Moberly, 67, died in a hospital here about two hours after the collision. A passenger in Moberly's pickup truck, Roy H. Harbert, 66, also of Carrollton, suffered head and back injuries.

The driver of the other truck, William F. Humphreys Jr., 34, of 3700 Valentine Kansas City, escaped with minor injuries.

NEW WELL—A new deep well is being completed by the Sedalia Water Department which will make a worthwhile addition to Sedalia's water supply. It is expected that this well will produce approximately 700 gallons of water per minute. The well will be approximately 1500 feet deep and when completed and equipped the Water Department's well supply will be increased to four wells with an estimated production of 2,000 gallons per minute or 2,880,000 gallons per day. The well supply is used as a secondary supply to Spring Fork Lake. The well is being drilled by Layne Western Company, the largest water well drillers in the world. It is located approximately 2,000 feet north of the pumping station on the Water Works road. (Democrat-Capitol Photo)

Good Fit Vital Foot Health

The approach of the new school term means new teachers, new books, and most important, new shoes.

This season's line of school shoes indicate a much stronger emphasis on foot health combined with smart practical styling.

Foot specialists recommend shoes with leather soles as well as leather uppers because they have minute pores through which perspiration can evaporate, keeping feet warmer in a cold temperature cooler when it's hot.

This is especially important for children, as going from heated classrooms to play in the outdoors will breed winter-long sniffles if circulation in feet and hands is poor. Another good point about leather is that it contains no allergizing substances.

For proper fitting, have the child stand on each foot bearing his or her full weight upon it. Feel to see that there is plenty of room for all the toes and at least three-quarters of an inch between the longest toes and the tip of the shoe. Also check the width at the widest part of the shoe.

Check frequently to see that the shoes still fit. There is no set rule, of course, but on the average, children need shoes every two months up to the age of ten, after that every two or three months.

Foot specialists recommend shoes with leather soles as well as leather uppers because they have minute pores through which perspiration can evaporate, keeping feet warmer in a cold temperature cooler when it's hot.

This is especially important for children, as going from heated classrooms to play in the outdoors will breed winter-long sniffles if circulation in feet and hands is poor. Another good point about leather is that it contains no allergizing substances.

For proper fitting, have the child stand on each foot bearing his or her full weight upon it. Feel to see that there is plenty of room for all the toes and at least three-quarters of an inch between the longest toes and the tip of the shoe. Also check the width at the widest part of the shoe.

Check frequently to see that the shoes still fit. There is no set rule, of course, but on the average, children need shoes every two months up to the age of ten, after that every two or three months.

Judge Cupid

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. — Cupid is not unknown in the U.S. District Court here.

Judge Waldo Rogers recently let two federal prisoners out from behind bars for 30 minutes to get married.

Both had pleaded guilty to interstate transportation of a stolen car.

Mrs. Montgomery Gives Book Review

The Women of Range Line Church met Wednesday afternoon, Aug. 7, at the home of Mrs. Wilber Hayes with nine members present.

The program was in the form of a book review given by Mrs. Phil Montgomery. The subject was "Town and Country Church."

The Stover lunch cafeteria will be under the supervision of Lillian Kraxberger, Lorena Hagedorn, Anna Whaley and Osie Bowers.

Phyllis Franklin will be the school secretary and Wilbur Munsterman has charge of the school bus garage.

Shredded Cabbage

HUMBERD, Wis. — Robert Green, 18-year-old feed mill worker had to work pretty hard to keep $200 from becoming mere chicken feed.

He had ground up 20 sacks of corn in a hammer mill before discovering his wallet missing. He pawed through the 20 sacks and finally wound up with a cigar box full of green shreds.

His father, mill owner Herbert Green, whose money it was, hopes to recover half the loss from the Treasury Department.

Portable Typewriter For Home Use Often Boost to Students

Outstanding educators agree that a portable typewriter helps the teen-ager improve his grades. The typewriter, as a new tool, appeals to a student's curiosity and spurs his interest in his school work.

With a typewriter, young folk can turn out orderly work and learn the importance of neatness.

Most Influential Qualities In Buying Particular House

By ANDREW C. LANG
AP Newsfeatures

What are the things that influence you most when you're deciding whether to buy a particular house?

We can give a fairly good answer to that if we first know the answer to another question: are you a man or a woman?

Polka Dots Now Sprayed On the Walls

AP Newsfeatures

Paint manufacturers — well aware of the modern housewife's insatiable desire to make her home more and more distinctive — keep turning up with new ways to enable her to do it.

One of the latest is a polka dot paint.

The method goes like this:

First you paint the wall (or walls) of the room to be dotted in the usual fashion — using a dominant color for this base coat. When this paint is dry, the polka dots are sprayed out of a special aerosol spray container which does not require any extra attachments — you simply remove the brass valve pin from the nozzle spray head and are ready to go.

The size of the dots is determined by the distance you hold the can away from the wall; the further away, the smaller the dots. Dots of many colors can be applied without waiting for each to dry.

To get the feel of the operation, be sure to practice with the spray can first on a large piece of cardboard before moving to the painted wall.

For those in search of a period look, there is a new way to re-finish old furniture by giving it a highly decorative antique appearance. The gimmick is specially prepared gold dust which can be added to the regular line of the manufacturers' multicolored paint colors. Combinations of jade, black and gold, blue and gold, or white, black and gold are just a few of the decorative possibilities.

The spraying can be done with regular paint sprayer equipment or with the paint sprayer attachment of your vacuum cleaner. The base paint has a consistency which makes it possible to spray the new paint on to old furniture without removing the old finish. No special sanding is required.

If this talk about special effects gets you thinking about undertaking a major paint redecorating project, here are a few reminders about how to use color:

... In a room where a dark-tone is used, one light wall will add to the illusion of length.

... A ceiling in a lighter shade than that used on the walls will always give an impression of height.

... The "cool" colors (blues, violets, blue-greens and blue-grays) tend to retreat and add the illusion of space.

... The "warm" colors (reds, oranges, yellows and yellow-greens) bring things closer together.

... If your stone or brick fireplace sticks out like a sore thumb in a small living room, try blending it in with its background wall by painting it the same color as the wall. This will make it less obtrusive and thus cause the room to appear larger.

Campus Footwear Reflects Air of Refinement Today

CAMPUS SHOE 'WARDROBE'—A new slip-on in grained leather with vamp strap; a heavy-weight lightly grained chukka boot with heavy leather sole; an ultra light-weight three eyelet blucher, and a classic Cordovan with heavy leather sole.

There's an air of refinement and culture creeping over college campuses these days. It's made its felt even in the shoes that college men wear. No longer do all undergraduates resemble members of a roving crew in dirty white bucks. Now most of them look like young men preparing for a career.

And this means, of course, a well-rounded wardrobe of shoes suited for the growing and varied activities of college life.

Cordovan leather—a campus favorite—will be as popular as ever. It will be seen in plain-toed bluchers and wing-tip brogues that will go practically everywhere, on and off campus.

The slip-on, in smooth and lightly grained leathers will also be much in evidence. One of the most popular styles will be the hand-sewn moccasin loafer in natural-looking brown leather with heavy leather soles.

Another popular slip-on will be all of one leather with a long, somewhat pointed toe and a high

Mom and Pop see things a little differently when they're looking over a house, just as they do when buying an automobile. But whereas Mom's purchasing interest in a car begins and ends with its eye-appeal, she's a bit more practical in her appraisal of a potential future home, even though appearance does play a part in her decision. She's especially down-to-earth in her evaluation of the kitchen, where she spends so much of her time. She looks at it from the standpoint of saving space, of counter and cabinet space, of service to the eating area and of accessibility to other rooms and the outside. And she's also interested in whether it's at the front or rear of the house, with a considerable difference of opinion among women in general on this point.

Pop gives a critical once-over to such things as the plumbing lines, electrical fixtures, floors, etc. The president of the Long Island Home Builders Institute, A. Sidney Roth, says men also pay particular attention to the garage, if there is one. He figures out whether it's large enough, not only for his car, but for the million-and-one things he knows inevitably wind up in the garage. Says Roth:

"It's extremely rare when a man, in looking over a garage, doesn't open and shut the door several times. A garage door seems to have a fascination for him. It's almost as though he were thinking: if this door works smoothly, everything is all right. I'm not saying this is a logical line of thought, but just telling you something that's a fact."

The man also shows an interest in any area of the house which might be utilized for a home workshop. This is a fairly recent development in house buying and is, of course, allied to the do-it-yourself era in which we now live. There was a time when Pop wasn't interested in any work except that for which he received a salary.

Speaking of money, it's the man who asks the most questions about the down payment and the carrying charges of the house he's about to buy. The woman asks a couple of questions about it and then gets on to her inspection. Pop not only wants to know the financial details, but returns to the subject several times. Somewhat different, isn't it, than the general notion that women pay more attention to price tags than men?

On many matters connected with looking over a house, the prospective purchasers agree pretty much on the importance of certain things. There is equal interest, for instance, in the role of the living room in the overall picture. The man and woman seem to feel the same way about whether they want a large, a small or a medium-sized living room... possibly because they are equally dissatisfied with the one they now have. There is agreement, too, on how many bedrooms and bathrooms there should be, whether a family room or den is necessary and whether certain outdoor living areas are preferable. These undoubtedly are subjects they have discussed ahead of time.

One thing everybody wants is plenty of closet space. A small bedroom will be tolerated if it has one or more spacious closets. A large bedroom with very little closet space gets the figurative thumbs down reception. Fortunately, builders are fully aware of this feeling... and most new homes are well equipped with closet space.

'Mothball' Technique Goes to Construction

CHICAGO (AP)—The technique used to "mothball" ships now may be applied to construction.

Richard E. Baringer, head of shelter design of the Illinois Institute of Technology's Institute of Design, developed the method of spraying quick drying vinyl "cocoon" onto a tubular steel frame.

He believes the technique may lead to better and less expensive shelter.

Some of the advantages of the new covering are that it is cheaper to use, faster to apply, moisture proof and does not need rigid framework. Two students erected one of the shelters, 12 feet high and 20 feet in diameter, in 15 hours.

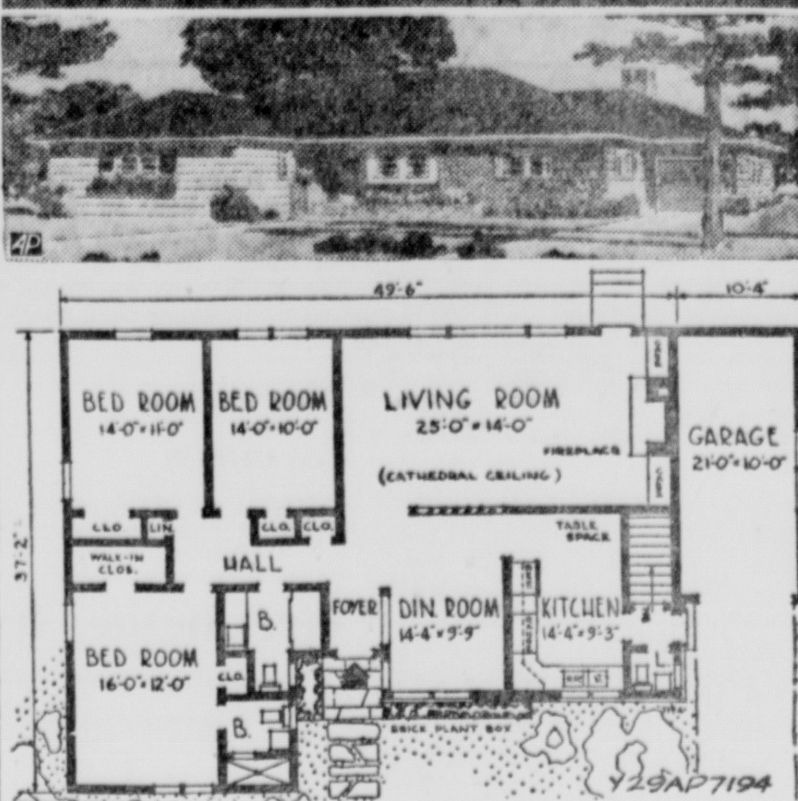

The technique also has been used to make furniture, lighting fixtures and sculpture.

Cloth tape, meshed at 6-inch intervals, gives the vinyl something to cling to. The vinyl fibers can span a two-foot space if necessary, after the addition of webbing agents.

White pigment is added to a second coat of pure vinyl to keep the sun's rays from deteriorating the plastic.

Leopard, seal and beaver are strong in better coats.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

TWO-BATHS and a lavatory near the kitchen are offered by this tightly designed three-bedroom house. Cellar stairs, garage and service entrance are grouped for easy access. Busses Start First Day

LaMonte Reorganized School Sets Sept. 2 For Opening

The Board of Education of the LaMonte Reorganized School has officially set Sept. 2 as the date for the opening of school. Buses will run on Sept. 2 both morning and afternoon. Students regularly riding buses will be delivered to school by 9:00 at which time all students will enroll, both high school and elementary. As soon as the students are enrolled they will proceed to attend classes for the remainder of the day. Lunch will be served in the school cafeteria on Monday. There will be four bus routes again this year and these routes will be practical-ly the same as last year, with a few minor changes. Students will please watch for their bus for the first few days until the bus schedule becomes regular. An attempt will be made to contact parents of beginning children, and an attempt will also be made to notify parents or children of changes in the routes.

The Board of Education has employed the following teachers and other employees for the coming school year. Elementary teachers: Mrs. Ervil Ragar, Mrs. Emma Pearl Edmundson, Miss Cileste Rinne, Mrs. Mary Harbit, Mrs. Bessie Dyer, Mrs. Fern Trautmann, Mrs. Jewell Fowler, and Mrs. Marian Hughes. One elementary position remains unfilled. High school teachers: Mrs. Lucille Reavis, Mrs. Ellen Hollenbeck, Mrs. Olga Rivera, Mr. Robert Reavis and Mrs. Shirley Beshore. Mr. Alfred Brown, Superintendent. Two high school positions remain unfilled, vocal and instrumental music, and industrial arts. Mr. Joe Patton will again serve as lunch supervisor, and will be assisted in preparing and serving meals by Mrs. Florence Warren and Mrs. Susie Butler. Mr.

Harry Harvey has been re-elected as school custodian. The Board of Education to date has taken no official action on hiring of bus drivers. The following drove last year: Mr. Clarence Carroll, Mr. Billy Patterson, Mr. Don Dillon, and Mr. Harry Harvey. All four school buses will again be contracted from Day Baker Buses Inc. of Odessa, Mo.

Members of Board of Education are: Mr. Robert Hall, President, Mr. Floyd Ripley, Vice President, Mr. Sidney Morton, Mr. Eldon Jones, Mr. E. M. Green, Mr. Earl Thompson, members. Mr. W. A. Scott secretary and Mr. Elbert Rissler, treasurer.

Several changes and improvements are being made in the school plant facilities. The furnace has been repaired, including new flues, repairs on radiators and etc. The furnace has been equipped with a new gas burner, and new automatic safety devices have been installed. Other improvements include new furniture in lunchroom and canopy over cooking surfaces, also cold water fountain on third floor. A Superintendent's office and Board of Education Room is being opened up in one of the basement rooms, providing a more accessible location and a separate office for the elementary school. The corridors are being redecorated, also lunchroom and several classrooms. All floors, as a part of regular maintenance, are being thoroughly cleaned and re-finished. The Industrial Arts Department is being re-opened.

Children entering the first grade must be six years of age by the end of the first semester, and should bring a birth certificate if possible on the first day. Present plans include dismissal at 3:40 p.m. on the first day.

Coat Fashions for the Girls Are Most in Step When Black

Color, or the lack of it, is the big news in girls' coats this year as black takes the fashion lead over the ever-popular red and sailor blue.

Though most styles in black are being shown solid, one popular coat features a black and white nubby tweed combination. Lined with white fur-like pile, its trim may be wool braid, bulky knit or leather piping.

Tweed is destined to be the "big" coat fabric adding rich pile for warmth in casual short and full-length models—dressing up with trims of velvet, suede or fur. Tweeds will range from the long haired Shetland and Harris-type to the bold herringbones and greige families.

Unusual trims are big news in coats this year: Fur collars from mink to raccoon; brass buttons; wool braid or grosgrain binding; leather piping; saddle stitching; outside patch pockets.

Following close behind in fabric and color will be gray darkening to charcoal; beiges shading from camel to winter white with flannel and broadcloth holding their own.

Double breasted coats are on the increase. Car coats are prime favorites. And, there is talk of the return of the Chesterfield as the season progresses.

Traditional tweed looks "spanking new" in corduroy, cotton and blended fabrics. Tops for '57, tweeds appear as skirts, blouses, dresses, suits and coats.

Featured colors in school skirts of tweed are basic gray and browns flecked with color black and white herringbones, and bright colors touched with black.

Long-haired tweeds are the new, est fabric version and going strong for coats.

Party dresses are ready this year for an early invitation to attend September-October affairs.

Early velvets share displays with beribboned cottons, silk and cottons, dacrons and cottons as well as expensive silk organdie.

Black stands alone or with color as the stand-out for the party season, even for little girls.

A new, fine silky black corduroy, trimmed with lace or bands of piping or collars and embroidery, is featured in several good dress lines. Black and white prints are also especially exciting.

Do's and Don'ts To Heed While Finishing Attic

By ANDREW C. LONG

DO... make a sketch, no matter how crude, showing the location of all parts of the framework, especially the areas where built-ins and other recesses are planned.

DO... use 2 by 4's for the framing except for ceiling joists which are longer than 10 feet, in which case 2 by 6's should be used.

DO... frame all door and window openings with double 2 by 4's because of the extra wear and tear on these parts.

DO... wherever possible, build your room to take advantage of the type and size of the materials being used; if 4 by 8 panels are being used, for example, having 4-foot knee walls will eliminate much cutting and fitting.

DON'T... neglect to install louvers at each gable end of the house to provide air circulation above the ceiling of the finished attic.

DON'T... fail to cover the sub-floor with plywood or hardboard if you are using resilient floor tiles for the final floor covering.

DON'T... trust your eyesight to get accurate results; use a plumb bob or level during the entire job.

DON'T... forget that, if you want to invest a little extra money in order to save the time and effort of finishing the wall materials, you can get several types of products which have pre-finished surfaces.

LET IT RAIN... says this pretty miss in her bright-colored, hood-style raincoat of Watase vinyl plastic. A matching belt converts its relaxed lines into a snug-fit style.

Book World Gives Thrills And Adventure

This year, thousands of scientists all over the world are co-ordinating their efforts simultaneously to explore the mysteries of our planet, earth.

The First International Geophysical Year, covering 1957 and half of 1958, extends the scope of its forerunners — two International Polar Years—to include exploration not only of the earth's surface, but its interior and its surrounding atmosphere.

In the 25 years since the last of these united scientific efforts, interest in our physical world and knowledge of it have increased tremendously.

A fascinating, factual literature for boys and girls has developed to keep pace with, and at the same time set the pace for their growing interests, answering their many questions and raising new ones.

But explorers are of many kinds, and today's children continue to discover themselves and the world in the literature of imagination as well as fact — stories of our own and other times, our own and other people, in folklore and fantasy, poetry and myth which describe and project the very essence of the human story.

Today's school and public libraries offer a rich and stimulating supplement to school curricula, to newspaper and magazine reading, and to radio and TV.

Through books as diverse as their interests, today's boys and girls may explore the infinite possibility in all things great and small, and today's young explorers become tomorrow's best.

12 Year Olds Win Safety Poster Contest

A quarter of a million posters are being distributed by AAA motor clubs this month to schools throughout the country. The first poster, one of a regular monthly series, urges children to cooperate with the School Safety Patrol.

The poster was designed by two 12 year old boys who attended the grade school at Kelly Field School, San Antonio, Tex., last semester.

The boys—John Mourer and Neal Patton—entered their poster design in the AAA's National Traffic Safety Poster Contest last spring. They won a first prize among posters prepared by uer elementary school students, and then their poster was selected for reproduction and nationwide distribution. The poster will go on display in thousands of classrooms as schools reopen.

The National Traffic Safety Poster Contest will be sponsored by AAA motor clubs again this year. The contest is open to all students in public, private or parochial elementary, junior and senior high schools, provided the student is under 21.

In all, the AAA offers $3,650 in prizes for the best designs. The contest will close around March 1, 1958. Details may be obtained from any AAA office.

360-Pounder To Lift Show Lifts Weights

HOLLYWOOD — Paul Anderson, the 360-pound Georgia boy who didn't stop growing, aims to bring showmanship to the ungentle art of lifting weights.

"There hasn't been a real star in the strong-man business since Sandow," said Paul, referring to the turn-of-the-century Hercules promoted by Flo Ziegfeld. "And even Sandow wasn't the strongest man in his day. But he had showmanship."

Paul's feats would make Sandow seem a weakling. He whipped the Russians at the Olympics in Australia. He can raise 5,000 pounds in a back lift, 550 over head, and do deep knee bends with 1,000.

So far he has made appearances on the Ed Sullivan show, at wrestling matches, fairs and in a night club in Reno.

How does he feel, lugging around 360 pounds on his 5-foot, 11-inch frame?

"I feel great," remarked the 24-year-old pride of Toccoa, Ga. "No, it's not hard for me to get around. If I were fat, that would be different. But I'm all muscle, and muscle carries itself; it's not a burden."

"I'm pretty light on my feet. Matter of fact, I can run the 100 yard dash in 12 seconds."

"I always was pretty big," he said. "Then when I was in high school, I was playing football and I decided lifting weights would get me in better condition. Pretty soon I got so interested in weights that football fell by the wayside. I rose from 240 pounds to my present weight."

"I don't eat an awful lot," Paul said. "I might have some orange juice and milk for breakfast with a protein food substitute. I work out during the day, so I seldom eat any lunch. For dinner I might have a steak. I average three quarts of milk a day."

"I don't worry about ever getting fat because I've never been too interested in food. I could diet and never suffer."

Dates for Missouri's Waterfowl Season Set

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 15.—The State Conservation Commission today set Missouri's waterfowl season to run from Oct. 25 through Jan. 2.

The 70-day length is the same as last year but the season opens and closes one day earlier.

Shooting will be legal from one-half hour before sunrise until sunset, except that on opening day Swan Lake Refuge in Chariton County won't open until noon.

Bag and possession limits will be the same as last year-four ducks and eight in possession for ducks, five and five for geese with only two Canadas allowed, 10 and 10 for coots, five and 10 for American and red breasted mergansers. It will again be illegal to kill wood ducks in Missouri.

Mechanized Mailmen Count First Casualty

ST. LOUIS — St. Louis' mechanized mailmen counted their first casualty yesterday.

John Bauer, one of the mail carriers assigned to the experimental three-wheeled motor carts said it went out of control while he was chugging along at 15 miles per hour.

Bauer was treated for a cut and bruised leg.

Health Money

Health Officers and approved by Secretary of Welfare Folsom.

"For the Budget Bureau to take the position it has is shocking," said Hill. "There is no justification or excuse for it."

"According to the testimony, it is entirely probable that some 33 million American people will be attacked by this virus that has created such havoc in the Far East," Hill said.

"We have no assurance it won't be more virulent than we know, and the death rate won't go up," Burney told the committee that even a mild form of the illness could paralyze entire cities in event of an epidemic. He said states and communities should prepare for possible epidemics.

State health officers have been called to a special meeting here Aug. 27 and 28.

Wages Are $750 Million Above June's

WASHINGTON —The personal income of Americans last month was at a seasonally-adjusted annual rate of 34½ billion dollars, the Commerce Department reported today. That was 750 million dollars higher than the June rate.

On the basis of an estimated population of 171½ million, the July annual rate averages about $2.04 for every American, about $40 higher than in June.

For the first seven months of the year, the annual rate was 341 billion dollars—19 billion higher than in the corresponding period of 1936.

Personal income, in the meaning used by government statisticians, includes wages and salaries, the net income of proprietorships and partnerships, farm income, dividends and interest, Social Security payments, net rents received by landlords and other types of individual income. The annual rates represent the seasonally-adjusted dollar totals for each month multiplied by 12.

Flash Auto Fire Kills 2 Children

PHILADELPHIA — A flash fire in an automobile killed two little children yesterday as they waited for their father to return from an errand.

Dead were Patricia, 3, and Patrick Palmer, 4. Their father William J. Palmer had left them in the parked car while he dropped off a hunting rifle at a shop for repairs.

Suddenly, flames enveloped the auto. Palmer frantically tried to reach his children, but the heat of the fire had welded shut the auto doors.

Too Much Weight

NAKANOJO, Japan —An enterprising bicycle shop owner installed a television set on the second floor and invited his customers to gather there.

Eighty persons crowded the room to view a wrestling show. Midway through the first bout the floor collapsed. One person was injured. The TV set was smashed.

technical aid through the United Nations.

A voice vote then shouted down a motion by Rep. Miller (R-Md) to restore the 75 million dollars the committee trimmed from the 250 millions Eisenhower sought for general economic aid purposes.

This fund known as special assistance. The recommitment move defeated 254-129 just before passage was offered by Rep. Judd (R-Minn). Judd proposed to add 350 million dollars to military assistance, 165 million to defense support and 200 million to the development loan fund—a total of 715 million.

The House did raise from 5 to 10 million dollars the amount of special assistance funds the committee said could be used to help Guatemala. This amendment was proposed by Rep. Fogarty (D-R.I.). It did not change the money total in the bill.

Missouri Parade

Missouri Agriculture and Stabilization committee float, an interesting steam engine and an entertaining whistled band.

Wally McCown and Rusey Weaver feature their trick car next, followed by the Sedalia Jaycees float, Joplin's Rifle Team, the Clay County Drum and Bugle Corps, Clay County Sheriff's posse, a Missouri Pacific train, and two antique cars.

Miss Margo Maxwell, who is Miss Centennial Belle of Booneville, will be featured next. Then comes Carthage High School's drum and bugle corps, a steam engine, Sedalia Kiwanis' float, Miss International Posture, Diana Lee Stoppel, and the Atoms for Peace trailer.

Concluding the lengthy parade will be the Little Prospectors from Excelsior Springs, Mo., the feature attraction, Pinky Lee, California High School's band, fancy parade horses, and the state saddle clubs.

The parade, beginning at Seventh and Ohio, will proceed down Ohio to Main, left on Main to Osage, south on Osage to Third, west on Third to State Fair Blvd., and from there onto the grounds, where trophies and plaques will be presented to the best floats and novelty numbers.

Miller urges that all parade participants be on hand between 8:30 and 9 Saturday morning, so as to provide ample time to get lined up.

Stauffer, 90, California, Mo., who died Tuesday at the Sedalia Rest Home, were held Thursday at the Jamestown United Church of Christ, the Rev. John Neinsted, pastor, officiated. Burial was in the church cemetery.

The body was at the Williams Funeral Home.
